GREG BADER

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, ADMINISTRATION & EXPERIENCE

A member of the Orioles organization for 28 years, Greg Bader was named the club's Senior Vice President of Administration & Experience in October of 2019.

In his current role, Bader oversees all administrative and service functions of the club and all facets of the Camden Yards experience, including ballpark operations, customer service, broadcasting, content, and marketing. His efforts focus on initiatives that deliver the ultimate fan experience, including the groundbreaking Kids Cheer Free program, and additional unique entertainment opportunities through concerts and non-baseball events at Oriole Park.

Bader has spent his entire career with the Orioles organization, which began in 1994 as a public relations intern. He joined the club full-time in 1998 as Party Facilities Coordinator, and has also served as Spring Training Coordinator (1999-2002), Advertising and Affiliate Relations Manager (2003-06), Communications Director (2007-12), and Vice President of Communications & Marketing (2012-19).

Bader serves on the Board of Directors for Baltimore Convention and Tourism and is chair of the Marketing & Communications Committee for Visit Baltimore. A native of Baltimore, Bader graduated from the Gilman School and Trinity College (Hartford, Conn.) with a degree in political science. He resides in Locust Point with his husband, John Jackowski.

T.J. BRIGHTMAN

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT AND CHIEF REVENUE OFFICER

T.J. Brightman rejoined the club as Senior Vice President, Chief Revenue Officer in October of 2019. In this role, Brightman focuses on business operations, revenue generation through ticket and corporate sales for the Baltimore and Sarasota, Fla. Operations, Orioles Entertainment, driving tourism, and creating local economic impact for the city, state, and surrounding area.

He originally joined the Orioles organization in 2003 and served as the Vice President of Corporate Sales & Sponsorship until 2005. He also acted as a special advisor to the partnership group from 2007 until he returned to the Orioles front office in 2019. Most recently, Brightman served as the president of A. Bright Idea Advertising and PR, the creative coast-to-coast advertising agency owned and operated by his wife, Anita.

A Baltimore native, Brightman attended the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute. He graduated from The Pennsylvania State University's College of Communications and now serves as a board member for the Penn State Bellisario College of Communications Alumni Society. Brightman and his wife, Anita, have two children. They reside in Maryland and California.

JENNIFER GRONDAHL

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT & COMMUNICATIONS

Jennifer Grondahl was named the club's Senior Vice President of Community Development & Communications in October of 2019. In this role, Grondahl focuses on building and maintaining relationships with partners, community leaders, civic organizations, fans, and the media to enhance the club's community outreach efforts. She oversees the organization's community and philanthropic initiatives, as well as the Orioles Charitable Foundation.

Grondahl joined the Orioles organization in February of 2018 as the Director of Corporate & Community Partnerships for Sarasota Operations. Prior to joining the Orioles, she served as Founder/President of Maestro Marketing & Events, where she provided strategic communication services for numerous corporations, nonprofits, and individuals. She was also the President of the YMCA Foundation of Sarasota, Inc. from 2013-16, and the Executive Director of the American Cancer Society from 2002-04.

Grondahl is a member of the Sarasota Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, and the Tourism, Entertainment, and Culture Committee of the Greater Baltimore Committee. She was a founding member of Sisterhood for Good, the largest women's giving circle of the Manatee Community Foundation. She has also acted in leadership capacities for many charitable organizations in the Sarasota region, including Junior League of Manatee County, Rotary Club of Lakewood Ranch, and PACE Center for Girls.

Grondahl graduated from Bethany College (W.Va.) with a bachelor's degree in political science, and received her certificate in fundraising management from Indiana University's Lilly Family School of Philanthropy in 2016. She currently resides in Baltimore, Md. and Bradenton, Fla. with her husband, Paul.

MIKE HOPPES

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Mike Hoppes was named the club's Senior Vice President, Chief Financial Officer in November of 2020. In this role, Hoppes oversees the organization's finance and accounting functions, including the team's financial reporting with Major League Baseball and the Commissioner's Office.

A native of Germantown, Md., Hoppes has been with the Orioles for 35 years. He joined the team in 1986 as a staff accountant after spending two years as a staff auditor with Arthur Andersen LLP, where he helped set up internal controls for the Orioles Ticket Office as a consultant. In 2006, he was promoted to Director of Finance, a role he held until being named the Vice President of Finance in 2012.

Hoppes attended the University of Delaware, where he graduated cum laude in accounting. He received his CPA certification in 1987. Hoppes currently resides in Baldwin, Md., and is active in his church including participating in the garden ministry.

LISA TOLSON

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, HUMAN RESOURCES

Now in her 37th year with the club, Lisa Tolson was named Senior Vice President of Human Resources in May of 2019. She began her career with the organization in group sales, before transitioning to finance and eventually finding a permanent home in human resources. She served as the Director of Human Resources for 18 years from 2000-18 and was promoted to Vice President in August of 2018.

In her role, Tolson oversees recruiting efforts and promoting the Orioles' culture and mission to deliver on key objectives, one of which includes fueling the local economy through employment opportunities.

Tolson received her Professional in Human Resources (PHR) certification through the Society for Human Resources Management (SHRM) in 2001 and her SHRM-CP in June 2015. She serves on the Board of Directors for the Brandon Tolson Foundation, which offers support to families after the sudden and tragic loss of a child.

MIKE ELIAS

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Mike Elias was named the Orioles Executive Vice President and General Manager on November 16, 2018. He is entering his 16th season in Major League Baseball and fourth with the Orioles.

In his tenure as Executive Vice President and General Manager, Elias has worked quickly to revamp the Orioles' player development system, revitalize the club's international scouting presence, and expand the team's analytics department. As a result, the franchise has rapidly ascended in annual MLB organizational talent rankings, moving from the bottom third before Elias' arrival to as high as first or second overall by each of FanGraphs, Baseball America, MLBPipeline, and ESPN.

Before joining the Orioles, Elias served as Assistant General Manager, Player Acquisition with the Houston Astros. Throughout his seven years in Houston, he helped to shape an Astros roster that produced back-to-back 100-win seasons, a World Series Championship, two American League Championship Series appearances, and two division titles. He was an integral part of building one of baseball's top-ranked farm systems that routinely served to furnish talent for the Major League roster.

Elias joined the Astros in 2012 as a special assistant to the General Manager and was a key contributor to Houston's top-ranked First-Year Player Draft by Baseball America. That year, he was named the club's Director of Amateur Scouting, a role in which he served as one of the organization's top talent evaluators. In 2016, he was promoted to Assistant General Manager, Scouting and Player Development, overseeing player development, minor league operations, and the draft. Additionally, he led international scouting efforts for the club beginning in August of 2017.

Prior to joining the Astros, Elias spent five seasons as a scout with the St. Louis Cardinals, including over a year as the club's Manager of Amateur Scouting. During his time with the Cardinals, the club produced a consistently top-ranked farm system and won the 2011 World Series.

Elias, 39, is a native of Fairfax County, Va., where he attended Thomas Jefferson High School for Science and Technology. A 2006 graduate of Yale University (Conn.), he was a four-time letter winner as a left-handed pitcher for the Bulldogs baseball team. He and his wife, Alexandra, reside in Baltimore with their daughter, Evelyn.

SIG MEJDAL

VICE PRESIDENT AND ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER, ANALYTICS

Sig Mejdal was named the Orioles Vice President and Assistant General Manager, Analytics on November 21, 2018. In his role, Mejdal oversees all aspects of the club's growing analytics efforts while assisting and advising Executive Vice President and General Manager Mike Elias in all manners of Baseball Operations decisions. Mejdal is entering his 18th season in Major League Baseball and fourth with the Orioles.

Before joining the Orioles, Mejdal served as Special Assistant to the General Manager, Process Improvement with the Houston Astros. In this role, Mejdal supported the development, implementation, and monitoring of improvement initiatives throughout the organization. Mejdal joined the Astros in 2012 and organized the team's analytics department from its inception. He spent his seven years in Houston contributing to a variety of efforts across baseball operations, ranging from data and player analysis, to the amateur draft, to the Major League team. He was a key asset in the process that helped the Astros improve their season record by more than 50 wins between 2013 and 2017, while also drafting more Major League players than any other team during his tenure. During his time, the Astros won a World Series Championship, made two American League Championship Series appearances, and won two division titles.

Prior to joining the Astros, Mejdal worked for the St. Louis Cardinals for seven seasons, spending his final season as the team's Director, Amateur Draft Analysis. During his time with the Cardinals, he was an integral part of the draft decision-making processes that led to the selection of more Major League players than any other organization in that time frame. His professional baseball career began as a Quantitative Analyst for the Cardinals in 2005.

Mejdal, a California native, earned bachelor's degrees in mechanical engineering and aeronautical engineering from the University of California, Davis, as well as master's degrees in operations research and cognitive psychology from San Jose State University (Calif.) Prior to beginning his baseball career, he worked for NASA as a biomathematician. He and his wife, Arati, reside in Baltimore.

KOBY PEREZ

SENIOR DIRECTOR, INTERNATIONAL SCOUTING

Koby Perez enters his fourth season as the club's Senior Director of International Scouting. He oversees all aspects of the Orioles' international scouting operations and management of the club's bonus pool.

During his tenure, he has presided over three of the club's most historic international signing classes. He led the team in the largest signing class in club history in 2019-20; landed the organization's first seven-figure signings in 2020-21 with Maikol Hernández and Samuel Basallo; and signed the highest-paid international player in Orioles history, Braylin Tavera, in 2021-22. He has also been instrumental in the development of the club's new state-of-the-art training academy in Guerra, Dominican Republic, which officially broke ground in October of 2021.

He joined the organization in January of 2019 following five seasons in the Cleveland Indians organization, first as an International Crosschecker for two years and later as their Director of Latin American Scouting. Perez has worked in professional baseball since 2006, working for the St. Louis Cardinals (2006-08), Philadelphia Phillies (2009-13), and Cleveland Indians (2014-18).

Born in Tamayo, Dominican Republic, Perez grew up in North Bergen, N.J. He played for two seasons in the Red Sox organization from 2002-03 and in the Independent Atlantic League from 2003-05.

Perez received his bachelor's degree in recreation and sports management from Florida International University. He currently resides in Elkridge, Md., with his wife, Johanna, and their children: Pamela and Koby (KJ).

MATT BLOOD

DIRECTOR, PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Matt Blood joined the Orioles organization as the Director of Player Development in September of 2019. His duties include staff recruitment and development as well as the implementation of player development strategies and programs throughout the entire minor league system. During his tenure, the Orioles have ascended organizational farm system rankings, now rated as the top system in all of baseball by MLB Pipeline and FanGraphs.

Blood has 10 years of Major League experience and has spent 16 years in professional and amateur baseball. He most recently served as the Director of Player Development for the Texas Rangers for the 2019 season. He also worked for the St. Louis Cardinals as an area scout from 2009-15 and served as the Team Director for USA Baseball's 18U National Team from 2016-18.

Blood graduated from the University of North Carolina in 2007 with a degree in economics. He resides in Baltimore with his wife, Allison, and their two children: Henry and Ben.

KEVIN BUCK

DIRECTOR, BASEBALL ADMINISTRATION

Kevin Buck was promoted to Director of Baseball Administration at the conclusion of the 2019 season. In this role, Buck oversees Major League operations, transactions, budgets, contracts, and rules compliance.

Buck began his Orioles career in 2003 as a part-time employee in the sales and fan services department. He joined the club full-time in 2005 as a New Sales Representative and worked with Season Plan Members and group events for two years before taking a position as a Market Research Manager in 2007.

Buck began handling team travel arrangements and accommodations in 2009, when he was named Coordinator of Team Travel to assist longtime Orioles Traveling Secretary Phil Itzoe. In 2015, he was promoted to Director of Team Travel and oversaw all team travel, as well as the home and visiting clubhouses.

A native of Cockeysville, Md., Buck has spent the majority of his life in the Baltimore area. A lifetime Orioles fan, he grew up playing baseball in Cockeysville and attended Dulaney High School before graduating in 1999 and enrolling at the University of Richmond (Va.). He graduated with a degree in marketing and communications in 2003, and immediately began working for the Orioles. Buck, and his wife, Cassandra, reside in Baltimore.

BRAD CIOLEK

SUPERVISOR, DOMESTIC SCOUTING OPERATIONS

Brad Ciolek enters his 11th season with the Orioles and his first season as the Director of Draft Operations. He began his Orioles career in 2011 as a player development intern in Sarasota, Fla. before serving as Scouting Administrator (2013-16), Assistant Director of Scouting (2017-19), and Supervisor of Domestic Scouting Operations (2022-21).

In his current role, Ciolek oversees all facets pertaining to the amateur draft, including scouting logistics and administration. He travels across the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico to evaluate and recommend players for the First-Year Player Draft. Ciolek also supervises a team of scouting analysts, and manages the club's signing bonus pool for the MLB Draft.

Prior to joining the Orioles, Ciolek spent four seasons with the New York Mets (2007-10) and one year as an analyst for Bloomberg Sports (2012).

Ciolek graduated from Seton Hall University (NJ) in 2009 with a degree in business administration and received his master's in computer information systems from Colorado State University in 2017. He resides in Bel Air, Md. with his wife, Danielle, and their son, James.

BRENDAN FOURNIE

DIRECTOR, BASEBALL STRATEGY

Brendan Fournie begins his first season with the Orioles after joining the club in November of 2021. As the Director of Baseball Strategy, Fournie oversees baseball economic research and advises the baseball operations team on transactions, contracts, and investment decisions.

The 2022 season marks Fournie's seventh season in Major League Baseball. Prior to joining the Orioles, he spent six seasons with the Houston Astros, beginning his career in 2016 as a baseball operations apprentice. He was promoted to Coordinator, Baseball Operations in 2017 and Manager, Baseball Operations in 2018 before being named the club's Senior Manager of Player Valuation and Economics in 2020, a role he held until joining Baltimore.

A native of Columbia, Ill., Fournie attended the University of Missouri and received dual bachelor's degrees in finance and sport management. He received his master's degree in sport management from the University of Florida, where he also minored in statistics and entrepreneurship. He currently resides in Baltimore.

KENT QUALLS

DIRECTOR, MINOR LEAGUE OPERATIONS

Kent Qualls enters his 10th year as the Director of Minor League Operations for the Orioles. He oversees the administration of the Orioles Player Development department, minor league affiliate relationships, the Dominican Academy, and Winter Ball assignments. His responsibilities also include handling Major League and Minor League contracts and negotiations, player transactions, salary arbitrations, and rules compliance.

Qualls has 25 years of baseball operations experience at the Major League level. He spent eight years with the Boston Red Sox from 1995-2002, working as Director of Player Development and Director of Baseball Operations. He also spent eight seasons with the Montreal Expos from 1987-94, rising to Director of Minor League Operations for the organizations. Additionally, Qualls served for 10 years as the Director of the Dan Duquette Sports Academy in Hinsdale, Mass.

A graduate of the University of Kentucky, Qualls and his wife, Irene, have two children: Kyle and Chloe. They reside in Woodbine, Md.

EVE ROSENBAUM

DIRECTOR, BASEBALL DEVELOPMENT

Eve Rosenbaum joined the Orioles organization in November of 2019 as the club's Director of Baseball Development. She is responsible for developing and implementing evaluation methods and digital tools for use across all facets of baseball operations, serving as a conduit between the organization's scouting, player development, and research and development departments. She also plays a key role in player acquisition decisions and evaluates players in the international, amateur, and professional markets.

Prior to joining the Orioles, Rosenbaum spent five seasons in the Houston Astros organization, most recently serving as the club's Manager of International Scouting. She also worked for the National Football League from 2012-15 as a Junior Rotational Program Member and as Manager of Business Intelligence and Optimization.

Rosenbaum is a native of Bethesda, Md. and attended Harvard University (Mass). She earned a bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in philosophy, and was a catcher on the Crimson varsity softball team. In November 2021, Rosenbaum was inducted into the Greater Washington Jewish Sports Hall of Fame. She currently resides in Baltimore.

MIKE SNYDER

DIRECTOR, PRO SCOUTING

Mike Snyder enters his 14th year with the Orioles and his third as the Director of Professional Scouting. In this role, he oversees the club's pro scouting and player analysis across the majors, minor league baseball, and Asian professional leagues. Additional responsibilities include assisting with contract negotiations, 40-man roster construction and player transactions, and departmental hiring.

Snyder previously served as the club's Director of Pacific Rim Operations & Baseball Development (2015-19), Assistant Director of Player Personnel (2013-14), Assistant Director of Scouting and Player Development (2012), Baseball Operations Assistant and International Scout (2010-11), and Baseball Operations Intern (2009). In his time with the Orioles, he has had active involvement in the amateur draft, international scouting, compliance, contracts, and salary arbitration.

Snyder graduated with honors from Princeton University (NJ) in 2008 with a degree in economics, and he received his master's degree in applied and computational mathematics from Johns Hopkins University in 2019.

A native of Milton, Mass., Snyder and his wife, Lindsay, reside in Frederick, Md. with their two children, Ellie and Jonah.

DI ZOU

DIRECTOR, BASEBALL SYSTEMS

Di Zou enters his sixth season with the Orioles, and his first as the Director of Baseball Systems. In his current role, he oversees development of internal baseball operations information systems and contributes to various initiatives related to baseball technology and analytics.

Zou was hired in 2017 as a Developer of Baseball Systems, a role he held for three years, before being promoted to Manager of Baseball Systems. Prior to joining the Orioles, he worked as a software engineer at various tech companies, including the Army Research Lab, BoxTone, Bridgestone, and HubSpot, where he focused on application development and data engineering.

Zou is a graduate of the University of Maryland with a degree in mathematics. He and his wife, Tina Zhang, reside in Ellicott City, Md. with their daughters, Isabelle and Rosie.

J. MARIA ARELLANO

SENIOR MANAGER, INTERNATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

J. Maria Arellano enters her 16th season with the Orioles. She is responsible for handling minor league and international scouting operations and administration, including contracts, rules compliance, budgeting, travel, payroll, and insurance. She also heads the club's immigration program to ensure all major and minor league players and staff have authorization to enter and work in the United States and Canada.

Arellano joined the Orioles in 2006 as an administration assistant to player development. Throughout her tenure, she has held the roles of Coordinator of Minor League Administration and Manager of Minor League and International Administration, before being promoted to her current role in November of 2019. Prior to joining the Orioles, Arellano spent five seasons with the Los Angeles Angeles and two seasons with the Montreal Expos.

Arellano attended the University of New Mexico for both undergrad and graduate school. She graduated cum laude with a bachelor of business administration from the Anderson School of Management, and later received her master of science with a concentration in sports administration.

Arellano was born in Torreon, Coahuila, Mexico and immigrated to the United States as a child, growing up in Hobbs, New Mexico. She currently resides in Baltimore.

ORIOLES IN THE COMMUNITY

The Baltimore Orioles have prioritized community involvement through a variety of programs and initiatives throughout Birdland for more than 60 years. Guided by our community pillars of strengthening our communities and empowering our youth, the Orioles have supported many civic and charitable organizations in the Mid-Atlantic region, Sarasota, Fla., and abroad. Since the ownership group led by Peter Angelos purchased the team, the Orioles and the Orioles Charitable Foundation have donated more than $20 million to support various organizations in the Orioles community.

The Orioles' impact on Baltimore has extended far beyond the radius of Camden Yards. Since the partnership group led by Peter Angelos purchased the team in 1993, the Orioles and the Orioles Charitable Foundation have donated more than $20 million to countless organizations in the Birdland community.

The organization's commitment to Strengthening Our Community and Empowering Our Youth is evident by the many ongoing programs that the Orioles continue to implement year-round:

STRENGTHENING OUR COMMUNITY

COVID-19 RESPONSE

The Orioles recorded pro-vaccination public service announcements in both English and Spanish to promote the health and wellbeing of the community, while also supporting the economy and return to work in Baltimore. The club spent millions of dollars to share those messages on social media and across MASN and the Orioles Radio Network.

In partnership with MLB and the State of Maryland, the Orioles held free COVID-19 Testing and Vaccination clinics at the ballpark. Fans who received an on-site vaccination were given tickets to an upcoming game and other giveaway items. The Orioles administered 5,073 COVID-19 tests, and 135 vaccinations.

In an effort to support the economy and return to work in Baltimore, the Orioles donated more than $14,000 to The Baltimore Restaurant relief fund through a specialty Opening Day Auction and a Birdland Community Hero Award recognition.

The Orioles donated hundreds of tickets to front line workers throughout the season as a thank you.

COMMUNITY BOOTHS

Throughout the season, community booths help local non-profit organizations raise awareness for their causes giving them the opportunity to share their mission and raise money for their organization.

The Orioles hosted 10 local organizations at the ballpark in 2021.

The Orioles also held memorabilia sales, raising more than $3,800 to benefit three organizations, including Blessings in a Backpack, Jubilee Arts, and Art with a Heart.

BIRDLAND COMMUNITY HEROES

The Orioles Birdland Community Heroes program, founded by John Angelos in 2016, honors and recognizes community heroes who inspire us through their spirited commitment to extend a hand in charity, service, hope, and harmony.

The Orioles recognized nine community members in 2021.

Among those recognized were community members who support LGBTQ+ Rights, The Food Project, an organization that provides food and education to Baltimore youth, and others who helped provide food and relief during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

In honor of their recognition, the Orioles Charitable Foundation makes a $5,000 donation to each Hero's respective organization.

COMPLIMENTARY TICKETS

Throughout the season, the Orioles donate thousands of tickets to local organizations, recognizing volunteers, first responders, and nonprofit groups.

More than 9,000 tickets were donated in 2021.

HEROES CORNER

Established in 2021, "Heroes Corner" served as a way to give back and show appreciation to local frontline workers, from health care workers to members of the Maryland Truck Drivers Association.

As part of the initiative, the Orioles donated 1,548 total tickets to 19 different community groups. Heroes were also thanked during an in-game welcome and featured in-game on the Orioles video board.

IN-KIND DONATIONS

In order to support community groups, the Orioles make in-kind donations each year to help organizations raise money and awareness for charity events.

The Orioles supported more than 100 nonprofit organizations in 2021, donating autographed items to help raise money through silent auctions and other initiatives.

SPECIALTY AUCTIONS

The Orioles hosted six specialty online auctions to benefit specific community and club initiatives this past year.

Together, more than $29,000 was raised to benefit the Baltimore Restaurant Relief Fund, The Jackie Robinson Foundation, the Tragedy Assistance Program, Brigance Brigade, the ALS Association, the Johns Hopkins Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis clinic USO of Metropolitan Washington-Baltimore, and the Oriole Advocates Charitable Foundation.

EMPOWERING OUR YOUTH

ATHLETES & ARTISTS PLAY FOR KIDS

Co-founded by John Angelos and his wife, Margaret Valentine, Athletes & Artists Play for Kids launched in 2015, and combines song and sport to support arts education and girls' empowerment.

The weekend long event that takes place at Ed Smith Stadium in Sarasota, Florida. Throughout the weekend, the Orioles offer free community workshops for local youth, hosted by participating musicians and baseball alumni who donate their time and talent to ensure that gifted kids in disadvantaged communities have access to arts and music education.

NASHVILLE'S MUSIC ROW COMES TO THE BALLPARK

Founded by Margaret Valentine, the one-of-a-kind, all-access VIP charity event brings Orioles players and Nashville artists together in support of music education.

A portion of proceeds from the events benefits the Orioles Charitable Foundation's Music & Arts Education Scholarship.

ORIOLES CHARITABLE FOUNDATION'S ATHLETES AND ARTISTS PLAY FOR KIDS EDUCATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Since establishing the Athletes & Artists fund in 2015, more than $400,000 has benefited Girls, Inc., Baltimore School for the Arts, Jubilee Arts, the YMCA, and other charitable organizations in Baltimore, Sarasota, and Nashville.

As part of the Birdland Summer Music Series, fans have the opportunity to share their love of music by making a voluntary donation to benefit Baltimore-based arts and music education organizations. The Orioles will match up to $10,000 in fan donations with all proceeds benefiting the scholarship fund.

ORIOLES HEALTH & FITNESS CHALLENGE

The Orioles and Sarasota County Schools in 2016 launched the Orioles Health & Fitness Challenge to encourage healthy lifestyles among middle school-aged children. Since its inception, more than 22,500 students have participated in the program.

The program was developed in partnership with Health Fit Powered by Sarasota Memorial to teach students about the importance of physical fitness, healthy eating, and tobacco-free living. During the six-week program, students in grades six through eight participate in a variety of health and fitness challenges led by Sarasota County Phys Ed teachers.

The Challenge was expanded to include Oak Park School in 2017, where faculty adapted the curriculum for students with special needs.

Each week, students receive an Orioles-themed prize, and those who complete the entire six-week challenge receive two complimentary tickets to an Orioles Spring Training game and vouchers for complimentary concessions at the "Orioles Fit!" healthy-food stand at Ed Smith Stadium.

PEPSI STRONGER TOGETHER

Through a series of strategic programs, including Jr. RBI and equipment collections, the Orioles and Pepsi Stronger Together give Baltimore City youth the opportunity to play on improved fields, receive access to proper new and gently used equipment, and learn valuable life skills including teamwork, self-esteem, self-discipline, and leadership through the game of baseball and softball.

CARDBOARD TO LEATHER EQUIPMENT COLLECTION

As part of the Pepsi Stronger Together partnership, the Orioles and the Oriole Advocates increased Cardboard to Leather collections at the ballpark from once a year to four times per year in 2021.

Overall, more than 660 pieces of equipment and $5,750 were collected and distributed to more than 350 youth from different underserved neighborhoods of Baltimore City.

ORIOLES JR. RBI DRIVE-THRU EQUIPMENT DISTRIBUTION

The equipment collected through the Cardboard to Leather collections directly benefits Baltimore City youth. It was dispersed at a series drive-thru distribution events around the city.

Overall, more than 660 pieces of equipment and $5,750 were collected and distributed to more than 350 youth from different under served neighborhoods of Baltimore City.

ORIOLES FIELD REVITALIZATION

The Orioles Field Revitalization Project is designed to improve the field conditions of baseball and softball fields in Baltimore City, making them safe, playable and inviting places for youth to enjoy the game.

In coordination with Baltimore City Recreation and Parks, Orioles Director of Field Operations Nicole Sherry, and other parties, the Orioles identified the 60-foot youth field at Roosevelt Park as the site for the 2021 project. Members of the Orange & Black Gives Back Employee Volunteer Program, Pepsi staff, Baltimore City Recreation and Parks, and Oriole Advocates assisted with the finishing touches on the field by assisting with laying sod, painting fencing, repairing benches, raking and lining the field, among other improvements.

Following the field's ribbon cutting, youth players from Hampden received new and gently-used equipment from the Cardboard to Leather collections and participated in a clinic with former Orioles pitcher Dave Johnson.

REVIVING BASEBALL IN INNER CITIES (R.B.I.) PROGRAM

As part of the Major League Baseball youth initiative, the Baltimore Orioles Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities (RBI) program has been inspiring underserved Baltimore City youth to play baseball and softball since 1989. Each season, the league consists of more than 600 Baltimore City youth.

The Orioles cover all costs that would be required from each team to participate in the league, including providing equipment, customized jerseys, umpires, all-star games, and off-the-field events and clinics.

RBI Events include baseball and softball clinics, specialized clinics, Beep Baseball, RBI Night at Oriole Park including a pregame trophy ceremony, and a college workshop.

Modeled after the Major League Baseball Players Alumni Association's Heart & Hustle Award, the O'mazing Orioles RBI Player Award presented by T. Rowe Price was developed in 2017 to recognize an active Orioles RBI player who demonstrates a passion for the game of baseball and softball, dedication to community service, and commitment to academics.

BASEBALL FOR ALL

The Orioles are committed to helping children with mental and/or physical challenges enjoy baseball. Last year, the Orioles Partnered with League of Dreams and the Oriole Advocates Challenger Baseball Program to host two different clinics for children with special needs.

Former Orioles took part in the clinics, teaching children how to play baseball through adaptive forms of the game by using larger and adapted equipment.

The clinics included teaching the fundamentals of hitting, fielding, throwing and base running. Participants were from local youth Challenger baseball leagues, county recreations programs, community programs with the mission of providing all children with an opportunity to experience the joy of playing baseball.

PLAY BALL DAY PRESENTED BY NIKE

Expanding upon Major League Baseball's Play Ball campaign, the Orioles hosted Play Ball Days, presented by Nike, at local Maryland Title I schools, including Beechfield Elementary Middle (Baltimore City), Edgewood Elementary (Harford County), East Salisbury Elementary (Wicomico County), and Oxon Hill Middle (Prince George's County).

The event aimed to grow the game of baseball, inspire recreational play in underserved areas, and teach life lessons including teamwork, perseverance, and resilience.

ORANGE AND BLACK GIVES BACK

Each year, the Orioles employee and family volunteer program, Orange and Black Gives Back, completes monthly service projects in the Birdland community. These efforts are focused on organizations that support holistic development for youth, as well as nonprofits that strengthen the community by addressing food insecurity, and other economic and environmental obstacles.

Orange and Black Gives Back completed more than 20 in-person volunteer opportunities throughout 2021. Some of those projects included volunteering at Whitelock Farms, cleaning up the Oriole Garden, volunteering with League of Dreams, partnering with Prom Series to provide back-to-school outfits to local foster girls, and packaging and delivering meals to community members through The Maryland Food Bank and Meals on Wheels of Central Maryland.

ORIOLE ADVOCATES

The Oriole Advocates, Inc. is a unique nonprofit organization, dedicated to promoting and stimulating interest in the game of baseball at both the amateur and professional levels. Founded in July of 1960, the Advocates are in their 59th year of "Promoting and Stimulating Interest in Baseball." Membership comprises some 75 men and women, drawn from a broad cross-section of the Baltimore area.

Through the years, the Advocates have made substantial financial donations to worthy causes, primarily to baseball-oriented youth organizations; have played a key role in the restoration of Babe Ruth's birthplace at 216 Emory Street and its conversion into the Babe Ruth/Orioles Museum; and established the Orioles Hall of Fame in 1977.

The organization has also served as an essential right arm to the Orioles Communications and Community Development Departments. The Oriole Advocates don't get paid for anything they do, instead serving as volunteers that constantly demonstrate the importance of competence and dedication whenever there is a job to be done.

BRIAN EBEL MBA, LAT, ATC

HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Ebel enters his fifth season as the Orioles Head Athletic Trainer and his 38th year with the Orioles organization overall. Ebel is just the fourth Head Athletic Trainer in Orioles history since the franchise moved to Baltimore in 1954.

Ebel began his career in 1985 at the age of 19 when he served as the Head Athletic Trainer for the Rookie League Bluefield Orioles during summer breaks from college. He was then promoted to Class-A Erie (1988), and Double-A Hagerstown (1989-91), Orioles Minor League Medical Coordinator (1992-96), and Orioles Assistant Major League Athletic Trainer (1996-2017) before being named Orioles Head

Athletic Trainer in 2018.

Ebel is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky University and holds an MBA from Johns Hopkins University. In March 2021, he received a faculty appointment to Johns Hopkins University as an Assistant Professor of Orthopedic Surgery. He is an active member of the Professional Baseball Athletic Trainers Society (PBATS) and served on their Executive Board as the American League Assistant Athletic Trainer Representative from 1999-2005. He serves on Major League Baseball's steering committee for Electronic Medical Records, MLB's Concussion committee, and was a member of MLB's Medical Advisory Board (2003-17).

Ebel received his 20-year service award as a Major League Athletic Trainer by PBATS in 2017. Following the 2011 season, PBATS named Ebel and longtime Orioles Athletic Trainer Richie Bancells the Major League Baseball Athletic Training Staff of the Year. In 2007, he was the Athletic Trainer for the American League All-Star team in San Francisco. He was also selected as the Athletic Trainer for the Major League Baseball All-Star Tour of Taiwan following the 2011 season. Ebel was the recipient of PBATS President's Service Award in 2012 for his work on MLB's standardized Electronic Medical Records (EMR). In January 2022, Ebel was the recipient of the Most Distinguished Athletic Trainer Award by the National Athletic Trainers Association.

Ebel is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association and is a licensed athletic trainer in Maryland and Florida. He is certified in Active Release Techniques (A.R.T.) and Functional Movement Systems (FMS). He has authored or co-authored research papers on shoulder and elbow injuries, as well as catcher's injuries. In May of 2012, he was awarded a United States patent for an orthopedic device for the foot to aid in the treatment of Plantar Fasciitis and heel pain.

Ebel grew up in Versailles, Ind., and has two sons: Brady and Brett. He resides in Baltimore.

NICOLE SHERRY

DIRECTOR OF FIELD OPERATIONS

Sherry begins her second season as the Orioles Director of Field Operations after spending the previous 14 seasons as the Orioles Head Groundskeeper. It is her 19th season with the Orioles organization overall. From 2001-03, she served as the Orioles Assistant Head Groundskeeper before spending three seasons (2004-06) with the Double-A Trenton Thunder (New York Yankees).

She returned to the Orioles organization in November of 2006, becoming just the second woman ever to serve as the head groundskeeper with a Major League team. Sherry and Heather Nabozny, who has been with the Detroit Tigers since 1999, are the only female head groundskeepers in Major League Baseball. According to the Sports Turf Managers Association (STMA), there have been approximately 10 women who have held the position of head groundskeeper in the history of professional baseball.

Sherry was the first female head groundskeeper in Eastern League history when she was named to that post for the Trenton Thunder in February of 2004, and twice was runner-up for the Eastern League's top groundskeeping award. In 2006, the Thunder honored her with a bobblehead, depicting her riding a tractor.

In February of 2016, Sherry was named the recipient of the Mary Pickersgill Award for Women's Leadership in Business by the Star-Spangled Banner Flag House. Established in 2012, the award honors a woman who demonstrates leadership in her community, exemplifies innovation in her chosen field, and has the power to inspire others. She was also named the 2019 recipient of the prestigious Dick Ericson Founders' Award, which is awarded annually to a STMA member who effectively manages sports fields and their facility, exhibits the qualities of a true team leader, and who positively impacts the sports turf industry. Sherry, along with MLB and Discovery Education, has worked with local schools to introduce students to a variety of intriguing science and STEM concepts related to her job as Head Groundskeeper.

A native of New Castle, Del., Sherry graduated from the University of Delaware with a degree in agriculture. She worked for several golf courses in Delaware and with the University of Delaware's Research and Education Center, testing new herbicides, prior to joining the Orioles in 2001 as the Assistant Head Groundskeeper. Sherry resides in Eldersburg, Md. with her son, Tyson.

FRED TYLER

HOME CLUBHOUSE/EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Fred Tyler enters his 50th season with the Orioles. He began his career as a bat boy in the visiting clubhouse in 1972, and since then, has served numerous roles, including Visiting Clubhouse Assistant, Orioles Clubhouse Assistant (1979-83), and most recently Visiting Clubhouse Manager (1984-2021). In December of 2021, he was promoted to the Home Clubhouse and Equipment Manager.

Tyler played baseball at Bel Air (MD) High School, Harford Community College, and Towson University. As a senior at Bel Air High, Tyler was named the All-Harford County shortstop, while the All-Harford County pitcher that year was an Aberdeen High School right-handed pitcher named Cal Ripken, Jr.

JIM TYLER

UMPIRES' ATTENDANT

Jim Tyler begins his 61st year working for the Orioles and his 10th season as the Umpires' Attendant. Tyler ran the home clubhouse from 1979 to 2012 after serving seven years as the Visiting Clubhouse Manager. He began working in the Orioles clubhouse in 1962.

Born and raised in Baltimore, he is a graduate of Baltimore City College High School, located across the street from Memorial Stadium, where the Orioles played for 39 years. Tyler is one of 11 children, including a twin brother, Phil, who also worked for the Orioles in the past. Tyler has two children: Lauren and Joshua, and three grandchildren: Luke, Tessa, and Jack.

DID YOU KNOW?

- O's infielder Wayne Gross became the first player in Major League history to hit at least 10 homers and drive in fewer than 20 runs in a season in 1985. He hit 11 HR and drove in 18 runs. O's catcher Chris Hoiles holds the record for fewest RBI (40) for a player with 20 home runs in a season, when he did it in 1992.
- The last time a team had a right-handed and left-handed pitcher each win 20 games in a season in the American League was 1980, when RHP Steve Stone (25) and LHP Scott McGregor (20) did it for the Orioles.
- Orioles Hall of Fame pitcher Jim Palmer is the only pitcher ever to win a World Series game in three different decades.

MAJOR LEAGUE INJURED LIST

NOW PITCHING...

The Orioles have used non-pitchers on the mound on 20 occasions (19 games) including two on June 26, 1978 during a 22-10 loss at Toronto. Stevie Wilkerson's save at Los Angeles-AL on July 25, 2019, was the first save by a position player in Major League history, since the save became an official stat in 1969. Chris Davis' appearance at Boston on May 6, 2012, was the first pitching victory recorded by an AL position player since Rocky Colavito did it in 1968. The Orioles have lost 17 of the 19 games in which a position player has pitched.

Married, wife's name is Paige. The couple has a son, Forrest, and a daughter, Ivy.

Favorite Olympic Sport is curling.

Enjoys playing video games.

Attended St. Clair Community College (MI) and Waterford Kettering (MI) HS.

Met his wife, Paige, when they were both on homecoming court their senior year of high school.

Wasn't a strong hitter in high school, so they used a designated hitter for him when he pitched.

A fan of the Detroit Lions and University of Michigan football.

Football was his favorite sport growing up. He quit baseball after coach-pitch Little League and didn't start playing again until high school.

2021 NOTES

- Made his third-straight Opening Day roster
- Allowed just one extra-base hit in his first 47 appearances and six extra-base hits total; was one of three relievers in MLB to allow six-or-fewer XBHs in 50-or-more games; his 2.8 XBH% was the lowest mark of his career
- Did not allow a run in a career-high 11 games from 4/7-30 (9.2 IP)
- Pitched to a 3.35 ERA (15 ER/40.1 IP) through his first 41 games; did not allow a run in 34 of those outings
- Completed at least 1.0 inning just four times in 11 outings in August, pitching to a 21.86 ERA (17 ER/7.0 IP); allowed multiple runs in six of those 11 appearances before being optioned to Triple-A Norfolk on 8/30
- 24 of his 52 appearances came in high-leverage situations, according to Baseball-Reference; the second-most on the team
- His 11.41 SO/9 was second in the O's 'pen; had a career-best 11.86 SO/9 in 2020

Married, wife's name is Samantha. The couple has two sons, Levi and Hayden.

Has a dog named Luna.

Loves to hunt in the off season.

Attended Jacksonville University (FL) and Spruce Creek (FL) HS.

Austin hit a home run at the first spring training game his son, Levi, went to and the Hays family kept the ball.

Enjoys spending his off days in Annapolis.

His go-to karaoke song is Friends in Low Places by Garth Brooks.

If he could trade places with anyone it would be his wife so he could see what he is like from her point of view.

Is scared of heights.

Is from the same hometown as former Oriole Luke Scott.

Does not wear batting gloves, because he would go through them like crazy when he was little and didn't want his mom to have to keep buying new ones.

His late father, Andre Jones, was a linebacker on Notre Dame's national championship football team in 1988 and played for the Canadian Football League's (CFL) Winnipeg Blue Bombers and NFL's Pittsburgh Steelers. His oldest brother, T.J. Jones (who also played football at Notre Dame), played wide receiver in the NFL. Another brother, Malachi, also played in the NFL and was the 2017 Offensive Rookie of the Year in the National Arena League.

Was a two-sport star at Wesleyan School in Norcross, GA, playing both baseball and football.

He would pick a young Corbin Bleu to play him in a movie.

He lost his dad to a brain aneurysm in 2011 and because of that does a lot of work with the Lisa Foundation raising awareness for brain aneurysms.

Raghib "Rocket" Ismail, Andre Jones' Notre Dame teammate and former NFL wide receiver, is godfather to the Jones' children; four boys and two girls.

Enjoys anything related to food: cooking and learning how to pair new foods together. Likes cake batter and pistachio ice cream.

If he weren't playing baseball he thinks he would have gone to culinary school.

His older sister, Dacia, was an All-State softball pitcher. His younger sister, Jayla, is a former junior Olympian in Equestrian.

If he could trade places with anyone for a day it would be Gordon Ramsey.

Married, wife's name is Caroline. The couple has a son, McCoy.

His dad, Alan, passed away from pancreatic cancer in August 2020.

Attended Gardner-Edgerton (KS) HS, Fort Scott Community College (KS), and West Virginia University.

His wife, Caroline, was a professional soccer goalie and coached at Tulsa University (OK).

Wears number 47 because his dad's birthday is on the 4th and his mom's is on the 7th.

Enjoys coffee; had his own specialty blend at Ceremony Coffee in 2021.

If he could have any super power it would be to run fast because he has never been able to do so.

Is not a good cook, but loves to grill out and barbecue.

His go-to karaoke song is "Take Me Home, Country Roads" by John Denver.

Made a LinkedIn account in 2019 because he didn't think he would make it in baseball. Also substitute taught in the off season one year.

Is a huge Kansas City Chiefs fan.

2021 NOTES

- Threw the sixth no-hitter in Orioles history in a 6-0 victory on 5/5 at T-Mobile Park against the Mariners
- Was the first Orioles no-hitter since a combined effort by Bob Milacki, Mike Flanagan, Mark Williamson, and Gregg Olson on 7/13/91 at OAK, and the first individual, complete game no-hitter by an Orioles pitcher since Jim Palmer on 8/13/69 vs. OAK
- It was the first 9.0 inning complete game of his career, while he became the first left-handed pitcher to throw a no-hitter in Orioles history, and his 12 strikeouts were the most by an O's hurler in a no-hitter
- Became the first Kansas-born pitcher to throw a no-hitter since Walter Johnson in 1920
- The only base runner reached on a dropped third strike, wild pitch, and was later caught stealing by C Pedro Severino; according to the Elias Sports Bureau, Means was the first pitcher to throw a non-perfect no-hitter in which the opposing team did not record a walk, hit-by-pitch, or error

- Became the second pitcher in AL history to throw a no-hitter with 12+ strikeouts and zero walks, joining Félix Hernández, who had a perfect game on 8/15/12
- Threw 26-of-27 first-pitch strikes (96.3%), only missing on the 18th batter of the game with two outs in the sixth inning; the highest first-pitch strike percentage in a complete game since 1990
- Became the only pitcher since 2000 to face at least 25 batters in a game and have a higher first-pitch strike percentage was Minnesota's Brad Radke on 6/30/04 (27-of-28, 96.4%)
- Recorded 26 swinging strikes (14 via the changeup, 8 via the four-seam fastball, 3 via the slider, and 1 via the curveball), the most in a game by an Orioles pitcher since pitch-tracking began in 2008
- Became the first pitcher since Edinson Vólquez on 6/3/17 to face the minimum in a no-hitter and have it not be a perfect game; the last to do so with no walks or hit batters was Terry Mulholland on 8/15/1990
- Named the American League Player of the Week on 5/10; the first Orioles winner since Trey Mancini on 9/23/19, and the first Orioles pitcher to accomplish the feat since Arthur Rhodes in August of 1994
- Made his first-career Opening Day start on 4/2 at Boston, becoming the 41st Opening Day starter in Orioles history
- Became the first pitcher in Orioles history to work at least 7.0 innings, while giving up one hit-or-less, and not allowing a run in a start at Fenway Park
- Became the 17th pitcher in Major League history, and first Oriole, to go at least 7.0 innings, while allowing one hit-or-less in a start on Opening Day; he is the third pitcher in Major League history to do so without issuing a walk, joining Irv Young (1906) and Jordan Zimmermann (2019)
- Joined Mike Mussina (5/30/97) and Jim Palmer (5/12/67) as one of three Orioles to throw at least 7.0 innings, allowing one hit-or-less, no runs, and no walks in a start.
- Tallied a career-high 12 quality starts this season, surpassing the 11 he made in 2019

Got engaged to his fiancée, Taylor, during the 2022 offseason.

Has been with his fiancée since their sophomore year of high school. The two met when Ryan asked her for help in math.

Wears a rubber bracelet on his wrist that says "Rest in Peace Austin" for Austin Ekern, his high school football teammate; Austin was hit and killed by a pickup truck in 2017 and Ryan has worn the bracelet every day since.

Attended Paul J. Hagerty (FL) HS.

Had his No. 5 High School baseball jersey retired by the Hagerty baseball team on February 6, 2021.

Built a house together with his fiancée in Florida during the 2022 offseason.

In the offseason he bowls with his friends every Thursday night, with the losers picking up the winners' tabs.

Has his own karaoke machine; his go to songs are "I miss you" by Blink-182, "Walking in Memphis" by March Cohn, and "Piano Man" by Billy Joel.

Has a dog named Charli.

Enjoys playing Call of Duty.

Drinks a Red Bull before games and will get McDonalds if he's in a slump.

2021 NOTES

- Led the team and all MLB rookies with 33 home runs, tied for the ninth-most by a rookie in AL history; since 1990, only two other AL rookies have hit at least 33 home runs in a season (Judge, NYY - 52 in 2017, Abreu, CWS - 36 in 2014), and both won AL Rookie of the Year
- Became the first Orioles rookie to lead the team in home runs outright since Curt Blefary did so with 22 homers in 1965; Blefary won AL Rookie of the Year with 60% of the vote
- His .487 SLG ranked fourth among qualified MLB rookies and ranked second on the Orioles (Mullins, .518); among O's rookies, his .487 SLG ranks second all-time behind Trey Mancini's .488 in 2017, while his 57 extra-base hits rank third and 260 total bases are good for fourth
- His .796 OPS was second on the Orioles (Mullins, .878), third among AL rookies, and seventh among MLB rookies
- His 260 total bases ranked second among rookies behind TEX's Adolis Garcia (264); he is the fourth rookie in O's history (since 1954) to have 250 total bases in a season, joining Trey Mancini (265 in 2017), Cal Ripken, Jr. (284 in 1982) and Eddie Murray (287 in 1977)
- Set the franchise's single-season rookie record with his 29th home run on 9/16 vs. NYY, surpassing the mark set by Orioles Legend and Hall of Famer Cal Ripken, Jr. (28 in 1982)
- Voted to Baseball Digest's 2021 MLB Rookie All-Star Team at first base
- From 5/1 on, he slashed .266/.324/.528 (118-for-443) with 51 XBH (32 HR, 18-2B, 3B), 69 runs, 82 RBI, and 37 walks in 119 games, compared to .198/.229/.286 (18-for-91) with six XBH (HR, 5-2B), eight runs, seven RBI, and four walks in his first 25 games of the year
- His .528 SLG from 5/1 on led all rookies, +.055 higher than the next-closest rookie (India, CIN - .473), and ranked 15th overall in the AL during that span
- His 13-game hit-streak from 7/28-8/21 was the longest active streak in MLB and was the third-longest streak by an O's batter in 2021 (20 G - Mullins & 17 G - Hays)
- Drove in at least one run in eight-straight games from 5/31-6/9, tied for the longest streak in the majors in 2021 and the longest streak by a rookie in club history (since 1954)
- Recorded multiple hits in a career-high four-straight games from 7/31-8/3, the longest streak by an Orioles batter in 2021
- Named AL Rookie of the Month for June, his first career ROTM award; slashed .327/.382/.634 and led AL rookies in AVG, SLG, OPS (1.015), HR (9), XBH (13), and RBI (26) during the month
- Recorded his first career three-homer game on 6/19 vs. TOR, the second three-homer game by a rookie in O's history (Nick Markakis, 8/22/06 vs. MIN); marked the 33rd three-homer game by a rookie in Major League history
- Played in his 162nd career game on 9/15 and slashed .276/.328/.492 (165-for-597) with 33 home runs, 28 doubles, 80 runs, and 103 RBI during his first 162 career games; is the only Oriole in club history to record 100+ RBI in their first 162 career games and his 33 homers are the second-most by an O's batter in their first 162 games, trailing only Jay Gibbons (34)
- His double on 6/5 vs. MIN had an exit velocity of 114.6 MPH, tied with Pedro Severino for the hardest-hit ball by an O's batter in 2021 and was the hardest-hit ball of his career
- Placed on the seven-day Injured List (concussion) on 8/8 before being transferred to the 10-day Injured List on 8/16 and being activated on 8/17
- Made his first career Opening Day roster

Leadoff HR: 11, last: 9/10/21 vs. TOR

Got engaged to his fiancé, Erika, in September of the 2021 season.

Attended Brookwood (GA) HS, Louisburg College (NC), and Campbell University (NC).

Can juggle.

Majored in business administration in college and enjoys marketing and math and thinks he would pursue engineering if not playing professional baseball.

Has a dog named Lilo.

Enjoys playing video games.

His nickname is "parking lot Ced" because he would hit home runs into the parking lot in the minors.

2021 NOTES

- Named the unanimous winner of the 2021 Louis M. Hatter Most Valuable Oriole Award
- Named a finalist for the Hank Aaron Award for the first time in his career
- Named the Orioles Heart and Hustle Award winner for the first time in his career
- Named an American League Silver Slugger Award winner; the first Oriole to win Silver Slugger since 2016
- Named to his first career All-Star Game and became the first Oriole to make the start in the Midsummer Classic since Manny Machado in 2018, and first O's outfielder to start the All-Star Game since Adam Jones in 2015
- Hit his 30th home run of the season on 9/24 vs. TEX to become the first player in franchise history (since 1954) – and only player in the majors in 2021 – to record a season with 30 home runs and 30 stolen bases; became just the third player in O's history (since 1954) with a 25 HR/25 SB season and one of six in MLB this year with at least 25 HR/25 SB

CEDRIC MULLINS

- Set career-highs and led the Orioles in nearly every major offensive statistical category, including fWAR (5.3), hits (175), XBH (72), BA, OBP, SLG, OPS (.878), doubles (37), triples (5), total bases (312), runs (91), stolen bases (30), and walks (59), and ranked second in homers (Mountcastle, 33); his 5.3 fWAR ranked sixth among AL hitters and 14th among MLB hitters
- Ranked among the top 10 in the AL in stolen bases (T-2nd - 30), hits (4th - 175), doubles (T-5th - 37), total bases (6th - 312), OPS (8th - .878), and XBH (T-8th - 72); ranked among the top 10 in MLB in stolen bases (T-4th), total bases (8th), and hits (9th)
- One of 16 players in MLB with at least 300 total bases; became the 24th Oriole (39th occurrence) to record 300 total bases in a season, and the first since Trey Mancini had 322 in 2019
- Of his 30 home runs, 29 came as a center fielder; the only Orioles to record at least 30 home runs in a season when in the lineup as a center fielder are Adam Jones (2013 & 2012) and Brady Anderson (1996)
- His team-leading 46 multi-hit games ranked tied for 11th in the AL and tied for 18th in MLB
- His four multi-homer games ranked tied for fifth in the AL and tied for ninth in MLB; recorded back-to-back multi-homer games from 6/18-19, becoming the 11th player in franchise history to do so and one of nine in MLB in 2021 to achieve this feat
- His eight leadoff homers were tied with Kyle Schwarber (WSH-BOS) for the most in MLB and were the second-most in a single-season in Orioles history
- According to Statcast, his 28.5 ft/sec Sprint Speed ranked in the top 14 percent of MLB and his 190 hard-hit balls (95 MPH+) led the O's; his 11 Outs Above Average led the O's and ranked fourth among MLB center fielders
- He was the only player in MLB with multiple five-hit games in 2021 and just the third player in franchise history (since 1954) with multiple five-hit games in the same season, joining Luis Aparicio (3 in 1966) and Tommy Davis (2 in 1974)
- Reached base safely in 11-straight plate appearances and recorded a hit in nine-straight at-bats from June 4-6; his nine-straight at-bats with a hit rank tied with Charles Johnson (1999) for the second-longest streak in franchise history, behind only Ken Singleton's 10-consecutive at-bats with a hit (1981)
- Hit safely in each of the O's first 11 games; was the 11th time in O's history in which a player recorded an 11-game hitting streak to begin a season
- His 146 starts in center field were the second-most in the majors (Straw, HOU-CLE - 149)
- Made his third-straight Opening Day roster

Has a devoted group of fans called "The Fantanders" who are hundreds of scouts from the UK who sat behind him in left field at Oriole Park during a game in 2019.

Began learning how to play the harp during the COVID shutdown.

Did not watch a lot of baseball growing up, but is a fan of Venezuelan players Asdrubal Cabrera, Carlos Carrasco, and José Altuve.

2021 NOTES

- His home run on 8/24 vs. LAA traveled 443 ft., the longest of his career, and landed on Eutaw Street, making it the 113th Eutaw Street home run in Oriole Park history (since 1992), 53rd by an Orioles batter, and the seventh of Santander's career; his seven career Eutaw Street home runs rank second all-time among Orioles batters behind only Chris Davis (11)
- Santander's four Eutaw Street home runs in 2021 are a single-season ballpark record
- Recorded a season-high four hits on 8/24 vs. LAA, tallying three extra-base hits (HR, 2-2B) for the second time in his career (last: 8/18/20 vs. TOR)
- Recorded three-or-more hits in consecutive games (8/24-25) for the first time in his career
- His eight homers in August were tied for 11th in the AL; 24 of his 50 career home runs have come in the month of August, 16 more than the next closest month (September - 9)
- Homered in a career-long three-straight games (8/8-11), had a 2.231 OPS in that span
- Hit safely in 10 of his last 13 games, including four home runs and two doubles for an .819 OPS, as well as in 12 of his last 16 games
- Slashed .262/.303/.545 (49-for-187) with 15 homers and eight doubles in 51 home games, compared to .224/.271/.338 (49-for-219) with three homers and 16 doubles in 59 road games
- Slugged his 18th home run of the season on 9/26 vs. TEX; each of his last 13 home runs have come at Oriole Park, and he has not homered on the road since 6/29 at HOU
- Slashed .258/.303/.490 (50-for-194) with 12 homers and nine doubles in 52 games after the All-Star Break, compared to .226/.271/.382 (48-for-212) in 58 games prior to the break
- His 90.7 MPH average exit velocity led the O's, according to Statcast (min. 100 Batted Balls)
- Hit .257/.293/.405 (38-for-148) with 10 doubles and four home runs against LHP compared to .233/.282/.450 (60-for-258) with 14 home runs and 14 doubles against RHP
- His 11-game hitting streak from 4/18-5/29 G2 was tied for the fourth-longest hitting streak by an O's batter in 2021 and ranks as the third-longest streak of Santander's career
- Placed on the 10-day Injured List (right knee sprain) on 9/28, ending his season; also had a stint on the 10-day Injured List (left ankle sprain) from 4/21-5/21

MAKING THE LAST ONE COUNT

Ted Williams wasn't the only Major Leaguer to hit a home run in his last Major League at-bat when he went deep off the Orioles' Jack Fisher on September 28, 1960, at Fenway Park. Two former Orioles also accomplished this feat. On September 30, 1956, Joe Frazier (who later managed the New York Mets) homered at Washington off Senators pitcher Ted Abernathy in his final big league plate appearance. On August 2, 1994, Jeff Tackett went deep at Minnesota off Twins hurler Mike Trombley in his last at-bat.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Former Orioles pitcher Scott McGregor is one of 32 first-round draft picks ever to win 20 games in a season. A first-round pick of the Yankees in 1972 (No. 12 overall), he won 20 games for the Orioles in 1980. In addition to McGregor, first round picks who were 20-game winners at least once in their careers include Josh Beckett, Kevin Brown, Chris Carpenter, Roger Clemens, Joe Coleman, R.A. Dickey, Rich Dotson, Dwight Gooden, Gio Gonzalez, Bill Gulkickson, Roy Halladay, Rick Helling, Ian Kennedy, Clayton Kershaw, Jack McDowell, Matt Morris, Mark Mulder, Mike Mussina, Mike Norris, Rick Porcello, David Price, J.R. Richard, C.C. Sabathia, Max Scherzer, Rick Sutcliffe, Bill Swift, Justin Verlander, Adam Wainwright, Jered Weaver, Bob Welch, and Barry Zito.
- Former Orioles pitcher Milt Pappas is one of 13 pitchers in Major League history to hit a solo home run and win a game 1-0. He did it April 18, 1962, homering in the fifth inning to beat the Yankees' Bill Stafford at Memorial Stadium in Baltimore.
- Orioles RHP Moe Drabowsky struck out 11 Dodgers in relief in Game 1 of the 1966 World Series, the only reliever to fan 11 batters in a World Series game. Harvey Haddix (June 15, 1964) and Dave Vineyard (September 7, 1964) share the Orioles' regular season record for strikeouts by a reliever, also with 11.
- Al Bumbry is one of 14 American League players to hit three triples in one game. He did so on September 22, 1973, at Milwaukee.
- Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally won at least 20 games each for the Orioles from 1969 through 1971, the only teammates to do that three straight seasons since 1931.

THE BABE RUTH BIRTHPLACE & MUSEUM

On February 6, 1895, George Herman "Babe" Ruth was born at 216 Emory Street in a Baltimore rowhouse located "just a long fly ball" from Oriole Park at Camden Yards. The Birthplace is one of the top baseball museums in the country, featuring an extensive collection of Ruthian artifacts and mementos, as well as serving as the official museum of the Baltimore Orioles and the archives of the Baltimore Colts and Johnny Unitas.

The Museum showcases different aspects of baseball in exhibits throughout the year. The Museum also hosts appearances by past, present and future Orioles and other Major League stars, as well as nationally known authors of sports publications for lectures and book signings.

For Museum information, call 410-727-1539 or visit baberruthmuseum.com.

Grew up an Orioles fan, the first jersey he had was an Adam Jones USA Baseball jersey.

His favorite ice cream is mint chocolate chip. He also makes a breakfast casserole every year on Christmas for his family.

Attended the University of Mt. Olive (NC), Towson University (MD), and Loyola Blakefield (MD) HS.

Did not know he was going to make the 2021 Opening Day roster out of Spring Training, so he lived with his parents because he didn't have an apartment in Baltimore.

Is the youngest of five, has three sisters and a brother.

Wanted to be an architect when he was younger.

2021 NOTES

Born in Honolulu, Hawaii and is half Puerto Rican and half Filipino.

When Rico was in the minor leagues his brother worked at United Airlines. That connection allowed Eddie to travel across the US without charge and follow Rico's team around the country for a season.

Growing up, there were always two or three different Joshes, so his dad, Eddie, was the coach and he started calling him Rico and it stuck with him in sports. Teammates knew him as Rico, but all his classmates knew him as Josh.

Attended Hawaii Pacific University and Saint Louis (HI) HS.

Rico wore No. 21 on Roberto Clemente Day in 2020 to pay tribute to the native Puerto Rican. Garcia, who is part Puerto Rican, learned about Clemente from his father, Eddie, who was 12 when Clemente passed away. When Rico was 12, his father brought him to Cooperstown in 2006 to look at the Hall of Fame's Clemente exhibits.

2021 IN REVIEW

AND THAT'S A WRAP: The Orioles completed their 2021 season with a 52-110 record, finishing in fifth place in the AL East...Their 110 losses were the second-most in Orioles history (since 1954); the club record is 115 losses in 2018...They went 27-54 at home and 25-56 on the road; their 54 home losses were the second-most in club history (56 in 2019) and their 56 road losses were tied for the third-most in team history...The O's finished the season 20-56 against the AL East, 10-28 at home, and 10-28 on the road.

ALLOW ME TO REINTRODUCE MYSELF: The Orioles used a club-record 62 different players during the 2021 season (39 pitchers and 23 position players), surpassing the previous record of 58 from the 2019 season...42 players pitched for the O's this season, including three position players (Pat Valaika - 2 games, Stevie Wilkerson - 1 game, Austin Wynn - 1 game), the most in team history...33 players made their Orioles debut in 2021, the third-most in club history, trailing only the club's first two seasons in Baltimore, 1954 (38) and 1955 (42).

WELCOME TO THE SHOW: 16 players made their Major League debuts this season for the O's (14 pitchers and two position players), a club record, surpassing the previous-high of 15 set in 2018...The 16 debuts were the most in the majors (second-most: 15 - Chicago-NL and Los Angeles-AL)...All 14 pitchers made their debuts out of the bullpen, with two of them earning the win in their debuts (Mike Baumann on September 7 vs. Kansas City and Manny Barreda on September 8 vs. Kansas City)...11 of the players who made their debuts finished the season on the Orioles 40-man roster.

ROSTER BREAKDOWN: The Orioles opened the 2021 season with 15 players who were not on their 2020 Opening Day roster: 10 pitchers (Matt Harvey, Dean Kremer, Jorge López, John Means, Adam Plutko, Mac Sceroler, Dillon Tate, César Valdez, Tyler Wells, and Bruce Zimmermann), four infielders (Maikel Franco, Freddy Galvis, Trey Mancini, and Ramón Urias), and one infielder/outfielder (Ryan Mountcastle)...Of the 26, seven were home grown O's...Eight O's made their first Opening Day roster...Wade LeBlanc was the oldest player (36 years and 238 days) on the O's Opening Day roster and Ryan Mountcastle was the youngest (24 years and 43 days).

OPENING ACT: The Orioles opened the 2021 season shutting out the Boston Red Sox by a score of 3-0...It was the sixth shutout on Opening Day in club history (also: 1973, 1975, 1976, 1992, 2005).

The two hits O's pitchers allowed were the fewest in team history on Opening Day...It was the 30th time in the majors (since 1954) a club allowed two-or-fewer hits in their first game of the season; the Pittsburgh Pirates also did it this year in their opening game against the Chicago Cubs.

John Means became the 17th pitcher in Major League history, and first Oriole, to toss at least 7.0 innings while allowing one-or-fewer hits in a start on Opening Day.

Means became the third pitcher in MLB history to go at least 7.0 innings on Opening Day and allow one-or-fewer hits while not walking a batter (Jordan Zimmermann - DET, 2019 and Irv Young - Boston Beaneaters, 1906).

Means became the first pitcher in Orioles history to work at least 7.0 innings while allowing one-or-fewer hits and no runs in a start at Fenway Park.

The Orioles completed a three-game sweep of the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park to start the season...It was the first time the Orioles started a season 3-0 since 2017 when they started 4-0.

Cedric Mullins' 11-game hitting streak to begin the season was the longest by an Oriole since Manny Machado in 2016 (16-straight); club record is 17-straight by Davey Johnson in 1971...There have been 11 hitting streaks of at least 11 games to begin a season in O's history, including Mullins; five have come since 2000.

Mullins recorded 18 hits in the Orioles first 10 games of the season, tied for the third-most in club history with Brian Roberts (2005 and 2009) and Adam Jones (2013); second most: Javy López, 19 hits - 2004 and club record: Eddie Murray, 22 hits - 1982.

DE-FENSE: The Orioles finished the season with a team fielding percentage of .9869, the third-best fielding percentage in the American League and the sixth-best in the majors...They committed 31 errors at home and 43 errors on the road...Orioles outfielders recorded 23 outfield assists, tied for the seventh-most in the AL and tied for the 10th-most in the majors.

Austin Hays led the Orioles with nine outfield assists (5 in right field and 4 in left field), tied for the seventh-most in the AL and tied for the 10th-most in the majors...His 2.1 SDI, as of August 22, led all AL left fielders; SDI is a SABR defensive metric used to help calculate Gold Glove winners.

Cedric Mullins made 146 starts last season (153 games) in center field...His 146 starts in CF finished as the second-most in the majors (Myles Straw, HOU/CLE - 149)...His 146 starts in center field rank as the 10th-most in a single season in Orioles history...His 11 outs above average, according to Statcast, were tied for the fourth-most by a center fielder in the majors.

Kelvin Gutiérrez led all O's infielders with five outs above average.

HOME COOKIN': The Orioles posted a slash line of .251/.317/.443 with 122 home runs at Oriole Park last season...Their 122 home runs were the second-most in the AL at home and their .443 slugging percentage ranked fourth-highest.

The O's had five players with an OPS of .845-or-greater at home (min. 25 AB), while having zero on the road: Mullins - .959 home (.793 road), Mountcastle - .871 home (.713 road), Mancini - .853 home (.660 road), Hays - .852 home (.693 road), Santander - .849 home (.609 road).

CRAZY EIGHT: The Orioles scored 102 runs in the eighth inning during the 2021 season, their most runs scored in a single inning...The 102 runs ranked as the second-most in the AL and the third-most in the majors...Austin Hays' 24 eighth inning hits (12-1B, 7-2B, 1-3B, 3 HR) led the majors, while Ryan Mountcastle's 23 hits (16-1B, 5-2B, 2 HR) finished tied as the second-most (Aaron Judge, New York-AL).

ALL ABOUT THE GOPHER BALL: The Orioles (6) and Blue Jays (3) combined for nine home runs on June 19, the most in a game at Oriole Park since April 20, 2019 (G2) when 11 combined home runs were hit by the Orioles (3) and Twins (8)...The Orioles first six hits of the game were each home runs...According to the Elias Sports Bureau, it was the second time in the Expansion Era (since 1961) in which a team's first six hits were all home runs; also Cleveland on June 24, 1989 at Texas (all six of the Indians hits in the game were home runs)...It was the 20th time in O's history (since 1954) in which they hit at least six home runs in a game (12th time at Oriole Park), and the first overall since August 18, 2016 vs. Houston; the O's have gone 18-2 in such games, their only other loss came on August 28, 2007 vs. Tampa Bay.

Five of the six O's home runs were solo homers; tied for the most solo home runs in a game in the majors in 2021...132 of the O's 195 home runs (67.7%) on the season were solo homers.

Ryan Mountcastle hit a career-high three home runs...The 24th three-homer game in Orioles history (18th different player)...Became the second Orioles rookie (Nick Markakis, August 22, 2006 vs. MIN) to homer three times in a game; first rookie to do so in the majors since Mike Yastrzemski on August 16, 2019 at Arizona and the 33rd rookie in MLB history with a three-homer game.

Cedric Mullins recorded back-to-back multi-home run games from June 18-19, the 11th time in O's history a player recorded consecutive multi-home games and the first since Pedro Álvarez from April 27-29, 2018...Mullins was one of nine players in the majors in 2021 to record back-to-back multi-home run games...His four multi-homer games from the leadoff spot were the second-most in a single season in O's history, trailing only Brady Anderson's five such games in 1996.

MAKE IT A DOUBLE: The Orioles recorded three-straight games in which a player collected a multi-homer game (Mullins - June 18, Mullins & Mountcastle - June 19, Mancini - June 20); according to the Elias Sports Bureau, the three-straight games with an individual multi-homer game matched the Orioles club record (also: July 24 (Cal Ripken, Jr.), 25 (Albert Belle), and 27 (Brady Anderson), 1999 and May 25 (Doug DeCinces) 26 (Terry Crowley), and 27 (Doug DeCinces), 1981).

The O's 17 total individual multi-home run games in 2021 ranked tied for the third-most in the majors.

FIRST HALF NOTES: The O's posted a 28-61 record prior to the All-Star break...Their .315 winning percentage before the break was the fourth-lowest in a single season in franchise history (since 1954), behind a .303 winning percentage in 2019, .295 in 1955, and .289 in 2018.

Orioles pitchers struck out 746 batters before the break, the second-most in franchise history (750 in 2018), while O's batters struck out 791 times, the third-most before the break in franchise history (805 in 2019 and 845 in 2018).

Ryan Mountcastle slugged 14 homers in 83 games, tied with Trey Mancini (2017) for the most home runs by a rookie prior to the All-Star break in franchise history.

Cedric Mullins' 106 hits prior to the All-Star Break led the American League and were the most by an Oriole since 2018 (Manny Machado - 115 in 96 G)...They are tied for the 23rd-most by an Orioles player pre-All-Star Break in club history (Javy López, 2004); the club record is 128 by Machado in 2013 (96 G).

STAR POWER: The Orioles sent five representatives (one All-Star, one Home Run Derby participant, two SiriusXM All-Star Futures game participants, and one Strength and Conditioning Coach) to Coors Field in Denver, Colo., for the 2021 MLB All-Star Week:

Cedric Mullins was named to his first career All-Star team and made the start in center field as an injury replacement for Mike Trout...He became the first O's outfielder since Adam Jones in 2015 to start the All-Star game for the AL...He finished the game 0-for-2 with a run scored...Mullins received the most votes on the Player Ballot among American League outfielders...Mullins became the first O's outfielder to be named to the Mid-Summer classic since Mark Trumbo in 2016. Trey Mancini was selected to participate in the 36th MLB Home Run Derby (since 1985)...He finished as the runner-up behind Pete Alonso...His 59 home runs are the most by an O's batter in Home Run Derby history...He became the first O's participant since Mark Trumbo in 2016 and the 17th O's participant in Home Run Derby history.

Double-A Bowie C Adley Rutschman and Triple-A Norfolk RHP Marcos DiPlán were named to the AL team for the 2021 SiriusXM All-Star Futures Game...Rutschman, the No. 1 overall prospect in baseball, according to Baseball America and MLB Pipeline, went 0-for-1 with a walk...DiPlán pitched one third of an inning.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

GETTING ON THE BOARD: Marcos DiPlán recorded his first Major League win and Tyler Wells recorded his first Major League save on September 5 at New York-AL....It was the second time this season in which O's pitchers recorded their first career win and save in the same game; also June 29 at Houston - Alexander Wells (win) and Dillon Tate (save)...It was the 11th time this has happened for the O's, since saves became an official stat in 1969, with five of the 11 happening since 2018, according to STATS, LLC.

HANK AARON AWARD NOMINEE: Cedric Mullins was named one of seven American League finalists (Vladimir Guerrero, Jr., Aaron Judge, Shohei Ohtani, Matt Olson, Salvador Pérez, José Ramírez) for the Hank Aaron Award, an award that recognizes the most outstanding regular season offensive performer in each League since it was established in 1999...Each Club nominated one player from its team to be considered for the award and a panel of MLB.com writers determined the finalists for each league from the list of Club nominees...Guerrero, Jr. was announced during the World Series as the 2021 AL winner.

MVO AND HEART AND HUSTLE: Cedric Mullins was voted the unanimous winner of the 2021 Louis M. Hatter Most Valuable Oriole Award by members of the local media who cover the team on a regular basis...He was also named the Orioles 2021 recipient of the Heart and Hustle Award.

30 FOR 30: Cedric Mullins hit his 30th home run of the season, to match his 30 stolen bases, on September 24 vs. Texas to become the first player in franchise history (since 1954) – and only player in the majors in 2021 season – to record a season with at least 30 home runs and 30 stolen bases...He became the first player in the majors with a 30/30 season since Christian Yelich and Ronald Acuña, Jr. in 2019 and first in the AL since Mookie Betts and José Ramírez in 2018...Mullins is the first center fielder (at least 75% of games played in CF) with a 30/30 season since Mike Trout in 2012; there have now been 14 such seasons by a center fielder in Major League history and five in AL history (Mullins - 2021, Trout - 2012, Jacoby Ellsbury - 2011, Grady Sizemore - 2008, José Cruz - 2001).

Mullins is the 12th player in Major League history to record at least 30 home runs, 35 doubles, five triples, and 30 steals in a season and the first since Mookie Betts in 2018...He is the eighth player in Major League history to post such a stat line while also drawing at least 50 walks, joining Betts (2018), Ryan Braun and Jacoby Ellsbury (2011), Grady Sizemore (2008), Carlos Beltrán (2004), Ellis Burks (1996), and Barry Bonds (1992).

QUICK STARTER: Cedric Mullins batted .348/.383/.631 (49-for-141) in the first inning during the 2021 season...Mullins' 49 first-inning hits were the most in the majors and also the most in any single inning in the majors, one ahead of Trea Turner's 48 first-inning hits...Mullins' 22 first-inning extra-base hits (12-2B, 2-3B, 8 HR) also led all of baseball, one ahead of Shohei Ohtani's 21...His 22 extra-base hits in the first inning are tied for the second-most in Orioles history, along with Rafael Palmeiro (12-2B, 10 HR) in 1995 and trailing only Brady Anderson's 24 (10-2B, 3B, 13 HR) in 1996, while his 49 total first-inning hits are tied for the third-most in club history with Cal Ripken, Jr. in 1991 and trailing only Nick Markakis' 51 first-inning hits in 2014 and 52 in 2007.

Mullins' eight leadoff home runs were tied for the most in the majors (Kyle Schwarber, WSH/BOS) and finished as the second-most in a single season in Orioles history (since 1954), trailing only Brady Anderson's 12 in 1996...29 of his 30 homers came when batting leadoff (July 4 at LAA, entered the game as a pinch-hitter); Anderson (35, 1996) holds the franchise record for the most home runs while batting first, and is also the only player in O's history with more than 30 homers in a season out of the leadoff spot.

HIGH FIVE: Cedric Mullins recorded two five-hit games in 2021, April 4 at Boston and June 5 vs. Cleveland; the five-hit games are his career-high...He was the only player in the majors this season with multiple five-hit games...He is one of three players in Orioles history (since 1954) to record at least two five-hit games in a single season (Tommy Davis, 1974 - two and Luis Aparicio, 1966 - three).

In the game on June 5, Mullins also recorded two home runs, marking it the seventh time in Orioles history in which a player recorded at least five hits and two home runs in the same game (Hardy - 5/6/12, Mora - 8/17/08, Ripken, Jr. - 6/13/99, Anderson - 8/7/98, Ripken, Jr. - 9/3/83, and B. Robinson - 9/4/70)...It was the third time in club history in which a player finished 5-for-5 (B. Robinson - 9/4/70) or 6-for-6 (Ripken, Jr. - 6/13/99) with two home runs.

Mullins reached base safely in 11-straight plate appearances and recorded a hit in nine-straight at-bats from June 4-6.

HITTING IT OFF: Cedric Mullins hit safely in a career-high 20-straight games from July 20 - August 13; the third-longest hit-streak by a player last season (Castellanos, CIN - 21 and Fletcher, LAA - 26)...It was the longest hitting streak by an Oriole in 2021 and longest since Adam Jones also hit safely in 20-straight games from May 10-29, 2012...Mullins' streak was the 16th separate hitting streak of 20+ games in O's history...Mullins had three separate hitting streaks of at least 11 games and five of at least eight games in 2021.

AL ROOKIE OF THE YEAR CAMPAIGN: Ryan Mountcastle's 33 home runs led all Major League Rookies...He became the third rookie in the American League since 1990 to record a 33+ home run season (Judge, NYY - 52 in 2017, Abreu, CWS - 36 in 2014)...His 33 home runs are tied for the ninth-most by a rookie in AL history.

Mountcastle's 260 total bases ranked as the fourth-most in a single-season by an O's rookie, behind Orioles Legends and Hall of Famers Eddie Murray (287 in 1977) and Cal Ripken, Jr. (284 in 1982), and teammate Trey Mancini (265 in 2017)...His .4869 slugging percentage is the second-highest single-season mark by a rookie in franchise history, finishing just short of the .4880 record set by Mancini in 2017...His 57 extra-base hits rank third all-time among O's rookies, behind only Ripken, Jr. (65 - 1982) and Murray (58 - 1977)...His 89 RBI are the third-most in a single-season by an O's rookie, trailing only Jim Gentile (98 - 1960) and Cal Ripken, Jr. (93 - 1982).

Mountcastle slashed .444/.438/.944 (32-for-72) with 10 home runs when putting the first pitch of an at-bat in play...His 10 first-pitch homers finished tied for the fourth-most in the AL, while his .944 first-pitch slugging percentage finished as the eighth-highest in the AL.

LET THE KIDS RAKE: Ryan Mountcastle (33 HR) and Cedric Mullins (30 HR) each recorded 30+ home runs, marking the 12th time in franchise history (since 1954) that multiple Orioles hit at least 30 homers, and first since Trey Mancini (35 HR) and Renato Núñez (31 HR) in 2019...Mullins (26 years old at the time of his 30th home run) and Mountcastle (24 years old) are the third pair of O's hitters age 26-or-younger to hit 30+ homers in the same season, and first since 24-year-old Manny Machado (33 HR) and 25-year-old Jonathan Schoop (32 HR) in 2017 (also Chris Davis/Adam Jones in 2012).

Austin Hays (26 years old) tallied 22 homers on the year, marking the third time in team history that a trio of players age 26-or-younger hit at least 20 home runs, and the first since Machado, Schoop, and 25-year-old Mancini (24 HR) in 2017...The Orioles were one of four teams in the majors this season to have three players age 26-or-younger (as of June 30) hit at least 20 home runs, joining the Atlanta Braves (Acuña, Jr./Albies/Riley), Houston Astros (Álvarez/Correa/Tucker), and Tampa Bay Rays (Arozarena/Lowe/Meadows).

KING OF THE CASTLE: Ryan Mountcastle drove in at least one run in eight-straight games from May 31 - June 9, tied for the longest streak in the majors in 2021 and the longest streak by a rookie in club history (since 1954); the MLB record for consecutive games with an RBI by a rookie is 10...He became the first Oriole with an eight-game RBI streak since Anthony Santander did so from August 6-14, 2020; club record is 11-straight by Doug DeCinces (September 22, 1978 - April 6, 1979) and the club record for a single-season is 10-straight by Reggie Jackson (July 11-23, 1976)...Also had a seven-game RBI streak from July 30 - August 6.

YOUNG AND THE POWERFUL: Ryan Mountcastle's 33 homers led the O's, three ahead of Cedric Mullins...He became the first Orioles rookie to lead the team in home runs outright in a single-season since Curt Blefary in 1965; Jay Gibbons in 2001 (15 HR) was the last O's rookie to tie for the team lead in home runs.

Mountcastle's 19 home runs after the All-Star Break (61 G) led the O's and were the most by a rookie in the second-half, and tied for the seventh-most in the American League and tied for the 11th-most in the majors...His 19 homers post-All-Star Break are tied for the eighth-most all-time by an AL rookie.

SOMETHING EXTRA: Ryan Mountcastle recorded an extra-base hit in six-straight games from May 31 - June 6; the last Oriole with extra-base hits in six-straight games was Anthony Santander from August 25 - September 1, 2019; club record is nine-straight games...It was tied for the third-longest streak in the AL this season and tied for the ninth-longest stretch in the majors.

Mountcastle also recorded an RBI in each of these six games from May 31 - June 6...His streak of six-straight games with at least one extra-base hit and RBI is tied for the second-longest in Orioles history (last: Manny Machado from April 16-23, 2016), trailing only Reggie Jackson's streak of seven-straight from July 17-23, 1976.

YOUR AL PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Ryan Mountcastle was named the AL Player of the Week for the week ending June 6...It was his first career Player of the Week award and he became the second Oriole to win the award in 2021 (John Means - May 9)...During the week, Mountcastle slashed .458/.480/1.083 (11-for-24) with three doubles, four home runs, seven runs scored, and 10 RBI...He tied for the American League lead in total bases (26), extra-base hits (7), and slugging percentage (1.083), while also ranking tied for second in home runs (4), third in RBI (10) and OPS (1.563), and tied for third in hits (11), doubles (3), and runs scored (7).

YOUR JUNE AL ROOKIE OF THE MONTH: Ryan Mountcastle was named the American League Rookie of the Month for June...He became the first O's rookie to take home the AL monthly award since Brian Matusz in August of 2010...It was Mountcastle's second-career MLB Award, as he also took home the AL Player of the Week honors earlier in the year for the week ending June 6...He hit safely in 19 of 26 games during the month, with 10 multi-hit efforts...He slashed .327/.382/.634 (33-for-101) in June...He led AL rookies in hits (33), home runs (9), RBI (26), extra-base hits (13), total bases (64), batting average (.327), slugging (.634), and OPS (1.015) during the month.

KEEPING IT TIDY: John Means had a streak of six-straight starts allowing one-or-fewer total runs (September 8, 2020 - April 7, 2021), tied with Orioles Legend and Hall of Famer Jim Palmer (5/20-6/10/1978) for the O's club record.

During this stretch, Means went 3-1 with a 1.27 ERA (5 ER/35.1 IP) and 39 strikeouts...During Palmer's stretch, he went 5-0 with a 0.18 ERA (1 ER/50.1 IP) and 20 strikeouts; Palmer pitched four shutouts in this span.

The O's record for consecutive starts of allowing one-or-fewer earned runs is eight-straight, done by Palmer (5/20-6/18/1978); Means' six-straight such starts is tied for second in team history in this category (also: Tom Phoebus, 6/28-7/21/1968 and Hoyt Wilhelm, 9/20/1958-5/2/1959).

ALL ABOUT THE NO-NO: John Means threw the Orioles sixth no-hitter in team history (since 1954), and fourth individual no-hitter, on Wednesday, May 5, in Seattle...It was the O's first no-hitter since four O's pitchers (Bob Milacki, Mike Flanagan, Mark Williamson, Gregg Olson) combined for one on July 13, 1991 and the first individual no-hitter since Jim Palmer tossed one on August 13, 1969...Became the first left-handed pitcher to throw an individual no-hitter in Orioles history...It snapped the longest active drought by a team without an individual no-hitter among current franchises...Means became the third player born in the state of Kansas to throw a no-hitter in MLB history (Walter Johnson - 1920 and Claude Hendrix - 1915).

According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Means became the first pitcher in Major League history to throw a non-perfect no-hitter in which the team did not record a walk, hit-by-pitch, or an error.

Means became the eighth pitcher in MLB (since 1901) with a 9.0-inning complete game, allowing no hits or walks and striking out at least 12 batters in a start, the first since Max Scherzer in 2015 and just the second ever to do so in the American League (Félix Hernández, SEA - 2012).

According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Means' performance was the first non-perfect game since Terry Mulholland on August 15, 1990 with no walks or hit batters, while facing the minimum 27 batters.

According to MLB Stats, Means was the 12th pitcher since 1901 to face the minimum 27 batters in a 9.0-inning no-hitter without throwing a perfect game.

Means allowed only one batted ball with an exit velocity above 95 MPH, a 96.5 MPH pop out by Dylan Moore in the third inning.

Means recorded 26 swinging strikes (14 via the changeup, 8 via the four-seam fastball, 3 via the slider, and 1 via the curveball), the most in a game by an Orioles pitcher since pitch-tracking began in 2008.

Means threw a first-pitch strike to 26 of the 27 batters he faced (96.3%), the lone first-pitch ball was thrown to J.P. Crawford with two outs in the sixth inning, the 18th batter of the game; according to the Elias Sports Bureau, it was the highest first-pitch strike percentage in a complete game since 1990 and the second-highest first-pitch strike percentage by a pitcher in any game since 2000 (Brad Radke, MIN - 27-of-28, 96.4% in 2004).

It was the fourth no-hitter thrown on May 5 in MLB history (Cy Young - 1904, Ernie Koob - 1917, and Bo Belinsky - 1962).

YOUR AL PLAYER OF THE WEEK: John Means was named AL Player of the Week for the week of May 3-9...It was Means' first career Player of the Week award and he was the first Oriole to win the award since Trey Mancini won for the week ending September 22, 2019...Means was the first Orioles pitcher to win the AL Player of the Week award since Arthur Rhodes won it for the week ending August 7, 1994.

TOUGH STRETCH: The Orioles dropped 19-straight games from August 3-24, their second-longest losing streak in club history (since 1954), trailing only a 21-game stretch to begin the 1988 season...It was the longest losing streak in the majors this season and the longest since the Kansas City Royals also dropped 19-straight from July 28 - August 19, 2005...It's tied for the seventh-longest losing streak in the modern ERA (since 1901)...The 1988 Orioles were the last team to lose 20+ games in a row (21-straight), while the 1969 Montreal Expos were the last team to lose exactly 20-straight.

Four American League teams have lost at least 20-straight games (1906 Boston Americans - 20, 1916 Philadelphia Athletics - 20, 1943 Philadelphia Athletics - 20, and 1988 Baltimore Orioles - 21)...It was the O's second stretch of at least 14 consecutive losses on the season (also 14-straight from May 18-31)...It was the first time in American League history in which a team had two separate losing streaks of at least 13 games in a single season...It was the third time in Major League history (since 1901) in which a team had two separate losing streaks of at least 14 games in the same season; also the Boston Braves in 1935 (14-game and 15-game) and the Boston Rustlers in 1911 (14-game and 16-game).

The O's were outscored 163-55 (-108) during the streak and pitched to an 8.50 ERA (153 ER/162.0 IP), with their starters going 0-16 with a 9.11 ERA (81 ER/80.0 IP) and relievers going 0-3 and posting a 7.90 ERA (72 ER/82.0 IP)...The O's surrendered 8+ runs in 12 of the games during the stretch...The O's batted .244/.289/.416 with 25 home runs during the losing streak.

ROUGH ROAD: The Orioles lost 20-straight road games from May 11 - June 24...It's the longest road losing streak in O's franchise history (since 1954), surpassing a pair of 13-game losing streaks from April 13 - May 17, 2018 and April 8 - April 28, 1988.

The 20-straight road losses were the longest streak in the AL last season and the second-longest road losing streak in the majors, trailing only a 24-game road winless drought by the Arizona Diamondbacks (May 4 - June 25)...The O's streak is tied for the fourth-longest streak in MLB history; the Major League record is the 24-straight road losses by the 2021 D-backs. The O's 20-straight road losses are tied for the second-longest streak in AL history and the longest since the Philadelphia Athletics also lost 20-straight from June 27 - August 8, 1916; the Philadelphia Athletics also hold the top road losing streak in AL history (22 from July 11 - August 24, 1943).

The O's losing streak included six sweeps: by the Mets in two games at Citi Field (May 11-12); by the Nationals in three games at Nationals Park (May 21-23); by the Twins in three games at Target Field (May 24-26); by the White Sox in four games at Guaranteed Rate Field (May 27-30); by the Rays in three games at Tropicana Field (June 11-13); by the Indians in four games at Progressive Field (June 14-17).

Prior to a 3-2 loss at Citi Field on May 11, the Orioles had gone 11-6 on the road to open the season, the third-best road winning percentage in the majors (.647) at the time.

BATTLING THE RUNS: The Orioles allowed 9+ runs in six-straight games from August 3-10, including surrendering double-digit runs in four consecutive games from August 3-7 surpassing the franchise record of three-straight games, done 12 times (last: May 19-21, 2019)...The O's were outscored 63-23 (-40 run differential) during this span...The six-straight games allowing 9+ runs was the most in the majors since the Kansas City Royals also did so in six-straight from September 4-10, 2002...The Major League record for the most consecutive games allowing 9-or-more runs is seven, set by the New York Giants from September 3-6, 1901 and Seattle Mariners from August 13-20, 2000.

THE CENTURY CLUB: INF Trey Mancini hit his 99th and 100th career home runs on June 20 vs. Toronto...He became the fastest player in Orioles history, who began their career with Baltimore, to reach 100 career home runs (531 games)...It was his ninth career multi-home run game and second on the season (also May 19 vs. TB)...He became the 28th player in Orioles history (since 1954) to reach the 100 home run plateau.

Ryan Mountcastle played in his 100th career game on June 20 vs. Toronto...His 63 RBI in his first 100 career games is the most by an Oriole in club history, while his 106 hits (Wieters - 108 and Machado - 120) and 17 home runs (Mancini - 20 and Gibbons - 22) rank as the third-most, and his 35 extra-base hits tied for the fifth-most.

MAY MANCINI: Trey Mancini drove in a team-high 25 runs in 26 games in the month of May...His 25 RBI were the fourth-most in the AL in the month and the fifth-most in the majors...They were tied for the seventh-most runs driven in during the month of May in Orioles history (since 1954)...He slashed .320/.405/.588 (31-for-97) during the month.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE NOMINEE: Trey Mancini was named the Orioles' 2021 nominee for the prestigious Roberto Clemente Award...The most prominent individual player award bestowed by MLB, the Roberto Clemente Award is the annual recognition of a player from each club who best represents the game of baseball through extraordinary character, sportsmanship, community involvement, philanthropy, and positive contributions, both on and off the field.

SANTANDER STREET: Anthony Santander hit a home run onto Eutaw Street in back-to-back games from August 10-11...He became the third player to record a Eutaw Street home run in back-to-back games, joining Jason Giambi (NYY) from May 27-28, 2008 and Chris Davis from August 17-18, 2016; no player has ever gone three-straight games with a Eutaw Street home run...He recorded four total Eutaw Street home runs in 2021 and now has seven for his career...The four Eutaw Street homers in a single-season set a ballpark record, while his seven total Eutaw Street home runs rank as the second-most (Chris Davis - 11)...His Eutaw Street homer on August 24 traveled an estimated 443 feet, tied for the second-longest Eutaw Street home run in ballpark history (Henry Rodriguez, MON - June 17, 1997), trailing only Lance Berkman's home run on June 30, 2011 that traveled 444 feet.

MAGNIFICENT MATT: RHP Matt Harvey worked 18.1 scoreless innings in three-straight starts from July 18-30; ended with a streak of 21.1-straight scoreless innings from July 18 - August 4...It was the first time in his career that he worked three-straight scoreless outings and his 21.1 consecutive scoreless innings were also a career-best, eclipsing his two 16.0-inning streaks in 2015 while with the Mets.

Harvey's stretch was the longest by an Oriole pitcher during the 2021 season...According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the last Orioles pitcher with a scoreless streak of 21.1+ IP was Zack Britton from June 22 - August 22, 2016 (21.2 IP), and the last with a 22.0+ inning scoreless streak was Steve Johnson from August 25 - September 29, 2012 (25.1 IP). Harvey's streak of three-consecutive scoreless starts matched the Orioles club record, done nine total times and only four times since 1968, accomplished most recently by Kevin Gausman from August 23 - September 3, 2016 (19.0 IP). Harvey was one of four pitchers in the majors this season to make three-straight starts of at least 6.0 innings pitched without allowing a run (Kwang Hyun Kim, STL - July 5-17, Jacob deGrom, NYM - May 31 - June 11, Corbin Burnes, MIL - April 8-20)...It was the first time an AL pitcher accomplished this feat since Ryan Yarbrough, Tampa Bay from July 20 - August 17, 2019 (21.0 IP).

MAMBO NO. 5: Rule 5 selection, Tyler Wells' 4.11 ERA finished as the second-lowest in the Orioles bullpen, minimum five appearances (Sulser, 2.70)...From June 1 - September 8, he made 25 appearances and posted a 1.74 ERA (6 ER/31.0 IP) with 36 strikeouts; he allowed runs in just three of the 25 games and went 11-straight outings (July 17 - September 8) without allowing a run.

Wells' 5.42 strikeout/walk ratio (65 K/12 BB) led all rookie relievers and ranked seventh among all relievers in the AL and 13th in the majors.

His 0.912 WHIP was the lowest among rookie relievers and the fourth-lowest among all American League relievers and ninth in the majors.

He made 19 appearances on the road, posting a 1.14 ERA (3 ER/23.2 IP), compared to a 6.21 ERA (23 ER/33.1 IP) in 25 games at home; had a 0.82 ERA (1 ER/11.0 IP) in nine games on the road against the AL East.

STRONG CLOSING ARGUMENT: Austin Hays reached base safely in 20-straight games to close out the season...He reached base safely in 37 of his final 38 games of the season, dating back to August 24...He hit safely in 34 of his last 38 games (since August 24) and in 49 of his last 58 games (since August 1).

His 31 extra-base hits (16-2B, 2-3B, 13 HR) after the All-Star Break led the O's along with his 71 total hits, while his 40 RBI finished as the second-most (Mountcastle - 41).

MLB FIRST-YEAR PLAYER DRAFT: The Orioles selected 21 players overall in the 2021 First-Year Player Draft: 12 position players and nine pitchers, with 20 of the selections being college athletes...The Orioles selected nine right-handed pitchers, six outfielders, four infielders, and two catchers.

The Orioles selected OF Colton Cowser from Sam Houston State University (TX) with the fifth overall selection of the 2021 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft.

Cowser hit .374/.490/.680 (76-for-203) with 16 home runs, 10 doubles, two triples, 61 runs, 52 RBI, and 42 walks in 55 games during his junior season in 2021 and was named the Southland Conference Player of the Year.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING: The Orioles at Rays MLB Game of the Week Live on YouTube broadcast on July 20 was handled by five talented broadcasters, including Orioles own Melanie Newman who handled play-by-play duties...Newman joined MLB.com's Sarah Langs as the color analyst, MLB Network's Alanna Rizzo as the on-field reporter, and Heidi Watney and Lauren Gardner, each of MLB Network, handling both pre-and-postgame coverage...It marked the first all-woman broadcast crew in Major League Baseball history.

DEADLINE MOVES: The Orioles acquired minor league Tyler Burch from the Philadelphia Phillies in exchange for Freddy Galvis and also traded away Triple-A pitcher Shawn Armstrong to the Tampa Bay Rays for cash considerations on July 30.

HAPPY RETIREMENT, CHRIS: Chris Davis announced his retirement on August 12...Davis joined the Orioles organization after being acquired from the Texas Rangers on July 30, 2011...He was an integral part of a five-year stretch that led to three playoff appearances for the Orioles, including the club's ninth American League East division title, two American League Wild Card appearances, and the most wins in the American League from 2012-16...During his tenure in Birdland, he appeared in 1,151 games for the O's, connected on 253 home runs, was named an All-Star starter, Silver Slugger Award winner, three-time Roberto Clemente nominee, and finished in the top three of MVP voting...He ranks in the top 15 in Orioles history in home runs (253 – 7th), walks (491 – 10th), RBI (656 – 11th), extra-base hits (433 – 12th), runs scored (592 – 14th), and games played (1,151 – 15th)...His 142 home runs at Oriole Park at Camden Yards are the second-most in the ballpark's history, while his 11 Eutaw Street home runs top all players.

MOTHER NATURE NOTES: The Orioles had 13 games affected by weather this season, with five postponements and eight weather delays...The O's participated in four doubleheaders, due to weather rescheduling, with the first postponement happening on Opening Day and being rescheduled for the following open schedule day...Three of the postponements and five of the delays came at Oriole Park...The O's had one game that had multiple delays, June 21 vs. Houston (start of the game and the top of the eighth inning)...In total, the O's had 8:24 of weather delays...The warmest game time temperature came on August 12 vs. Detroit and the coldest game time temperature came on Opening Day, April 2 at Boston.

TIE GAMES

The Orioles have played 12 tie games; all except one were in Baltimore (one each in '03, '01, '96, '82, and eight others between '55 and '64). Most were Baltimore curfew related. Those curfews, which prohibited starting an inning after 11:50 p.m. six days a week and required the immediate suspension of play at 11:50 p.m. on Saturdays, are no longer in effect. Tie games were played against: Chicago White Sox-4, New York Yankees-3, Kansas City A's-3, Milwaukee Brewers-1, Texas Rangers-1.

2021 MINOR LEAGUE RECAP

The 2021 season saw Minor League Baseball return to communities throughout Birdland, while the Orioles continued their rise through the rankings to be named the No. 1 farm system in all of baseball, according to MLB Pipeline, as well as the No. 2 farm system, according to Baseball America's midseason update. At the end of the year, the Orioles boasted the top overall prospect in the game in C Adley Rutschman, as well as the highest-ranked pitching prospect in RHP Grayson Rodriguez. It marked only the second time since MLB Pipeline began its rankings in 2004 that the same team claimed the game's top position prospect and top pitching prospect.

Overall, the Orioles have five prospects in Baseball America's 2022 Top 100: C Adley Rutschman (No. 1), RHP Grayson Rodriguez (No. 6), LHP DL Hall (No. 55), INF Gunnar Henderson (No. 60), and OF Colton Cowser (No. 98).

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

MINOR LEAGUE PLAYERS OF THE YEAR

In their first full professional seasons, the Orioles selected C Adley Rutschman and OF Kyle Stowers as the club's top minor league players, while RHP Grayson Rodriguez was named the club's top minor league pitcher for the second-straight season.

Rutschman, the Brooks Robinson Minor League Co-Player of the Year, became the No. 1 ranked prospect in all of baseball according to Baseball America and MLB Pipeline after Tampa Bay Rays infielder Wander Franco graduated from prospect status. He led all Orioles minor leaguers with an .899 OPS in 123 games between Double-A Bowie and Triple-A Norfolk. He began the year with the Baysox, slashing .271/.392/.508 (80-for-295) with 16 doubles, 18 home runs, 61 runs scored, 55 walks, and 55 RBI in 80 games en route to being selected to the 2021 SiriusXM All-Star Futures Game. Rutschman was promoted to the Tides on August 10, where he slashed .312/.405/.490 (49-for-157) with nine doubles, two triples, five home runs, 25 runs scored, 24 walks, and 20 RBI in 43 games. Overall, he posted a .285/.397/.502 (129-for-452) slash line with 25 doubles, two triples, 23 home runs, 86 runs scored, 79 walks, and 75 RBI between Bowie and Norfolk. He earned Orioles Minor League Player of the Month honors in August after batting .337/.408/.511 (31-for-92) with a .919 OPS, seven doubles, three home runs, 16 runs scored, 11 RBI, and nine walks in 24 games between Bowie and Norfolk. He was also named Double-A Northeast Player of the Week for the week of July 19-25. He slashed .409/.552/.955 (9-for-22) in six games for the Baysox in that span, with a 1.507 OPS, three doubles, three home runs, seven runs scored, 11 RBI, and seven walks.

Stowers, the Brooks Robinson Minor League Co-Player of the Year, led all Orioles minor leaguers with 27 home runs, 51 extra-base hits, 231 total bases, and 85 RBI. He began the season with High-A Aberdeen before being promoted to Double-A Bowie on June 22 and Triple-A Norfolk on September 7, appearing in a total of 124 games across three levels of the Orioles system and slashing .278/.383/.514 (125-for-449). He notched two multi-homer games for the Baysox last season and registered a career-high four RBI on September 3 prior to his promotion to Norfolk. He earned Orioles Minor League Player of the Month honors in July after batting .340/.436/.640 (34-for-100) with a 1.076 OPS, nine doubles, seven home runs, 17 runs scored, 15 RBI, and 16 walks in 27 games for the Baysox. He is rated as the No. 11 prospect in the Orioles system by MLB Pipeline and No. 17 by Baseball America.

Rodriguez, the Jim Palmer Minor League Pitcher of the Year, helped lead Bowie to the Double-A Northeast Championship following his promotion on June 1. Prior to his promotion, he was named the Orioles Minor League Pitcher of the Month and High-A East Pitcher of the Month for May after going 3-0 with a 1.54 ERA (4 ER/23.1 IP), five walks, 40 strikeouts, and a 0.69 WHIP in five starts for High-A Aberdeen. He was named High-A East Pitcher of the Week on May 23 after tossing 6.0 scoreless innings with one hit and eight strikeouts in the IronBirds' victory on May 21. He went 6-1 in 18 regular season starts for the Baysox, posting a 2.60 ERA (23 ER/79.2 IP), with 22 walks against 121 strikeouts. His 121 strikeouts led all Double-A Northeast hurlers and ranked tied for fourth in all of Double-A baseball. He is rated as the No. 2 prospect in the Orioles system by Baseball America and MLB Pipeline, as well as the No. 1 pitching prospect in baseball. He is ranked as the game's No. 6 prospect by Baseball America and No. 8 by MLB Pipeline.

ORIOLES DRAFT NOTES

The 2022 First-Year Player Draft will be held in Los Angeles during All-Star Week from July 17-19. This year, the Orioles will have the first overall pick, the third time in franchise history that the club has held the No. 1 pick and the fourth consecutive year in which the club has held one of the top five picks. Since the First-Year Player Draft began in 1965, 31 of Baltimore's 55 first round selections have gone on to appear in the Major Leagues. Of those 31 players, 25 made their Major League debut with the Orioles.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC ACADEMY

After announcing plans in March of 2021 to develop a new, state-of-the-art training academy in Guerra, Dominican Republic, the Orioles officially broke ground on the project in October of that year. The 22.5-acre complex will be home to the Orioles' regional facility for Caribbean, Central, and South American player development operations, which will include three full fields, a sports turf agility field, batting and pitching tunnels, administrative buildings, dormitories, and educational facilities.

The project is being led by landowner and developer Brian Mejia of Brison SRL. The Orioles have been represented by renowned Dominican academy architect, José Mella. Mella is considered one of the foremost training facility architects in the Dominican Republic and has designed around half of the current academies in the DR today.

Once complete, the complex will house over 100 players, coaches, and staff, providing dormitory style rooms and entertainment spaces. It will include three classrooms and a computer lab, which will provide on-site learning and an education plan for each player. The complex will also be home to a dining room that will offer daily nutritious meals.

The complex – a 20-minute drive from Las Américas International Airport – is near several other Major League Baseball academies, allowing for a competitive schedule to be developed.

The project has a 12-16 month timetable for completion. For additional information, stories, and videos regarding the announcement, along with updates throughout the process, please visit Orioles.com/DominicanAcademy.

CAL RIPKEN, SR. AWARD

The manager of the Bowie Baysox in 2021, BUCK BRITTON was named the winner of the Cal Ripken, Sr. Player Development Award, named for the late Orioles coach and manager who is widely regarded as the architect of "The Oriole Way." Each year, a minor league staff member who exemplifies Ripken's qualities as an instructor is recognized with the award. In his fourth season as a coach in the Orioles system, and second as Bowie's manager, Britton led the Baysox to a 73-47 record, earning a trip to the 2021 Double-A Northeast Championship. Due to the cancellation of the 2020 Minor League season because of the COVID-19 pandemic, it was Britton's second-straight season leading his club to the finals, after playing in the 2019 Eastern League Championship Series.

HOMER'S ODYSSEY

Jonathan Villar hit his 21st home run of the season on September 11, 2019, against Los Angeles-NL off of LHP Caleb Ferguson. The homer, a three-run shot in the seventh inning that gave the O's a 5-2 lead, was the 6,106th of the 2019 Major League season, surpassing the previous single-season record of 6,105 home runs in 2017. The bat that Villar used to hit the historic home run was sent to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown.

EUTAW STREET HOME RUNS (1992-2021)

Of the 113 home runs hit onto the Eutaw Street promenade since Oriole Park opened in 1992, Orioles batters have hit 53, including 11 by Chris Davis, the most by an individual. Anthony Santander's seven Eutaw St. home runs are the second-most by an individual, while Jason Giambi's three are the most by an opposing player. Santander's four Eutaw St. home runs in 2021 are a single-season ballpark record, and he also slugged the 100th Eutaw St. home run in the history of Oriole Park at Camden Yards on June 29, 2019. A season-high 11 homers landed on Eutaw St. in 2012. Luke Scott's blast on July 19, 2008 was the only walk-off Eutaw St. home run in park history until August 11, 2019, when Rio Ruiz clubbed a two-run home run in the bottom of the ninth inning to give the Orioles their first walk-off win of the season.

NOTES: The O's have out-slammed their opponents, 267-246, in their 68-year regular season history...The Orioles have hit three postseason grand slams (one on the road and two in Baltimore - one at Memorial Stadium (McNally 1970) and Oriole Park (Bonilla 1996))...They have a 154-137 advantage in Baltimore during the regular season, including an 80-68 edge at Oriole Park at Camden Yards...A BIG MONTH: Manny Machado hit three grand slams in August of 2017, becoming the 10th player in Major League Baseball history, and the first in Orioles history, to hit three grand slams in one calendar month...

TWO IN ONE INNING: Steve Clevenger and Nolan Reimold each slugged a grand slam in the bottom of the eighth inning on September 11, 2015, the first set of teammates to each hit a grand slam in the same inning since Carlos Beltran and Cliff Floyd of the New York Mets on July 16, 2006 vs. Chicago-NL...THREE IN ONE GAME: The Orioles and Rangers combined to hit three grand slams on August 6, 1986 in the Rangers' 13-11 win at Memorial Stadium...Jim Dwyer and Larry Sheets hit fourth inning grand slams for the Orioles...TWO IN ONE GAME: An Oriole has hit two grand slams in the same game three times...Chris Holles hit a pair of grand slams on August 14, 1998, at Cleveland...Jim Gentile and Frank Robinson previously did it for the O's, and are among four players who have done it in consecutive at bats...Gentile hit slams in the first and second innings at Minnesota on May 9, 1961, while Robinson did so in the fifth and sixth innings at Washington on June 26, 1970...GENTILE HIT FIVE IN 1961: Gentile set an American League record and tied the Major League record then held by the Cubs' Ernie Banks when he hit five grand slams in 1961...The Yankees' Don Mattingly broke the mark with six grand slams in 1987 and Cleveland's Travis Hafner matched the record in 2006...POSTSEASON SLAMMING

PITCHERS: Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally are the only two Major League pitchers to hit grand slams in postseason play, and both did it in 1970 with the Orioles...Cuellar connected in ALCS Game 1 off the Twins' Jim Perry, the first grand slam in LCS history...McNally hit his in World Series Game 3 off the Reds' Wayne Granger at Memorial Stadium...GOPHER PITCHERS: Milt Pappas gave up six grand slams as an Oriole, most by any O's hurler...Pappas gave up nine overall in his career, for the sixth-highest total of career grand slams allowed in Major League history...Jake Arrieta, Scott McGregor, Dave McNally, Alan Mills, Jesse Orosco, and Chris Ray are next among Oriole pitchers, allowing four apiece...

Jim Palmer never allowed a grand slam in 558 games spanning 3,948.0 innings.

NOTES ON 20-GAME WINNERS

Although the Orioles have not had one in the past 37 seasons, Baltimore pitchers have produced 24 20-win seasons, including 23 in the past 53 years (starting in '68), more than any other Major League club. The A's (17), Yankees (16), Cardinals (13), Dodgers (13), Red Sox (13), Astros (12), White Sox (12), Braves (12), Tigers (11), Cubs (10), and Twins (10) are the only other teams with 10-or-more since 1968.

In 1971, four Baltimore pitchers reached the 20-win plateau, becoming the second foursome in the history of Major League Baseball to have achieved the feat, joining a quartet from the 1920 White Sox (51 years earlier): Urban "Red" Faber-23, Claude Williams-22, Dickie Kerr-21, and Ed Cicotte-21.

Steve Stone was the earliest 20-game winner in club history, winning his 20th game on August 19, 1980, en route to a team-record 25 victories. Three other Orioles hurlers have recorded their 20th wins in August: Dave McNally (August 25) and Mike Cuellar (August 27) in 1971, and Jim Palmer (August 20) in 1975.

The first Oriole to win 20, and the only one in the club's first 14 seasons in Baltimore (1954 through 1967), was left-hander Steve Barber in 1963.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

BALTIMORE ORIOLES GOLD GLOVE AWARDS

The Gold Glove Award was initiated in 1957 by the Rawlings Sporting Goods Company in cooperation with The Sporting News to acknowledge individual defensive excellence by a vote of managers and coaches in each league.

Gold Glove totals by each team: Cardinals 96, ORIOLES 71, Yankees 66, Braves 58, Reds 55, Pirates 50, Red Sox 49, Phillies 47, Dodgers 46, Giants 44, Twins 44, Cubs 43, Tigers 43, Mariners 42, Rangers 41, Angels 40, Royals 38, White Sox 37, Indians 36, Astros 29, Athletics 27, Blue Jays 25, Rockies 25, Expos/Nationals 23, Padres 23, Mets 20, D-backs 17, Marlins 12, Brewers 11, and Rays 9.

A total of 17 Orioles have won Gold Gloves, with all 17 winning multiple times, led by Brooks Robinson, who is tied with pitcher Jim Kaat for second place all-time with 16 Gold Gloves. Greg Maddux is first all-time with 18 Gold Gloves. Manny Machado earned his second career Gold Glove award in 2015 (also, 2013).

Orioles winners include: Paul Blair and Mark Belanger (eight each); Adam Jones, Jim Palmer, Bobby Grich, and Mike Mussina (four each); J.J. Hardy, Davey Johnson, and Eddie Murray (three each); Roberto Alomar, Luis Aparicio, Manny Machado, Nick Markakis, Rafael Palmeiro, Cal Ripken, Jr., and Matt Wieters (two each). Alomar won a total of 10 Gold Gloves in his career, Aparicio won nine total, Mussina seven total, and Palmeiro three total.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES SILVER SLUGGER AWARDS

The Silver Slugger Award was initiated at the end of the 1980 season by Hillerich & Bradsby, the maker of Louisville Slugger bats, to honor the best offensive player at each position by a vote of managers and coaches around the league.

A total of 13 Orioles have won Silver Sluggers, with three winning multiple times, led by Cal Ripken, Jr., with eight Silver Sluggers. Cedric Mullins earned his first-career Silver Slugger in 2021, becoming the first Oriole to win the award since Mark Trumbo in 2016. Mullins is the third outfielder in Orioles history to have won the award. Of the 22 Silver Sluggers in O's history, 11 have been won by a shortstop.

Orioles winners include: Cal Ripken, Jr. (eight); Eddie Murray and Miguel Tejada (two each); Roberto Alomar, Chris Davis, J.J. Hardy, Aubrey Huff, Adam Jones, Melvin Mora, Cedric Mullins, Rafael Palmeiro, Mickey Tettleton, and Mark Trumbo (one each).

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

ALL-STAR NOTES

BIRDS OF A FEATHER: The Orioles have had 24 All-Stars over the last 10 seasons (since 2012)...According to STATS, LLC., the 24 Orioles All-Stars since 2012 are tied for the sixth-most in the American League and are tied for 11th in the majors...The Dodgers have the MLB lead with 34 All-Stars since 2012...The Orioles are one of 20 teams with at least 20 All-Stars over the last nine seasons.

ROOKIE SENSATION: LHP John Means was named to the 2019 American League All-Star team as the Orioles' lone representative...According to STATS, LLC., Means was the fifth rookie in Orioles history (since 1954), and first since 1966, to be named to the All-Star team...He joined RHP Chuck Estrada (1960), 1B Jim Gentile (1960), INF Ron Hansen (1960), and C Andy Etchebarren (1966) as O's rookie All-Stars...He became the first homegrown O's starter to make the All-Star team since Hall of Famer Mike Mussina.

DOUBLE-PLAY DUOS: In 2005, INF Brian Roberts and INF Miguel Tejada became the first Orioles teammates to start in the All-Star Game since INF Roberto Alomar and INF Cal Ripken, Jr. each started in 1998...They were the third 2B-SS tandem from the same team to start for the AL since fan balloting returned in 1970, joining New York's INF Willie Randolph and INF Bucky Dent in 1981 along with Alomar and Ripken in 1996.

CAL'S FINALE: INF Cal Ripken, Jr., playing in his final All-Star Game, homered on the first pitch he saw in the third inning and went on to win his second All-Star MVP Award in the 2001 All-Star Game at Seattle's Safeco Field...Ripken, the lone Oriole selected to play in the game, led off the inning and turned on the first pitch from Los Angeles' RHP Chan Ho Park to give the American League a 1-0 lead it would not relinquish...It was the 19th time Ripken was either elected or selected to the AL All-Star squad, breaking INF Brooks Robinson's AL mark; he technically started at shortstop after Texas' INF Alex Rodriguez 'pushed' him to the position and played third base himself in the first inning...Ripken also won MVP honors in the 1991 game, homering at Toronto...With the 2001 home run, he became the oldest player (40) to homer in an All-Star Game and the only Oriole to homer twice in All-Star play.

OLDEST AND YOUNGEST: Ripken's appearance in the 2001 All-Star Game in Seattle made him, at 40 years and nearly 11 months, the oldest Oriole to take part in an All-Star Game...Harold Baines was 40 years and 4 months old when he made his sixth and final American League All-Star team with the Orioles in 1999 at Boston's Fenway Park...The youngest Oriole selected to an AL All-Star team was pitcher Jerry Walker, who was 20 years and 5 months old when he was named to the staff for the second of two All-Star games played in 1959...Walker started and went 3.0 innings on the mound in the game, which was played the Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

MOST MOST VALUABLES: Oriole players have won six All-Star Game MVP Awards (now known as the Ted Williams Most Valuable Player Award), tied with the San Francisco Giants for the most among all teams since the award's inception in 1962...Cal Ripken, Jr. was a two-time winner (1991 at Toronto, 2001 at Seattle)...Other Orioles to win the award are Brooks Robinson (1964 at St. Louis), Frank Robinson (1971 at Detroit), Roberto Alomar (1998 at Colorado), and Miguel Tejada (2005 at Detroit)...Ripken is one of five players to win two All-Star Game MVP Awards, along with Willie Mays, Steve Garvey, Gary Carter, and Mike Trout.

ALL-STAR STARTS/APPEARANCES: INF Cal Ripken, Jr. was elected to start 18 years, 17 of those by fan vote...He was unable to play because of injury in 2000...Other Orioles elected to starting berths are 3B Brooks Robinson (four times); INF Roberto Alomar and OF Adam Jones (three times); INF Boog Powell, OF Frank Robinson, and INF Manny Machado (two each); and C Terry Kennedy, INF Bobby Grich, OF Ken Singleton, INF Eddie Murray, OF Brady Anderson, INF Brian Roberts, INF Miguel Tejada, INF Chris Davis, INF J.J. Hardy, DH Nelson Cruz.

ORIOLES ALL-STAR HOMERS: INF Miguel Tejada's home run in the 2005 game at Detroit was the seventh overall by an Oriole in an All-Star Game...INF Cal Ripken, Jr. also hit two home runs in All-Star Games, in 1991 (July 9 at Toronto off RHP Dennis Martinez, two on) and 2001 (July 10 at Seattle off RHP Chan Ho Park, solo)...The others were by INF Brooks Robinson (July 11, 1967 at Anaheim off RHP Fergie Jenkins, solo); OF Frank Robinson (July 13, 1971 at Detroit off RHP Dock Ellis, one on); OF Ken Singleton (August 9, 1981 at Cleveland off RHP Tom Seaver, solo); and INF Roberto Alomar (July 7, 1998 at Colorado off RHP Trevor Hoffman, solo).

BALTIMORE AS ALL-STAR HOST: The Orioles have played host to two All-Star Games...The 25th Midsummer Classic was held at Memorial Stadium in 1958, and the 64th All-Star Game was held at Oriole Park in 1993...On July 8, 1958, Orioles pitcher LHP Billy O'Dell retired the final nine batters as the AL posted a 4-3 win before 48,829 fans at Memorial Stadium...Baltimore's C Gus Triandos was the starting catcher, and 11 future Hall of Famers saw action in the game...In its second year of existence, Oriole Park at Camden Yards played host to baseball's first-ever All-Star Week, including the AL's 9-3 win on July 13, 1993...The game drew 48,147 fans...INF Cal Ripken was the only Oriole to appear in the game, going 0-for-3...RHP Mike Mussina was selected to the team but did not get into the game...FanFest, the baseball theme park that is now a part of All-Star Week, drew 111,883 visitors during the five-day celebration...Perhaps the most lasting memories from All-Star Week '93 came on Monday, July 12, at the annual Gatorade All-Star Workout...OF Juan Gonzalez crushed a ball off the facing of the upper deck in left field, and OF Ken Griffey, Jr. became the first player to hit the B&O Warehouse during the Home Run Derby.

HOME RUN DERBY NOTES

MANCINI'S EPIC PERFORMANCE: Trey Mancini finished as the runner-up in the 2021 T-Mobile Home Run Derby behind New York Mets slugger Pete Alonso, who repeated as champion...Mancini, the No. 6 seed, defeated Oakland's Matt Olson (No. 3 seed) in the opening round of the bracket-style format, 24-23, setting a new franchise record for the most home runs in a single round...He then defeated Colorado's Trevor Story (No. 7 seed), 13-12, in the semifinals, before falling to No. 5 seed Alonso, 23-22, in the championship round at Coors Field in Colorado...Mancini's 59 total home runs are the most hit by an Orioles batter in Home Run Derby history...Mancini's pitcher for the Derby was Notre Dame Fighting Irish baseball team assistant coach Chuck Ristano, who also threw to Mancini when he captured the 2012 Big East Home Run Derby.

ORIOLES DERBY WINNERS: A last-minute replacement to the 2004 Home Run Derby at Minute Maid Park in Houston, Miguel Tejada set records at the time for home runs in one round (15) and overall (27) to win the contest...He was the second Oriole to win the derby, joining Cal Ripken, Jr., who hit 12 homers at Toronto's SkyDome in 1991.

ORIOLES DERBY PARTICIPANTS: Mark Trumbo competed in the 2016 T-Mobile Home Run Derby...Trumbo, the No. 1 seed, defeated Corey Seager in the opening round, 16-15, before falling to No. 5 seed and eventual Home Run Derby champion Giancarlo Stanton of the Miami Marlins in the semifinals, 17-14...A No. 5 seed in the 2015 Home Run Derby, Manny Machado was defeated by the Dodgers' Joc Pederson (No. 4 seed) in the first round of the bracket format, 13-12...In 2014, Adam Jones was selected by captain Jose Bautista to represent the AL at Target Field (Minneapolis)...After blasting four in the first round, Jones was ousted by Yoenis Cespedes in the second round, finishing with seven home runs total...After leading the majors in homers at the break, Chris Davis took part in the 2013 Home Run Derby at Citi Field in New York...He finished fourth...In addition to winning the 2004 Home Run Derby, Miguel Tejada also took part in the 2006 Home Run Derby in Detroit after declining to participate in the 2005 contest, instead bowing to David Ortiz to represent the Dominican Republic in the revised United States vs. the World format...Rafael Palmeiro participated in the 2004 Home Run Derby at Minute Maid Park, advancing to the semifinals and finishing third with 14 home runs, as well as the 1998 Home Run Derby at Coors Field...B.J. Surhoff appeared in the 1999 Home Run Derby at Fenway Park in Boston...Brady Anderson appeared in back-to-back Home Run Derby contests: in 1996 at Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia and 1997 at Jacobs Field in Cleveland...Mickey Tettleton participated in the 1989 Home Run Derby at Anaheim Stadium...Cal Ripken, Jr. and Eddie Murray represented the Orioles in the inaugural Home Run Derby in 1985 at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome in Minneapolis...After his win in 1991, Ripken was unable to repeat as Derby champion in the 1992 Home Run Derby at Jack Murphy Stadium in San Diego.

After a 14-year hiatus, the Orioles returned to the postseason in 2012, meeting the Texas Rangers in the first-ever American League Wild Card Game. The Orioles won, 5-1, to move on to the ALDS against the New York Yankees.

The Orioles and Yankees squared off in the ALDS with the teams alternating wins throughout. With the series tied at two games apiece, the Yankees closed out the series with a 3-1 victory in New York in Game 5, eliminating the Orioles from the playoffs.

2014

The Orioles finished the season with the second-best record in Major League Baseball at 96-66 and their first American League East division title since 1997. The Birds would draw the American League Central division champion Detroit Tigers in the ALDS, and faced the AL's last three Cy Young Award winners at the time in Max Scherzer, Justin Verlander, and David Price. The Orioles won each of the first two games in Baltimore and took the first game in Detroit to sweep the series 3-0 and advance to the ALCS to take on the Kansas City Royals.

The Orioles dropped each of the first two games in Baltimore to the Royals. The series then shifted to Kansas City where the Royals would pull out 2-1 wins in both Games 3 and 4 to complete the sweep of Baltimore and eliminate the Orioles.

For the third time in five seasons, the Orioles advanced to postseason play, clinching a berth in the American League Wild Card Game. Baltimore traveled to Toronto to take on the Blue Jays at Rogers Centre for the one-game playoff on October 4. The Blue Jays would prevail in 11 innings on an Edwin Encarnación walk-off home run, knocking the Orioles out of the playoffs after just one game.

BASEBALL IN BALTIMORE

1872 – The Lord Baltimores, the city's first professional team, began play in the National Association. In their inaugural game on April 18 in Washington, they beat the Olympics, 16-0. In their home opener on April 22, before 3,500 fans at Newington Park (on Pennsylvania Avenue below Baker Street), they beat the New York Mutuals, 14-9. The team folded in its third season as a rival franchise, the Maryland Base Ball Club, turned from amateur to professional and took its place in the league through 1874. By 1875 the National Association itself had folded.

1882 – A newly formed Lord Baltimores team made its debut in the American Association, a new rival to the National League. A year later, the franchise moved to newly built Oriole Park (on the southwest corner of what is now Greenmount Avenue and 25th Street) and adopted the name "Orioles," the first time that Maryland's state bird was used as a nickname in association with Baltimore's professional baseball team.

1884 – Two more Baltimore teams were formed. One, also named the Orioles, played in the new Union Association; by mid-season they were transferred to Lancaster, Pa., and the league folded after one season. The other, the Monumentals, became a charter member of the Eastern Association, which would become today's International League, but the team broke up after a mere 13 games.

1892 – Baltimore joined the National League. Games were played at Union Park, a 12,000-seat stadium at the northeast corner of Barclay and 25th Street.

1894-1896 – With innovative Ned Hanlon as manager, the scrappy Orioles won three straight National League pennants, led by future Hall of Famers John McGraw, Dan Brouthers, Joe Kelley, Willie Keeler, and Hughie Jennings.

1899 – With most of their star players having been sold to Brooklyn, the Orioles finished their eighth season before folding. There would be no professional team in Baltimore as the new century dawned.

1901 – A new Baltimore Orioles team joined the upstart American League, with John McGraw as manager and an overflow crowd of 10,371 at Opening Day. The Orioles played two seasons in Baltimore before folding. The league awarded a new team to New York to fill the vacancy. That team, the Highlanders, eventually became the New York Yankees.

1903 – A minor league team using the name Baltimore Orioles joined the Eastern League. They were in existence for nine seasons, playing at American League Park, at York Road and 29th Street. The team won the league pennant in 1908 under second-year manager Jack Dunn.

1912 – The minor league Orioles joined the International League. They were a part of the league for the next 42 seasons until Major League Baseball returned.

1914 – A second Baltimore team, the Terrapins (named for an edible type of turtle common to the state of Maryland), entered the newly formed Federal League. The league folded after just two seasons. The team played at Terrapin Park, built on the west side of Greenmount Avenue between 29th and 30th street; two years later, Jack Dunn bought the ballpark and renamed it Oriole Park.

1914 – Jack Dunn, owner, general manager, and manager of the International League Orioles, signed 19-year-old George Herman Ruth out of a Baltimore orphanage. Oriole players kid Dunn about his "babe," and a nickname was born. By July, Babe Ruth was sold to the Boston Red Sox.

1919-1925 – The Orioles, led by Dunn, won a record seven straight International League titles. For five of those years (1920-24), future Hall of Famer Lefty Grove lead the pitching staff, going 108-36.

1920s-40s – The city fielded two teams in the Negro Leagues - the Elite Giants and the Black Sox. Second baseman James "Junior" Gilliam and Hall of Fame catcher Roy Campanella each played two different stints for the Elite Giants on their way to Major League careers with the Brooklyn Dodgers' "Boys of Summer."

1944 – After winning the International League title, the Orioles beat Louisville of the American Association to win the Junior World Series. It wasn't easy, however; a fire in the early morning hours of July 4 destroyed Oriole Park, led the team to use Municipal Stadium, a football facility on 33rd Street. One game of the Junior World Series drew 52,833 paid fans, outdrawing each of the World Series games in St. Louis between the Browns and Cardinals and attracted interest from teams in the Major Leagues and professional football.

1953 – The Orioles, owned by Jack Dunn III, played their final season in the International League. After two votes failed, on September 29, American League owners approved the sale of the financially struggling St. Louis Browns franchise to a Baltimore-based consortium led by attorney Clarence W. Miles and brewery owner Jerold C. Hoffberger.

BACK IN THE MAJORS

1954 – Playing in renovated Municipal Stadium (later called Memorial Stadium), Baltimore returned to the Major Leagues and the Orioles returned to the American League after 52 years. After splitting two games in Detroit to begin the season, the Orioles returned to Baltimore by train – arriving, ironically, at Camden Station, just a few yards from the current ballpark – and a lengthy parade through the streets prior to their home opener on April 15. They beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-1, but went on to a 54-100 season.

NOVEMBER 18, 1954 – In a trade that took two weeks to complete, the Orioles and Yankees swapped 18 players as new manager/general manager Paul Richards laid the groundwork for the coming years. The Orioles received 11 players, including catcher Gus Triandos, outfielder Gene Woodling, and Willie Miranda, first in a long line of outstanding defensive shortstops.

1955 – Brooks Robinson was signed; he made his Major League debut on September 17 but did not establish himself as the regular third baseman and future Hall of Famer until 1959.

JULY 8, 1958 – Memorial Stadium hosted its first and only All-Star Game. The Orioles' Billy O'Dell retired the last nine batters to preserve a 4-3 win for the American League.

SEPTEMBER 20, 1958 – Knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm hurled the first no-hitter in Orioles history, beating the Yankees 1-0 at Memorial Stadium. Two years later, manager Paul Richards introduced the "big mitt" designed to help catchers cut down on passed balls and wild pitches from Wilhelm's knuckleball.

SEPTEMBER 18, 1963 – Steve Barber became the first 20-game winner in club history, beating the Angels, 3-1, in California.

JUNE 1965 – Jerry Hoffberger, whose family was among the original group of owners of the Orioles when it moved to Baltimore, took control of the ballclub as majority owner. He led the club for 14 years, during which the Orioles went to the postseason six times.

DECEMBER 9, 1965 – The Orioles made arguably the greatest trade in franchise history, acquiring former All-Star outfielder Frank Robinson from the Cincinnati Reds for Milt Pappas and two players acquired earlier in the week, Jack Baldschun and Dick Simpson. New GM Harry Dalton completed the trade, which had begun a month earlier by his predecessor, Lee MacPhail, Jr.

MAY 8, 1966 – Frank Robinson hit the only fair ball ever to leave Memorial Stadium, a shot over the left field bleachers measured at 465 ft. The Orioles later commemorated the event with a flag at the top of the bleachers where the ball left the park, simply saying "HERE."

SEPTEMBER 22, 1966 – Twenty-year-old Jim Palmer pitched a complete game as the Orioles clinch their first American League pennant with a 6-1 win at Kansas City. Palmer won 268 games and three Cy Young Awards in a 19-year career with the Orioles on his way to the Hall of Fame.

1966 – "Would You Believe Four Straight?" The Orioles stunned the baseball world by sweeping the favored Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series. Frank Robinson won the American League triple crown (.316-.49-122). Frank, Brooks Robinson, and Boog Powell finished 1-2-3 in the American League MVP voting.

1968 – Longtime minor league manager Earl Weaver was added to the coaching staff at the beginning of the season and, on July 11, was named manager of the Orioles. He went on to post a 1,480-1,060 record in 17 seasons before being elected to the Hall of Fame.

1969-71 – Pitching, three-run homers, and defense stamp Weaver's Orioles, as they captured three straight American League East titles, a trio of AL pennants, and the 1970 World Series. Brooks Robinson earned the nickname "Hoover" from future teammate Lee May after showing off his defensive skills in the 1970 series triumph over the Reds.

1973-74 – The Orioles won back-to-back AL East titles, giving them five division titles in six years. However, they were beaten by Oakland in the American League Championship Series both years.

JUNE 15, 1976 – Hank Peters, in his first year as Orioles general manager, began to remake the club with a 10-player trade with the New York Yankees. Future Orioles Hall of Fame members Scott McGregor, Tippy Martinez, and Rick Dempsey came from the Yankees; catcher Elrod Hendricks, who later will be traded and return twice more, was among those sent to New York.

SEPTEMBER 18, 1977 – Memorial Stadium was filled with 51,798 fans on "Thanks, Brooks Day," celebrating the end of the third baseman's 23-year career, all with the Orioles.

JUNE 22, 1979 – Doug DeCinces' two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning capped a monumental comeback against Detroit and gave birth to "Orioles Magic."

1979 – The Orioles won the American League pennant for the fifth time and took a 3-1 lead over Pittsburgh in the World Series, but the Pirates' "fam-I-lee" came back to win the last three games and the World Championship.

NOVEMBER 1, 1979 – American League owners approved the August sale of the Orioles to Washington attorney Edward Bennett Williams. The purchase ended both local and public ownership of the club.

AUGUST 10, 1981 – Cal Ripken, Jr. made his Major League debut, scoring the winning run as a 12th-inning pinch-runner vs. Kansas City at Memorial Stadium.

1981 – The Orioles' 59-46 record was the best in the American League, but not good enough for the playoffs. Following a mid-year strike, baseball decided to play the season in two halves and the Orioles finished second to New York and Milwaukee in the two halves.

OCTOBER 1-3, 1982 – The Orioles, three games behind Milwaukee with four games to play heading into a final weekend series with the Brewers, took the first three games at Memorial Stadium to force a tie for first. The Brewers spoiled the comeback with a 10-2 win in the season finale. Earl Weaver, who two months earlier had announced retirement at the end of the season, was saluted by 51,462 fans in an emotional celebration and farewell following the game.

1983 – The Orioles lost the first game of the American League Championship Series before coming back to beat the Chicago White Sox in three straight games. They lost the World Series opener to the Philadelphia Phillies before coming back to win four straight for their third World Championship. Cal Ripken, Jr. was named AL MVP (.318-27-102) in a close race over teammate Eddie Murray (.306-33-111).

1988 – The Orioles lost a Major League-record 21 consecutive games to start the season.

MAY 2, 1988 – Returning home to Memorial Stadium with a 1-23 record, the Orioles played before 50,402 fans on a Monday night. In a dramatic pre-game announcement, Governor William Donald Schaefer announced that Orioles owner Edward Bennett Williams and the Maryland Stadium Authority agreed on a 15-year lease for a new ballpark to be constructed at Camden Yards for the 1992 season.

DECEMBER 1988 – Investor Eli S. Jacobs bought the Orioles from the estate of Edward Bennett Williams, who passed away in August.

1989 – "Why Not?" was the rallying cry of the young Orioles, who improbably led the AL East into September. They eventually lost at Toronto on the next-to-last day of the season, giving the Blue Jays the division crown.

OCTOBER 6, 1991 – After 38 years, the Memorial Stadium era ended as the Orioles played their last game on 33rd Street. Cal Ripken, Jr. – who added his second MVP Award to the All-Star Game MVP trophy he won mid-season – hit into a game-ending double play, but the 7-1 loss to Detroit did not diminish an emotional "Field of Dreams" celebration afterward as more than 100 former Orioles returned in uniform to take their old positions one last time before 50,700 fans.

APRIL 6, 1992 – Oriole Park at Camden Yards ushered in a new era of "retro ballparks" and the Orioles beat the Indians, 2-0, on Rick Sutcliffe's complete game. The ballpark, on the western edge of downtown, helped revitalize the neighborhood and earned wide acclaim for its architectural design and fan-friendly features.

JULY 13, 1993 – Oriole Park hosted the city's second All-Star Game, following a week-long "All-Star Fan Fest," the first of its kind.

AUGUST 2, 1993 – Baltimore attorney Peter Angelos led a group of investors – most of whom were Baltimoreans – in buying the Orioles at an auction from Eli S. Jacobs. American League owners approved the sale on October 4.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1995 – The Iron Man topped the Iron Horse: Cal Ripken, Jr. surpassed a record once thought unbeatable, playing in his 2,131st consecutive game to pass Lou Gehrig's all-time record. Ripken's homer in the game helped beat the Angels, 4-2.

1995 – The Orioles drew 3,098,475 fans in the strike-shortened season to lead the American League in attendance for the first time in their history. They went on to lead the league in attendance for four straight years.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1996 – Future Hall of Famer Eddie Murray, who returned to the club in a mid-season trade with Cleveland, hit his 500th career home run into the right field seats at Camden Yards.

1996 – A Major League-record 10 different Orioles hit at least 10 home runs during the season as the Orioles broke the New York Yankees 35-year-old mark for home runs by a team. The Orioles advanced to the playoffs as the Wild Card team, finishing second in the AL East. They beat Cleveland in the American League Division Series before the Yankees ended the Orioles postseason hopes in the ALCS.

1997 – The Orioles went wire-to-wire to win the AL East. They beat Seattle in the Division Series before falling in six games to Cleveland in the ALCS.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

SEPTEMBER 20, 1998 – Cal Ripken, Jr. ended his consecutive game streak at 2,632, sitting out the Orioles' final home game of the season at Camden Yards vs. the New York Yankees. Ryan Minor started in his place at third base.

APRIL 15, 2000 – Cal Ripken, Jr. singled at Minnesota's Metrodome off Hector Carrasco for his 3,000th career hit, the first Oriole and 24th player to reach that milestone.

OCTOBER 6, 2001 – Having announced in May his plans to retire at season's end, Cal Ripken, Jr. played his last game as an Oriole before 48,807 fans at Camden Yards. His 21-year career resulted in a first-ballot election to the Hall of Fame.

JULY 31, 2006 – The Mid-Atlantic Sports Network, a regional television channel owned primarily by the Orioles, began 24-hour programming. The network is the rightsholder for both Orioles and Washington Nationals games.

NOVEMBER 12, 2008 – The Orioles unveiled their new road uniform with a script "Baltimore" across the chest. The Orioles' road uniform had featured a script "Orioles" across the chest since 1973.

OCTOBER 5, 2012 – The Orioles and Rangers met in the first American League Wild Card "play-in" game in Arlington. The Orioles won 5-1 to advance to the ALDS, where they fell in five games to the Yankees.

2013 – Chris Davis homered for the 51st time on September 17 at Boston, breaking Brady Anderson's club record set in 1996. Davis added two more before season's end, finishing with 53. The Orioles finished with a .991 fielding percentage, the best in Major League history.

SEPTEMBER 16, 2014 – With an 8-2 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays, the Orioles secured their ninth AL East Division title in team history, marking the third time the club had clinched in Baltimore, the first time since 1979, and the first division clinch with a win in Baltimore since 1969.

OCTOBER 5, 2014 – The Orioles swept the Detroit Tigers with a 2-1 victory in Game 3 of the American League Division Series to advance to the ALCS for the first time since 1997, where they fell to the Kansas City Royals in four games.

APRIL 29, 2015 – Citing the need for local resources to be better utilized during a period of unrest in Baltimore, the Orioles played an unprecedented game without fans against the Chicago White Sox after closing the contest to the public. The Orioles went on to win, 8-2.

JUNE 16, 2015 – Seven different Orioles combined to slug a club-record eight home runs against the Philadelphia Phillies, surpassing the previous club mark of seven. Chris Davis' fourth inning blast was his seventh career home run to land on Eutaw Street, the most such home runs in Oriole Park history by an individual player. He hit his eighth career Eutaw Street home run on August 14, 2015 vs. Oakland, and has 11 career Eutaw Street home runs.

JUNE 28, 2015 – In the second game of a doubleheader against Cleveland, the Orioles recorded their 5,000th regular season victory in club history.

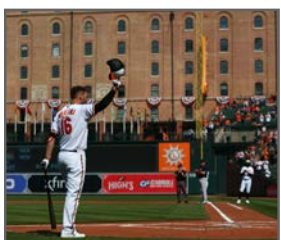

AUGUST 1, 2015 – Outfielder Gerardo Parra became the 1,000th player to appear in a game for the Orioles since the team moved to Baltimore in 1954.

OCTOBER 4, 2016 – The Orioles advanced to postseason play for the third time in five seasons, and met the Toronto Blue Jays in the American League Wild Card Game. The Blue Jays defeated the Orioles, 5-2, in 11 innings at Rogers Centre.

AUGUST 5, 2017 – The Orioles reached 10,000 regular season home runs in Orioles history (since 1954) against Detroit, when Tim Beckham connected for a solo home run in the eighth inning off of Edward Mujica.

2018 – The Orioles finished the season with a franchise-worst 115 losses, posting a record of 47-115 (.290) and 61 games behind first-place Boston.

2019 – The Orioles finished the season with over 100 losses for the second consecutive year, posting a record of 54-108 (.333) and 49 games behind first-place New York-AL. On June 3, the Orioles selected catcher Adley Rutschman from Oregon State University with the first overall selection of the 2019 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft. On July 25 at Los Angeles-AL, Stevie Wilkerson became the first position player to record a save since the save became an official statistic in 1969.

2020 – Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Orioles played a 60-game regular season schedule, the fewest in the club's history.

2021 – Following the pandemic-shortened season, fans returned to Oriole Park at Camden Yards for the first time in 557 days for the club's home opener on April 8. After missing the entire 2020 season battling stage III colon cancer, Trey Mancini took the field to a standing ovation from the Birdland faithful. Cedric Mullins went on to become the first player in Orioles history (since 1954) to record 30 home runs and 30 stolen bases in a single season.

ORIOLES IN THE NATIONAL BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

There are currently six players and/or managers enshrined in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, N.Y. as Orioles (induction year in parenthesis):

Cal Ripken, Jr., SS (2007)
Eddie Murray, 1B (2003)

Earl Weaver, Manager (1996)
Jim Palmer, RHP (1990)

Brooks Robinson, 3B (1983)
Frank Robinson, RF (1982)

In 2007, Cal Ripken, Jr. received 98.53 percent of the vote total (537 of the 545 ballots cast) by eligible members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. At the time, it was the third-highest percent of the vote total in the history of the Hall of Fame, behind only Tom Seaver (98.84% in 1992) and Nolan Ryan (98.79% in 1999).

All five players to be inducted into the Hall of Fame as Orioles were elected in their first year of eligibility (Earl Weaver was selected as a manager by the Veterans Committee).

Additionally, there are 17 other modern-day players, managers, and front office executives with ties to the Orioles organization that have been inducted into the Hall of Fame (induction year in parenthesis):

Mike Mussina, RHP (2019)
Harold Baines, OF (2019)
Lee Smith, RHP (2019)
Vladimir Guerrero, RF (2018)
Jim Thome, 1B (2018)
Tim Lincecum, LF (2017)

John Schuerholz, Executive (2017)
Roberto Alomar, 2B (2011)
Pat Gillick, Executive (2011)
Whitey Herzog, Manager (2010)
Dick Williams, Manager (2008)
Lee MacPhail, Executive (1998)

Reggie Jackson, RF (1993)
Hoyt Wilhelm, RHP (1985)
Luis Aparicio, SS (1984)
George Kell, 3B (1983)
Robin Roberts, RHP (1976)

In addition to the nine former Orioles players that have been inducted as members of other organizations, three executives and two managers that have spent time with the Orioles have also been enshrined in Cooperstown:

Pat Gillick, who played for the Orioles as a minor leaguer and later served as General Manager of the Orioles from 1995-98, was elected by the Veterans Committee and was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 2011.

Dick Williams, who had three different tenures as a player with the Orioles in the late 1950s and early 1960s, was named a 2008 inductee to the Hall of Fame as a manager after managing 21 years in the Major Leagues with six different teams, winning four league titles and two world championships.

Lee MacPhail, who served as General Manager of the Orioles from 1959-65, was inducted into the Hall of Fame as an executive by the Veterans Committee in 1998. His son, Andy, would serve as the President of Baseball Operations with the Orioles from 2007-11.

Whitey Herzog was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame as a manager, but played for the Orioles from 1961-62.

John Schuerholz, a member of the Orioles front office from 1966-68, was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame by the Today's Game Era Committee as part of the 2017 class. Schuerholz currently serves as vice chairman, emeritus of the Atlanta Braves and spent 26 years as a Major League Baseball general manager from 1982-2007 with the Kansas City Royals and Braves.

NATIVE MARYLANDERS IN THE HALL OF FAME

Currently, 11 members of the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum have been born in Maryland: Harold Baines (Easton), John Schuerholz (Baltimore), Bowie Kuhn (Takoma Park), Cal Ripken, Jr. (Havre de Grace), Vic Willis (Elkton), Al Kaline (Baltimore), Judy Johnson (Snow Hill), Frank "Home Run" Baker (Trappe), Jimmie Foxx (Sudlersville), Lefty Grove (Lonaconing), and George Herman "Babe" Ruth (Baltimore).

Additionally, of the 11 members of the Hall of Fame to be born in Maryland, five once played for the Orioles. Cal Ripken, Jr. (1981-2001) and Harold Baines (1993-95, 1997-99, 2000) played for Baltimore, while Frank "Home Run" Baker (1907), Lefty Grove (1920-24), and Babe Ruth (1914) all played for the International League Orioles.

FORD C. FRICK AWARD WINNERS

In addition to longtime Orioles voice Chuck Thompson, four other Orioles broadcasters have won the Ford C. Frick Award: Ernie Harwell ('54-'59), Herb Carneal ('57-'61), Bob Murphy ('60-'61), and Jon Miller ('83-'96).

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

BALTIMORE TIES TO THE HALL OF FAME

Along with the modern-day Orioles in the Baseball Hall of Fame, several other players and managers with Orioles connections throughout Baltimore's rich baseball heritage have been enshrined in Cooperstown, N.Y. (Induction year in parenthesis):

Edward "Ned" Hanlon, Manager (1996)
Joe Kelley, OF/INF (1971)
Rube Marquard, LHP (1971)
William "Candy" Cummings, RHP (1959)
Frank "Home Run" Baker, 3B (1955)
Charles "Chief" Bender, RHP (1953)
Robert M. "Lefty" Grove, LHP (1947)
Joe "Iron Man" McGinnity, RHP (1946)

Roger Bresnahan, C (1945)
Dan Brouthers, 1B (1945)
Hughie Jennings, SS (1945)
Wilbert Robinson, Manager (1945)
Rogers Hornsby, 2B (1942)
Wee Willie Keeler, OF (1939)
John McGraw, Manager (1937)
George Herman "Babe" Ruth, OF (1936)

HALL OF FAME GAME

The Orioles made their sixth scheduled appearance in the annual Hall of Fame Game at Cooperstown's Double Day Field on May 14, 2007. It turned out to be the last Hall of Fame Game played; the 2008 game between the Padres and Cubs was rained out, and the game was discontinued after that. The Orioles went 3-2 in Hall of Fame Games, with one postponed by rain. The results:

1961 Los Angeles Dodgers 6, Orioles 2
1967 Orioles 3, Cincinnati Reds 0
1983 St. Louis Cardinals 4, Orioles 1

1990 Orioles vs. Montreal Expos, rained out
1998 Orioles 7, Toronto Blue Jays 1
2007 Orioles 13, Toronto Blue Jays 7

THE ORIOLES HALL OF FAME

The Orioles Hall of Fame was conceived in 1977 by the Oriole Advocates at the suggestion of two former presidents, Allen Barrett and Jack Buckley, both of whom have since passed away. The Advocates continue to administer the annual elections under the direction of their Hall of Fame Committee.

Candidates can be elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame through two channels: the regular vote by a panel of some 80 people, comprising sportswriters, broadcasters, Oriole Advocates, and Orioles personnel; or by a vote of the veterans committee, a group of 25 senior representatives from the sports media, Oriole Advocates, and the Orioles front office.

Procedures for election to the Orioles Hall of Fame are based on those used by the National Baseball Hall of Fame, requiring mention on 75 percent of ballots cast. All candidates must have served a minimum of three full seasons with the Orioles. To be eligible for regular election, a player, manager or coach must have been active in that capacity within the last 15 years, but ceased serving in the position for which he was nominated for at least one year. For consideration by the veterans committee, formed in 1989, a candidate must have ceased serving in the capacity of consideration for at least 15 years.

Last inducted into the Orioles Hall of Fame were former Orioles infielder J.J. Hardy and outfielder Mike Devereaux in 2021. Hardy played the last seven seasons of his 13-year career with the Orioles from 2011-17, winning three consecutive Gold Glove Awards from 2012-14 and was the starting shortstop for the American League All-Star team in 2013. He ranks third among Orioles shortstops in games played behind Cal Ripken, Jr. and Mark Belanger, and led the league in fielding percentage three times. He batted .252 with 107 home runs and 385 RBI with the Orioles, helping the team to three post-season berths.

Devereaux spent seven of his 12 big league seasons with the Orioles, 1989-94 and 1996. The center fielder was voted Most Valuable Oriole in 1992 after leading the team in 10 offensive categories including batting average, home runs, and RBI. He batted .251 with 94 home runs and 403 RBI in his Orioles career and is one of three Orioles to finish a season with 10-or-more doubles, triples, and home runs (1991 and 1992), and the only one to do so twice. He also played for the Orioles' 1996 Wild Card-winning team.

The Orioles Hall of Fame currently has 58 former players, coaches, and managers.

"WILD BILL" HAGY AWARD

On August 20, 2007, the Orioles lost one of their most passionate fans with the passing of William G. "Wild Bill" Hagy. Leading cheers from "The Roar from 34" at Memorial Stadium, "Wild Bill" became a Baltimore institution, contorting his body to spell out "O-R-I-O-L-E-S" from the upper deck – and sometimes coming down to lead the crowd in cheers from atop the dugout.

Upon his passing, the Orioles and the Oriole Advocates announced the creation of an award to honor the team's top fans, to be named The Wild Bill Hagy Award. The award will expand the Orioles Hall of Fame categories to include fans who have demonstrated an exceptional commitment in support of the team in the tradition of Wild Bill, who rooted for the club year in and year out. Appropriately, Hagy was named the first recipient of the award.

On July 28, 2020 Mossila "Mo" Gaba was elected to the Orioles Hall of Fame as the second-ever recipient of The Wild Billy Hagy Award. The Orioles honored Mo as one of the most passionate and devoted fans in franchise history.

Mo, who passed away the night of his election to the Hall of Fame, began calling in to 105.7 The Fan's sports programming in 2015 at the age of nine. Unbeknownst to his mother, Sonsoy, he would call in on afternoons when he got home from school to share his unparalleled knowledge of Baltimore sports with local fans and radio listeners. Despite losing his eyesight due to a malignant tumor when he was just nine months old and enduring four different battles with cancer throughout his life, his infectious laughter and enthusiasm quickly captured the hearts of local sports fans, making him a Baltimore celebrity and a household name.

Mo regularly made appearances at Orioles games and events, including in 2017, when he threw out the ceremonial first pitch as part of Kids' Opening Day, and in 2019, when his "Play Ball!" call on Kids' Opening Day officially marked the start of a new season. After inspiring countless fans and Baltimoreans with his positivity, PressBox recognized Mo as the 2019 Sportsperson of the Year.

Mo's positive energy was constant throughout every battle and brought the entire city of Baltimore together in the face of ongoing crisis. His unwavering positivity and kindness were qualities every Baltimorean aspires to emulate. Mo Gaba impacted more people in his 14 years than most people do in an entire lifetime, and the Orioles are honored to forever celebrate him as a member of the Orioles Hall of Fame.

HERB ARMSTRONG AWARD

In 1995, the Oriole Advocates established the Herb Armstrong Award to honor non-uniformed personnel who have represented the Orioles for at least five years and made a significant contribution to the ball club, the community, or the sport of baseball. The award is named after the beloved former educator, professional baseball player, manager, and longtime official for both the Orioles' International League and American League clubs who dedicated nearly 70 years of his life to the people of Baltimore, his adopted hometown. Winners are selected by the Orioles Hall of Fame Veterans Committee and honored during the Orioles Hall of Fame Weekend ceremonies.

The most recent winner of the Herb Armstrong Award was Joe Angel in 2021. Angel spent 19 seasons over three stints as an Orioles radio broadcaster before retiring following the 2018 season. Overall, he spent 42 years as a baseball broadcaster, also working for the San Francisco Giants, Oakland Athletics, Minnesota Twins, New York Yankees, and Florida Marlins, as well as ESPN. Originally part of the Orioles broadcast team from 1988-90, Angel returned for one season in 1992 before becoming the first broadcast voice of the Marlins for eight years. He rejoined the Orioles radio team in 2004 for his final 15 seasons, where his signature calls of "Hasta la vista pelotai," "Wave that baby bye-bye!" and "Put it in the WIN column!," delighted Orioles fans.

MOST VALUABLE ORIOLE

Outfielder Cedric Mullins was voted the unanimous winner of the 2021 Louis M. Hatter Most Valuable Oriole Award by members of the local media, becoming the first unanimous winner since voting totals were officially recorded beginning in 1998. Mullins compiled one of the greatest statistical seasons in Orioles history, slashing .291/.360/.518 (175-for-602) with 37 doubles, five triples, 30 home runs, 30 stolen bases, 91 runs scored, 59 RBI, and 59 walks. He won his first career American League Silver Slugger Award and was named a finalist for both the Hank Aaron Award and the Orioles Heart and Hustle Award. He was named to his first career All-Star Game and became the first Oriole to start in the Midsummer Classic since Manny Machado in 2018, and first O's outfielder to start the All-Star Game since Adam Jones in 2015.

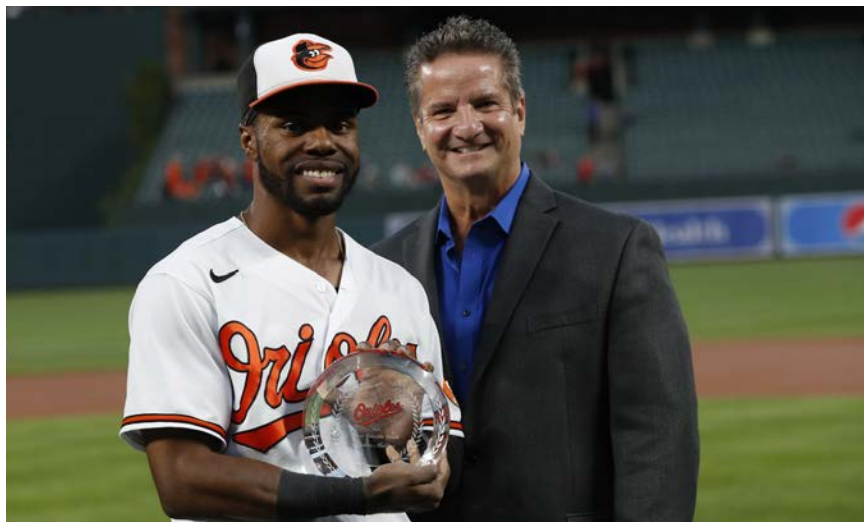

Mullins hit his 30th home run of the season on September 24 vs. Texas to become the first player in franchise history (since 1954) – and only player in the majors in 2021 – to record a season with 30 home runs and 30 stolen bases. He set career-highs and led the Orioles in nearly every major offensive statistical category, including fWAR (5.3), hits, extra-base hits (72), batting average, on-base percentage, slugging percentage, OPS (.878), doubles, triples, total bases (312), runs, stolen bases, and walks, and ranked second in homers behind only Ryan Mountcastle's 33. His 5.3 fWAR ranked sixth among AL hitters and 14th among MLB hitters.

He had a career-long 20-game hitting streak from July 20 to August 13, the third-longest streak in the majors this season and the longest streak by an Orioles batter since Adam Jones also hit safely in 20-straight games from May 10-29, 2012. Mullins recorded two separate five-hit games in 2021, April 4 at Boston and June 5 vs. Cleveland. He was the only player in the majors in 2021 with multiple five-hit games, and one of three players in Orioles history to record at least two five-hit games in a single season (Tommy Davis, 1974 - two and Luis Aparicio, 1966 - three). He reached base safely in 11-straight plate appearances and recorded a hit in nine-straight at-bats from June 4-6; his nine-straight at-bats with a hit rank tied with Charles Johnson (1999) for the second-longest streak in franchise history, behind only Ken Singleton's 10 consecutive at-bats with a hit (1981).

Mullins batted .348/.383/.631 (49-for-141) in the first inning in 2021. His 49 first-inning hits were the most in the majors and also the most in any single inning in the majors, one ahead of Trea Turner's 48 first-inning hits. His 22 first-inning extra-base hits (12-2B, 2-3B, 8 HR) also led all of baseball, one ahead of Shohei Ohtani's 21. His eight leadoff home runs were tied with Kyle Schwarber for the most in the majors and finished as the second-most in a single season in Orioles history (since 1954), trailing only Brady Anderson's 12 in 1996.

In the field, Mullins was an elite defender at a premium position. He made 146 starts (153 games) in center field, the second-most in the majors and the 10th-most in a single season in Orioles history. His 11 Outs Above Average led the team and ranked tied for fourth among Major League center fielders, according to Statcast.

The MVO Award was initiated when the Orioles returned to the majors in 1954. The award is named in honor of the late Lou Hatter, the distinguished and lovable "dean" of Baltimore baseball writers who covered the Orioles for The Baltimore Sun for 27 years. The award winner is selected through a vote of writers and broadcasters who cover the Orioles on a regular basis. There have been four ties, and no award was given in 1994. Thirteen players - Eddie Murray (seven), Cal Ripken, Jr. (four), Brooks Robinson (four), Adam Jones (three), Rafael Palmiero (three), Frank Robinson (three), Ken Singleton (three), and Chris Davis, Stu Miller, Jim Palmer, Boog Powell, Brian Roberts, and Miguel Tejada (two) - have won the award more than once.

EARL WEAVER 4

Inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown in August 1996, Earl Weaver currently ranks 26th in victories and his .583 winning percentage (1,480-1,060) over 17 seasons—all in Baltimore—ranks eighth on the all-time list of those who managed 10-or-more seasons in the Majors.

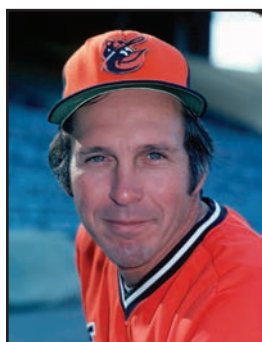

Weaver was a minor league second baseman for 13 years, mostly in his hometown St. Louis Cardinals organization. He began his managing career in the minors in 1956 and joined the Orioles organization a year later. He came up to the Orioles as a first base coach in 1968 and was named manager on July 11 of that year. From 1969 through 1982, he won six AL East titles, four AL pennants, and one World Series, beating the Cincinnati Reds in 1970. Weaver's Orioles won 100 games-or-more five times, and he earned Manager of the Year honors three times.

He retired following the 1982 season, which ended one game shy of another AL East title when the Orioles lost to the Milwaukee Brewers on the final day of the season. He came back to manage in mid-1985 for 1½ years before retiring for good. The only time in his 17 seasons as a manager that he posted a losing record was his last, in 1986.

Weaver passed away on January 19, 2013, at age 82. His widow, Marianna, lives in Pembroke Pines, Fla.

BROOKS ROBINSON 5

"Mr. Oriole" spent 23 seasons with the Orioles and started 20 consecutive Opening Day games. He won the American League Most Valuable Player Award in 1964 and holds the record for most Gold Gloves by a position player with 16. His election to Baseball's Hall of Fame (in his first year of eligibility in 1983) was cemented with his performance against the Cincinnati Reds in the 1970 World Series, when he was named MVP and earned the nickname "Hoover" (as in vacuum cleaners) for his play in the field.

Robinson played in 18 All-Star games. He trails only Cal Ripken, Jr. among the Orioles' all-time leaders in games, at-bats, hits, doubles, RBI, runs, total bases, and extra-base hits. In addition to his American League MVP Award in 1964 and his World Series MVP Award in 1970, he was the All-Star Game MVP in 1966 and was voted the Most Valuable Oriole in 1960, 1962, 1964, and co-winner in 1971 with Frank Robinson. He also earned the Commissioner's Trophy (now the Roberto Clemente Award) for exemplifying the game of baseball in 1972 and the Joe Cronin Award for significant achievement by an American League player in 1977. In 2016, Robinson was honored at the annual Rawlings Gold Glove Award ceremony with a Lifetime Achievement Award. In 2020, he was awarded the Bob Feller Act of Valor Award for his integrity and honorable service as an Ordnance Parts Specialist in the Army National Guard in response to the Vietnam War.

Robinson holds six Major League fielding records and seven American League records for third basemen, including 2,697 putouts. He is 16th on the all-time list of games played (fourth in the AL) and fourth in games played with one team.

He currently serves as a Special Advisor and Community Liaison for the Orioles.

A native of Little Rock, Ark., Robinson and his wife, Connie, have four children.

CAL RIPKEN, JR.
8

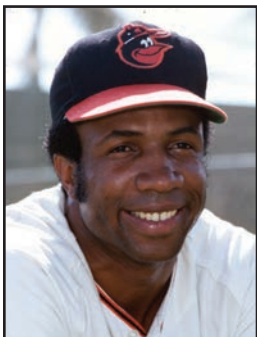

Baseball's all-time Iron Man, Cal Ripken, Jr. spent his entire 21-year career with the Orioles and was inducted into Baseball's Hall of Fame in 2007 in his first year of eligibility. He is one of only 11 players in history with both 400 HR and 3,000 hits, along with Hank Aaron, Adrián Beltré, Willie Mays, Eddie Murray, Stan Musial, Rafael Palmeiro, Albert Pujols, Alex Rodriguez, Dave Winfield, and Carl Yastrzemski. In 2001, his final season, he was elected to his 19th All-Star Game, breaking the AL record for most times as an All-Star – a record previously held by Brooks Robinson. He earned two All-Star Game MVP Awards (1991 and 2001), two American League MVP Awards (1983 and 1991), American League Rookie of the Year honors (1982), two Gold Gloves, and eight Silver Slugger awards, all at shortstop.

Ripken will be most remembered for topping the said-to-be-unbreakable record for consecutive games played set by Lou Gehrig, passing Gehrig's mark of 2,130 games on September 6, 1995. Ripken went on to play in 2,632 consecutive games before sitting on September 20, 1998.

Following the 1999 season, he was named as one of two shortstops (with Ernie Banks) on Major League Baseball's All-Century Team, selected by fans and an expert panel. Extremely active in community endeavors, he won the Roberto Clemente Award (1992) and the initial Bart Giamatti Caring Award (1990), among many other honors.

Since his playing career ended in 2001, Ripken has focused his attention on growing the game at the grassroots level and helping underserved communities. Cal's business, Ripken Baseball operates four youth baseball and softball tournament destinations known as The Ripken Experience. They are located in his hometown of Aberdeen, Md. as well as Myrtle Beach, SC, Pigeon Forge, TN and, most recently, Disney World in Orlando, FL. Cal and his family also formed the Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation twenty years ago. Since 2001 the CRSF has grown to serve over 1.2 million young people across the country annually through impactful programs such as Badges for Baseball & Healthy Children, Healthy Choices and through the construction of Youth Development Parks and Elementary School STEM Centers. To date over 100 Youth Development Parks, at a cost of roughly $1 million each, have been built in areas of need and gifted to youth-serving organization. In addition, more than 80 STEM Centers, along with corresponding curriculum, have been added to schools in 15 states. In 2015, Ripken was named Major League Baseball Special Advisor on Youth Programs and Outreach by Commissioner Robert D. Manfred and since 2007 Cal has served as a Special Envoy to the US State Department and in that role has made goodwill trips to China, Japan, Nicaragua and the Czech republic.

Frank Robinson's achievements during his 21 seasons as a player rank him among the top players of all time in numerous statistical categories. He hit 586 home runs, 10th on the all-time list. He spent 19 seasons with the Orioles as a player (1966-71), coach (1979-80 and 85-87), manager (1988-91), and assistant general manager (1991-95).

The trade that brought Robinson from Cincinnati to Baltimore turned the Orioles from contenders to World Champions in 1966. He won the Triple Crown (.316 average, 49 homers, 122 RBI) and was both the American League and World Series MVP in his first season with the Orioles. In all, the Orioles went to the World Series four times in his six seasons as a player with them. When he was traded to the Dodgers after the 1971 season, he became the first to have his number retired by the Orioles.

Robinson was the National League Rookie of the Year with the Reds in 1956 and is the only player to win MVP honors in both leagues (1961 NL, 1966 AL). He played in 14 All-Star Games and was MVP of the 1971 Midsummer Classic. While still an active player, he became the first black manager in Major League history with the Cleveland Indians in 1975. In addition to the Indians (1975-77), he managed the San Francisco Giants (1981-84), the Orioles (1988-91), and the Montreal Expos-Washington Nationals (2002-06).

Robinson was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility in 1982. On February 2, 2015, Robinson was named by Baseball Commissioner Robert D. Manfred, Jr. as Senior Advisor and the new Honorary President of the American League.

Robinson passed away on February 7, 2019, at the age of 83. His widow, Barbara, lives in Los Angeles.

The greatest pitcher in Orioles history, Jim Palmer won 268 games in a 19-year career, all of it with Baltimore. He won three Cy Young Awards in a four-year span (1973, '75, '76) and his 2.86 ERA is fourth on the all-time list among pitchers with 3,000 or more innings pitched in the live-ball era (1920-present).

Palmer won 20 games in a season eight times, one of only six pitchers who pitched exclusively in the 20th century to accomplish the feat. He put that string together in a nine-year stretch, 1970-78, during which he went 176-97 with a 2.54 ERA.

In 1966, at age 20, he became the youngest pitcher ever to throw a World Series shutout, and in 1983 he became the only hurler to have won a World Series game in each of three decades. He was the winning pitcher in the Orioles' first four pennant-clinching games and was 8-3 in 17 postseason appearances. He was a six-time All-Star and was the American League's starting pitcher four times.

Palmer was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame on the first ballot in January 1990. He is in his 29th season as an analyst on Orioles televised games and has also worked for ABC-TV and ESPN. On January 12, 2012, Palmer was awarded the Player Lifetime Achievement Award by the Professional Baseball Scouts Foundation.

Palmer and his wife, Susan, live in Corona del Mar, Calif. with their son, Spencer. His oldest daughter, Jamie, lives in Cotuit, Mass., with her husband, Paul. Palmer's younger daughter, Kelly, lives in Trophy Club, Texas, with her husband, David, and their twins, Maxine and Henri.

Eddie played 12½ of his 21 seasons with the Orioles and was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility in 2003. He spent his first 12 years with the Orioles and rejoined the team in 1996, becoming the 15th player to reach the 500-home run plateau. Murray, Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Rafael Palmeiro, Albert Pujols, and Alex Rodriguez are the only players with 500 homers and 3,000 hits.

A model of consistency, he drove in at least 75 runs in each of his first 20 Major League seasons, a feat unmatched. He has more RBI than any switch-hitter in modern-day history and ranks 10th all-time in RBI. Murray was named to eight All-Star teams, seven as an Oriole, and batted .300 or better seven times, including five times as an Oriole. He won the Orioles' "triple crown" five times, leading the club in average, homers, and RBI. He played at least 150 games in 16 seasons, the second most in history behind Pete Rose. He also appeared in 2,413 games as a first baseman, the most by a first baseman in Major League history.

Murray broke in as the American League Rookie of the Year in 1977. He was named Most Valuable Oriole seven times (twice sharing the award with Ripken).

He currently serves as a Special Advisor and Community Liaison for the Orioles.

Like Frank Robinson before him, Murray's Oriole number was retired when he was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers. He also played for the New York Mets, Cleveland Indians, and Los Angeles Angels, and was an Orioles coach for four seasons, 1998-2001. He also served as the hitting coach for the Cleveland Indians and Los Angeles Dodgers. A three-time Gold Glove winner, he holds the Major League record for games played and career assists by a first baseman. Murray has two daughters, Jordan and Jessica, and lives in his hometown of Los Angeles.

ORIOLE PARK AT CAMDEN YARDS

When Oriole Park at Camden Yards (OPACY) opened on April 6, 1992, a new era of Major League Baseball began. The park was brand new, but still old-fashioned. State-of-the-art, yet quaint. At less than a day old, it was already a classic.

OPACY inspired a generation of ballpark construction. No longer would communities across America build multipurpose stadiums devoid of character, surrounded by vast parking lots. Ballparks would now be created to nestle neatly into existing and historic neighborhoods and play key roles in the revitalization of urban America.

Oriole Park is unique, traditional, and intimate in design. It blends with the urban context of downtown Baltimore while taking its image from baseball parks built in the early 20th century. Steel, rather than concrete trusses, an arched brick facade, a sun roof over the gentle slope of the Upper Deck, an asymmetrical playing field, and natural turfgrass are just some of the features that tie it to those magnificent big league ballparks built in the early 1900s.

In the 30 years that have followed, OPACY has welcomed more than 72 million fans including individuals from all 50 states and more than 100 countries. The city of Baltimore and the entire state of Maryland have derived over $10 billion in economic impact from fans who have attended Orioles games over the last 30 seasons, as well as from the millions more who have participated in major concerts, festivals, meetings, tours, and community events that have been held at the ballpark.

OPACY captured the nation's attention from day one and in the seasons that followed has served as the standard by which all new ballparks are measured. Citizens of Baltimore and throughout Maryland, as well as Orioles fans everywhere, should take great pride in the fact that their team makes its home in The Ballpark That Forever Changed Baseball™.

THE BALLPARK THAT FOREVER CHANGED BASEBALL™

Designed by the architectural firm of Helmuth, Obata + Kassabaum (HOK), with direction and input from the Orioles and the State of Maryland, which owns and operates the facility through its agency, the Maryland Stadium Authority (MSA), the construction of the Oriole Park at Camden Yards was completed in essentially 33 months from the time razing previous structures on the 85-acre parcel began on June 28, 1989, in the area known as Camden Yards.

The one-time railroad center is 12 minutes west by foot from the city's Inner Harbor and only two blocks from the birthplace of baseball's most legendary slugger, George Herman "Babe" Ruth. Ruth's father operated Ruth's Cafe on the ground floor of the family residence located at Conway Street and Little Paca, now center field at Oriole Park.

30TH ANNIVERSARY SEASON

During the 2022 baseball season, the Baltimore Orioles will celebrate 30 years of Oriole Park at Camden Yards. The club begins the year-long celebration of The Ballpark That Forever Changed Baseball™ with festivities leading up to an exciting Opening Day, and continuing through the duration of the season.

Since April 6, 1992, when the Orioles hosted the first game at Oriole Park, it has become an iconic venue in the sports and entertainment world. The park was brand new, yet still old fashioned, and state-of-the-art, yet quaint, instantly becoming a classic. Oriole Park inspired a generation of ballpark construction, trailblazing ideas that had so long been features of sport facilities. No longer would communities across America build stadiums devoid of character, but instead would build them to flow seamlessly in existing and historic neighborhoods, playing key roles in the revitalization of urban America.

In the 30 years that have followed, Oriole Park has been one of the leading catalysts for year-round tourism in Baltimore and Maryland. The downtown attraction has welcomed more than 72 million kids and adults to Charm City's Inner Harbor area to date, generating over $10 billion in economic impact back into the City of Baltimore and State of Maryland. The ballpark has not only opened its gates to baseball fans but has welcomed music aficionados for various events including the first-ever concert at Oriole Park, featuring Rock & Roll Hall of Famer and music legend Billy Joel. This concert alone brought more than 40,000 visitors to Downtown Baltimore for the evening, and the Orioles look forward to regularly hosting similar events moving forward. While our nation faced a crucial moment in history, the ballpark quickly transitioned into providing support to the most vulnerable neighbors during the COVID-19 pandemic, becoming a testing and vaccination site, and a packing hub for meal distribution efforts.

On the field, Oriole Park was home to the Iron Man, and witnessed the tying, breaking, and setting of an untouchable feat; it was the backdrop for Steady Eddie's iconic 500th home run; the workplace of 65 All-Stars, two Managers of the Year, 11 Silver Sluggers, and nine Gold Glove winners; and the location of 113 Eutaw Street home runs, and countless other tremendous plays. As the team celebrates the 30th anniversary season, fans will have the opportunity to welcome back past Orioles who have had an integral part in the history of the ballpark.

To give homage to the team's home ballpark, jerseys for all uniformed personnel will feature the official Oriole Park at Camden Yards 30th anniversary logo patch on the right sleeve. Fans will be able to take home their own piece of Oriole Park history as the Orioles Team Store will have 30th anniversary merchandise, novelties, glassware, hats, and apparel available for purchase. Festivities will culminate on Saturday, August 6, when the Orioles host the Pittsburgh Pirates. Fans can enjoy a pregame ceremony celebration, view unique memorabilia, and receive an Oriole Park-themed giveaway item. All season long, items from players over the last three decades will be available for purchase at the Orioles Authentic store with proceeds benefiting the Orioles Charitable Foundation.

Additional items to celebrate the anniversary season include an Oriole Park Exhibit located on the concourse behind home plate, between Gates D and E; a year-long Habitat for Humanity build in the nearby Pigtown neighborhood; and $10 Eutaw Street Bleacher tickets Monday through Thursday for the duration of the season.

 Right Field: 318 feet
 Height of Left Field Wall: 13 feet
 Height of Right Field Wall: 21 feet

BALLPARK ENHANCEMENTS

Prior to the 2022 season, the Orioles adjusted the measurements of the left field wall, pushing it back as much as 30 feet, in varying increments at different points in the wall, and raising the height by approximately 5 feet.

In a continuing effort to create the most family-friendly atmosphere in sports, in August of 2019, the Orioles extended protective netting at OPACY down each foul line to near each foul pole. Protective netting was also extended to near the foul poles at Ed Smith Stadium prior to the start of 2020 Spring Training.

The natural surface of the warning track, installed in 2013 to replace the original rubberized warning track from 1992, is composed of crushed stone, matching the color of the brick that appears throughout the ballpark and on the Warehouse.

LEED CERTIFICATION

In 2018, after a multi-year effort of research and enhancements, the U.S. Green Building Council awarded OPACY with Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold Certification for an existing building. The accompanying B&O Warehouse was also awarded with LEED Silver.

B&O WAREHOUSE BUILDING

Located beyond right field, the B&O Warehouse is 439 feet from home plate and houses office space for the Orioles as well as banquet facilities and the ballpark's central kitchen. Built between 1898 and 1905, the Warehouse is the longest building on the East Coast at 1,016 feet, and is only 51 feet wide.

WAREHOUSE LIGHTS

Throughout the year, the Orioles show their support for numerous causes by lighting the lights on the front of the Warehouse in specific colors. This past year, the lights were lit blue and yellow for Down Syndrome awareness, and rainbow colors to show support for LGBTQ+ community, among others.

EUTAW STREET

The ballpark and Warehouse are separated by a 60-foot wide promenade, an extension of Eutaw Street. Open daily, Eutaw Street gives access to The Orioles Official Team Store, and various plaques and displays, including markings for every home run ball to hit Eutaw Street.

FOUL POLES

Both the left and right field foul poles are the original poles used while the Orioles played at Memorial Stadium.

SEAT FEATURES

Every aisle seat in the park includes a reproduction of the 125-year-old logo used by the Baltimore Orioles of the 1890s, a National League team that won consecutive pennants from 1894-96.

ATTENDANCE INFORMATION

ATTENDANCE MILESTONES: The Orioles celebrated two attendance milestones in 2008. The first came on August 19, 2008, as the O's welcomed Kevin Gracie, a law school student from Ellicott City, Md., as their designated 50 millionth fan to attend a game at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Opened in 1992, Oriole Park was the quickest ballpark to achieve the 50-million fan milestone in the history of baseball, a record that stood until the San Francisco Giants broke the mark at AT&T Park during the 2015 season. In its first 17 seasons, Oriole Park at Camden Yards hosted the third-most fans in baseball, trailing only Dodger Stadium and Yankee Stadium.

Less than a week later, on August 23, 2008, the 100 millionth fan in franchise history (since 1954) entered the gates at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Velma Greene, a middle school teacher from Harpers Ferry, W. Va., was designated as the milestone fan. In 67 seasons and 5,007 regular season dates between Memorial Stadium and Camden Yards, 122,842,884 fans have watched the Orioles play in Baltimore.

The Orioles have drawn a total of 72,997,296 fans in 2,291 dates in 29 seasons at Oriole Park, surpassing the total attendance from 1954 through 1991 at Memorial Stadium. In 38 seasons at the old ballpark on 33rd Street, the club drew 49,845,588 in 2,716 dates, an average of 18,353 fans per game. The Birds have averaged 31,863 fans per game in 2,291 dates at Oriole Park.

2021: To begin the year, Oriole Park opened at 25% capacity to comply with the City of Baltimore's health and safety mandates related to the COVID-19 pandemic. OPACY returned to full capacity on June 1, staying that way for the remainder of the season.

2020: In order to prioritize the health and safety of the team, staff, and fans during the global COVID-19 pandemic, fans were not permitted at Oriole Park during the 2020 season.

LARGEST 3-DATE CROWD: The August 10-12, 2007, series against the Boston Red Sox shattered the attendance record for a three-date series at Oriole Park at Camden Yards by more than 2,000 fans. A total of 146,786 fans attended the three games, topping the previous mark of 144,784 set August 21-23, 1998, vs. Cleveland.

"QUICKEST TO" MILESTONES

3 million—66 home dates ('93, '97 & '98)

2 million—43 home dates ('94)

1 million—22 home dates ('94)

AMONG THE MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS:

The Orioles had never led the AL in total or average attendance until 1995, then did so for four consecutive years. The team has drawn three million or more fans in nine of the 29 non-strike shortened or pandemic-shortened seasons at Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

SMALLEST CROWDS: The smallest crowd for a game at Oriole Park at Camden Yards was 4,965 on September 8, 2021, against the Kansas City Royals. The smallest crowd ever for an Orioles home game was on August 17, 1972, when only 655 fans attended an afternoon make-up game against the Chicago White Sox at Memorial Stadium.

ZERO FANS: Fans were not permitted at any regular season Major League Baseball game during the 2020 season due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Prior to the 2020 season, on April 29, 2015, the Orioles played a game against the Chicago White Sox at Oriole Park, which was closed to the public. The game was not considered in tallying the total season attendance and the date was not included in the average per game attendance.

FOOD AND BEVERAGE

While fans attend games at Oriole Park, they can support local businesses at various concessions stands and enjoy a wide array of local delicacies and beverages as Baltimore's food and beer scene continues to flourish.

Local food locations include: Boardwalk Fries, Vida Taco Bar, Stuggys's Gourmet Hot Dogs, and Harris Creek Oysters.

Local beverage locations include: Union Craft Brewing, Monument City Brewing, Key Brewing, Heavy Seas Brewing, Guinness, Manor Hill Brewing, Olive Brewing, Jailbreak Brewing, The Brewer's Art, and Flying Dog Brewing.

For an authentic taste of Charm City and Camden Yards try:

BOOG'S BBQ: Named for former All-Star first baseman Boog Powell, Boog's BBQ is located behind the center field bleachers on Eutaw Street. Established prior to the 1992 season, Boog's has been a staple at the ballpark ever since. Powell himself makes appearances at his stand, meeting and taking pictures with fans throughout the season. When the stand was started, Powell played an integral role in selecting the rubs to be used for the meat and in creating the menu.

JIMMY'S FAMOUS SEAFOOD: One of Charm City's most popular restaurants is now available at Oriole Park. Fans can enjoy authentic seafood at the Jimmy's Famous Seafood stand, located on the lower concourse near Section 72. Menu items include:

CRAB CAKE EGG ROLLS: Featuring the restaurant's iconic crab cakes in egg roll form with a cream cheese blend, mango ponzu, and spicy mayo.

MO GABA'S SHRIMP PLATTER: Fried shrimp served with fries and bay sauce, a favorite of beloved young Orioles Superfan Mo Gaba. In honor of Mo's legacy, $1 from every Shrimp Platter sold will benefit the Johns Hopkins Children Center.

THE HOT CORNER: This "spicy" new stand, located on the lower concourse near Sections 49-52, features chicken tenders and fries served with one of three sauce and topping varieties, listed below:

ALL AMERICAN TENDER: Chicken tenders tossed in cheese sauce, topped with Applewood bacon and scallions.

CAPITOL CITY MAMBO TENDERS: Chicken tenders tossed in mambo sauce and topped with scallions and garlic aioli.

MORE ADDITIONS AROUND THE BALLPARK: The Orioles are introducing new menu items at existing locations, including:

CRAB DIP PRETZEL: Soft baked pretzel with crab dip, Monterey jack cheese, and Old Bay seasoning; available at the B&O Market along Eutaw Street.

PEPPERONI PIZZA PRETZEL: Soft baked pretzel with marinara, mozzarella, and pepperoni; available at the B&O Market along Eutaw Street.

THE BALTIMORE SMASH: Two short-rib-and-chuck-blend patties topped with shaved onions, American cheese, and special sauce; available at the Eutaw Street Burger Portable.

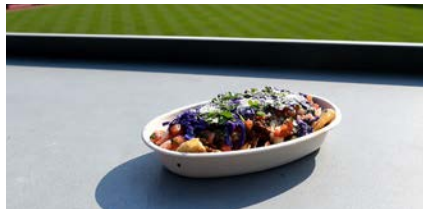

RETURNING FAVORITES: Oriole Park features a wide array of food options and must try items including:

VIDA NACHO: Chicken tinga or Gringo beef, with queso dip, warm black beans, pickled cabbage, pico de gallo, queso fresco, cilantro, and scallions. Available at the Vida Taco stand along the main concourse on the third base side.

ENTERTAINMENT

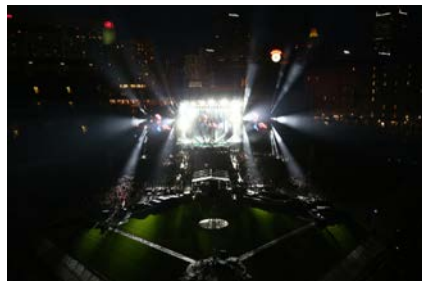

BIRDLAND SUMMER MUSIC SERIES: The Birdland Summer Music Series offers entertainment, while continuing the club's goal of bringing more visitors to downtown Baltimore and solidifying Camden Yards as an elite entertainment destination for the State of Maryland.

In 2021, the Birdland Summer Music Series featured Grammy nominated folk rock band The Avett Brothers, as well as up-and-coming country music star Carter Faith. The September 16 concert was one of the first concert performances since the COVID-19 pandemic began, marking the return of live entertainment to downtown Baltimore.

BILLY JOEL: The 2019 Birdland Summer Music Series was headlined by Rock & Roll Hall of Famer and music legend Billy Joel. Billy Joel's July 26 show marked the first ever concert at Oriole Park at Camden Yards. The 2019 Birdland Summer Music Series also featured Friday Fireworks & Women of Country Music and Saturday Roof Deck Sessions during home games.

As part of the Orioles' commitment to empowering our youth and strengthening our community, fans had the opportunity to share their love of music by making a voluntary donation to benefit Baltimore-based arts and music education organizations. The Orioles matched to $10,000 in fan donations, with all proceeds benefiting the Orioles Charitable Foundation's Athletes and Artists Play for Kids Educational Scholarship Fund. Since establishing the Athletes and Artists fund in 2015, more than $400,000 has benefited Girls, Inc., Baltimore School for the Arts, Jubilee Arts, the YMCA, and other charitable organizations in Baltimore, Sarasota, and Nashville.

PAUL MCCARTNEY: The Orioles will host singer-songwriter Paul McCartney for the second-ever major concert at Camden Yards on Sunday, June 12, as part of his 2022 GOT BACK tour. Presented by AEG and Orioles Entertainment, the performance will be McCartney's first Baltimore concert in nearly 60 years, as he last visited Charm City in 1964 during The Beatles' first North American tour.

DISPLAYS THROUGHOUT ORIOLE PARK

ORIOLES HALL OF FAME: Located at the north end of the Warehouse on the wall at the base of the scoreboard, plaques honor the members inducted annually and are similar in appearance to those enshrined in Cooperstown, N.Y. at the National Baseball Hall of Fame. They feature the Oriole Hall of Famer's likeness and a brief description of their accomplishments.

ORIOLES RETIRED NUMBERS: Four-foot monuments, located at the north end of the Warehouse, honor the uniform numbers worn by Earl Weaver (4), Brooks Robinson (5), Cal Ripken, Jr. (8), Frank Robinson (20), Jim Palmer (22), and Eddie Murray (33).

ORIOLES LEGENDS PARK: In celebration of the 20th anniversary of OPACY in 2012, the Orioles unveiled larger than life bronze sculptures of the six Orioles who have their numbers retired and are National Baseball Hall of Fame members. The sculptures, created by renowned Maryland sculptor Antonio Tobias "Toby" Mendez, are located in Orioles Legends Park.

MID-ATLANTIC SCOUTS HALL OF FAME: A tribute to baseball scouts over the years, plaques are mounted on a wall on Eutaw Street.

MARYLAND STATE ATHLETIC HALL OF FAME: The names of Marylanders who left their mark in athletic endeavors and have been inducted into the state's Athletic Hall of Fame are mounted on a wall on Eutaw Street.

CAL RIPKEN, JR. SEAT: To honor Ripken's 278th career homer, hit on July 15, 1993, which surpassed Ernie Banks' MLB record for home runs by a shortstop, the Orioles marked the spot where the ball landed (previously Section 86, Row 4, Seat 10) with an orange seat. The seat will be relocated during the 2022 season.

EDDIE MURRAY SEAT: To honor Murray's 500th career home run, hit on September 6, 1996, off Detroit's Felipe Lira, the Orioles installed an orange seat in the right field bleachers where the ball landed (Section 96, Row 7, Seat 23).

EUTAW STREET HOME RUNS: Brass baseball plates are embedded into the Eutaw Street sidewalk marking the locations where home runs cleared the right field gate. These plates contain the home run hitter's name, team logo, distance the ball traveled, and date the home run was hit.

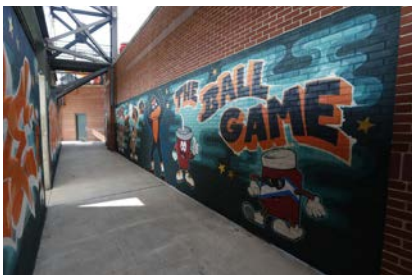

ORIOLE PARK EXHIBIT: As part of the year-long celebrations of the 30th anniversary of Oriole Park at Camden Yards, fans can peruse history of the ballpark and the club in the Oriole Park Exhibit, located on the concourse behind home plate, between Gates D and E.

BIRDLAND MURALS: In partnership with PNC Bank, the Birdland Murals series highlights Baltimore's vibrant arts community and allows Orioles fans to experience the incredible talents of several local artists. Initiated in 2019, the Orioles selected local female artists to showcase the city's arts community through the creation of larger than life murals throughout Oriole Park. The female-led projects are part of the Orioles' yearlong celebration of women's equality and girls' empowerment in honor of the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the 19th Amendment in August of 2020. Two new murals were added as part of the project in 2021, including a tribute to some of the most iconic figures in Baltimore's Negro Leagues History designed by West Baltimore-native Ernest Shaw in collaboration with Open Walls Baltimore curator Gaia, and a two-wall mural by local graffiti writer Adam Stab, depicting baseball scenes with the Oriole Bird swinging a bat, playing catch, and cheering. The Negro Leagues History mural can be found in Legends Park, while Stab's artwork is located under the video board between the center field bleachers and Eutaw Street.

PLAQUES AT ORIOLE PARK: In ceremonies prior to Cal Ripken, Jr.'s final game on October 6, 2001, the Orioles unveiled a plaque in the first base dugout dedicated to Cal Ripken, Sr. It is inscribed: "Cal Ripken, Sr. Dedicated to a lifelong Oriole of thirty-six years, and one of the game's greatest teachers. Coach, manager, and devoted mentor to countless young Orioles, "Senior" dedicated his life to baseball and passed on his respect of the game to everyone he coached. He preached "perfect practice, makes perfect" and stressed the importance of being prepared, learning the "right way" and playing to the best of one's ability every inning of every game. We will always remember his devotion to the Orioles, his love of the game, and his many lessons..."

In honor of Earl Weaver's induction into the National Baseball Hall of Fame, a silver "4" and plaque identifying Weaver's years as manager was added to the Orioles' dugout wall in July 1996, near where the manager traditionally stands.

Relief pitcher Jesse Orosco made his 1,072nd career appearance on August 17, 1999, passing Dennis Eckersley for the Major League record for most games pitched. In honor of his accomplishment, the Orioles installed a plaque with Orosco's uniform number, 47, above the bench in the bullpen.

Plaques in the Oriole Park press box have been erected honoring the late Rex Barney, Orioles public address announcer for more than 25 years, and the late Monica Pence Barlow, the Orioles' public relations director and a member of the organization for 14 years. Additionally, a plaque in the first base camera well honors longtime team photographer Jerry Wachter.

A plaque in the umpires' tunnel is dedicated to the memory of Ernie Tyler, who for 48 years served as the Umpires' Attendant for the Orioles. Tyler, who's sons Fred and Jim still work for the Orioles, dedicated his life to his job, at one time working 3,819 consecutive games.

30 MAGIC MOMENTS IN TIME AT CAMDEN YARDS

Through its first 30 years, Oriole Park at Camden Yards has bore witness to an array of amazing events. Memorable games, broken records, frozen moments in time...some iconic, some mesmerizing, some stupefying. Two are not even a baseball game.

Herewith, our top 30 memorable moments at The Ballpark That Forever Changed Baseball™.

30 — SEPTEMBER 23, 2021: A REAL 30-FOR-30 MOMENT

In an 8-5 loss to Texas at Camden Yards, outfielder Cedric Mullins hits his 30th home run of the season, becoming the first Orioles player to hit 30 homers and steal 30 bases in the same season. Mullins becomes only the 46th different player to accomplish the feat in MLB history.

29 — JUNE 23, 2014: DAVIS' PINCH-HIT, WALK-OFF STUNS CHICAGO

Trailing the White Sox, 4-3, in the 9th inning, Chris Davis hits a three-run pinch-hit homer off White Sox reliever Ronald Belisario — the Orioles first pinch-hit, walk-off homer in 26 years.

28 — JULY 13, 1993: THE STARS COME OUT — EXCEPT FOR MUSSINA

The Orioles host the All-Star Game in their second season at Camden Yards. The American League wins, 9-3, in a game best remembered for AL manager Cito Gaston being booed when he brings his own Toronto closer, Duane Ward, in to finish, while Orioles ace Mike Mussina warms up and fans chant, "We Want Mike!"

27 — MAY 29, 2009: WIETERS ARRIVES

Former No. 1 draft pick Matt Wieters is recalled from the minors and starts against Detroit in the most anticipated debut since the ballpark opened. A huge walk-up of more than 15,000 fans swells attendance to 42,701; Wieters goes 0-for-4 but the Orioles beat the Tigers, 7-2. Wieters will triple the next night for his first big league hit.

26 — JULY 15, 1996: WHO'S ON THIRD?

For the first time in 14 years, Cal Ripken, Jr. starts at third base, not shortstop, and the Blue Jays immediately tested him, having their first two hitters attempt to bunt — albeit unsuccessfully. On Ripken's first defensive play of the game in the 3rd inning, he dives to his right to field Charlie O'Brien's hot smash and throws him out from his knees, proving he is equally adept anywhere on the left side of the infield.

Still, the Orioles trailed 6-3 in the 9th. But their first two batters reached and Bobby Bonilla hit a three-run homer to tie the game. One out later, with a runner on first, Chris Hoiles hit a walk-off home run for an 8-6 win.

25 — JULY 26, 2019: THE PIANO MAN COMES TO CAMDEN YARDS

The Orioles aren't playing but there are lots of hits as Billy Joel plays the first concert held at Camden Yards. The Piano Man performs for a sold out crowd of over 39,000 in his first concert in Baltimore since 1976.

24 — JUNE 16, 2015: A NEW TEAM MARK FOR HOMERS

Ryan Flaherty hits the Orioles' 8th home run of the game leading off the 8th inning, setting a new club record for homers in a game in a 19-3 rout of the Phillies. Manny Machado and Chris Parmelee homers twice and Chris Davis, Jimmy Paredes and David Lough also homer to break the club record of seven, done three times.

23 — SEPTEMBER 12, 2014: ORIOLES BEAT YANKEES WITH TWO RUNS IN 11TH

22 — OCTOBER 1, 1996: BACK IN THE PLAYOFFS

The Birds are back in the playoffs for the first time in 13 years, winning the American League's wild card, and Oriole Park hosts its first post-season game as Cleveland comes to town for Game 1 of the AL Division Series. With stands erected on the flag court to swell attendance to 47,644 fans, the Orioles take a 4-3 lead before busting the game open with a five-run 6th inning, capped by Bobby Bonilla's grand slam.

21 — OCTOBER 8, 2012: OUTDOOR INSANE ASYLUM II

The Orioles beat the Yankees, 3-2, in the second game of the 2012 AL Division Series – the first playoff game at Camden Yards in 15 seasons. Craig Sager, the late TBS television reporter, measures the crowd noise at 123 decibels – “the loudest crowd I’ve ever heard in sports,” he said – and possibly the loudest measured at an outdoor baseball game. (A Seattle Seahawks football game reportedly once measured 137 decibels, and a World Series game at Minnesota’s indoor Metrodome once hit 125 decibels.) One can only wonder how the O’s playoff would have stacked up against the days when Memorial Stadium was called “the largest outdoor insane asylum” during the Baltimore Colts heyday. Or, if it had been measured against Delmon Young’s double in the playoffs two years later...

20 — JULY 14, 2012: COMING BACK TWICE IN EXTRAS

In a nationally televised game, the Orioles take a 4-1 lead into the 9th inning before the Tigers score three runs to tie the game. The Tigers take the lead in the 11th before the Orioles tie the game in the bottom of the inning. The Tigers retake the lead in the 13th, but again the Orioles tie it on J.J. Hardy’s one-out homer. One out later, Adam Jones is hit by a pitch, bringing Taylor Teagarden to the plate. Teagarden – who entered the game in the 11th after being on the disabled list since the start of the season – homers on a 1-2 pitch just to the left of the right field scoreboard to give the Orioles a wild 8-6 win.

19 — OCTOBER 6, 1995: THE POPE PAYS A VISIT

There is no game; the field is covered with chairs and a huge altar erected in center field. But for momentous occasions, this certainly ranks. On the fourth of his five visits to the United States, Pope John Paul II holds mass at Oriole Park on a glorious fall Sunday morning. Camden Yards becomes the 5th of eight major league ballparks to host a papal visit.

18 — SEPTEMBER 20, 1998: THE STREAK ENDS

About 30 minutes before taking the field for the Orioles final home game of the season, Cal Ripken, Jr. goes to manager Ray Miller’s office and tells him it’s time. And with that, Ripken’s name is scratched from that night’s lineup, Ryan Minor’s name is inserted at third base, and the Iron Man ends his consecutive game streak at 2,632 games.

After the game’s first out, the ballpark’s video screen shows Ripken in the Orioles dugout. The crowd’s ovation grows as the opposing Yankees’ empty their own dugout to applaud Ripken. He emerges twice, urging Orioles pitcher Doug Johns to get on with the game. Later, Ripken ventures to the Orioles bullpen and comes between innings to play catch with center fielder Brady Anderson. Sixteen years and 113 days after it had started, the streak is over.

17 — SEPTEMBER 28, 2007: MORA’S TWO-OUT BUNT SHOCKS YANKEES

Mariano Rivera, the Yankees’ Hall of Fame closer, enters in the 9th to preserve a 9-6 lead, but the Orioles get a couple hits and a hit batter to load the bases with two outs. Jay Payton then triples to right center to tie the game – and getting to Rivera wasn’t even the strangest thing to happen this night.

In the bottom of the 10th, the Orioles again load the bases with two outs, this time against reliever Edwar Ramirez. Melvin Mora takes ball one, then surprises everyone by dropping a bunt down the third base line. By the time Yankee third baseman Wilson Betemit fields the ball, Tike Redman has crossed the plate with the winning run and Mora is safe at first, giving the Orioles a 10-9 win.

16 — APRIL 29, 2015: THE GAME WITH NO FANS

After cancelling two games in the wake of civil unrest and a city-wide 10 p.m. curfew following the death of local resident Freddie Gray, the Orioles play the White Sox in an empty Camden Yards. The game is moved from its Wednesday night start to 2:05 pm, and in order not to divert police and other emergency personnel to the ballpark, Major League Baseball decrees the game to be played without fans being allowed to attend. It is the first MLB game where no fans are allowed to attend until the 2020 COVID-19 pandemic.

The Orioles scored six runs in the first inning and went on to win, 8-2, with only media in the press box and a handful of scouts in the stands, and a weekend home series against the Rays is moved to Tampa Bay with the Orioles as the home team.

15 — SEPTEMBER 16, 2014: ORIOLES CLINCH AL EAST AT HOME

The Orioles beat the Blue Jays, 8-2, to win the AL East title for the first time in 17 years. Steve Pearce’s three-run homer in the first inning supplies all the runs the Orioles would need. The significance of the win is felt by generations of Oriole fans – it marks the first time the Orioles have clinched on their home turf since 1979 at Memorial Stadium, when they also won the AL East title.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

14 — MAY 30, 1997: ALMOST PERFECT

Through 8 1/3 innings against the Indians, Mike Mussina is perfect — 25 batters up, 25 retired. Twelve ground ball outs, eight strike outs, three fly outs and two pop-ups. Then Sandy Alomar steps in and lines a high fastball to left field, ruining the perfecto and the no-no. Mussina finishes the game by striking out the last two batters. Oh, so close.

13 — JULY 12, 1993: JUNIOR HITS THE WAREHOUSE

When Camden Yards opened, there was much talk about who would be the first player to hit the B&O Warehouse in right field. To this day, no one has done it in a game.

In its second season, Oriole Park at Camden Yards hosts the 1993 All-Star Game, only the second time the mid-summer classic has been held in Baltimore. During the home run derby staged the day before the game, Seattle outfielder Ken Griffey, Jr. launches a ball off the Warehouse wall in right field — the first and only ball to officially hit the landmark building on the fly (several players have reportedly hit it during batting practice). A plaque just to the left of Dempsey's Brew Pub marks the spot on the wall where Griffey's ball hit.

12 — AUGUST 8, 2014: CELEBRATING 60 YEARS

With a packed ballpark to celebrate the team's 60th anniversary in Baltimore, the Orioles beat the St. Louis Cardinals 12-2 in front of 43,743 fans. Following the game, 22 members of the Orioles Hall of Fame — the largest such gathering in club history — are introduced at home plate in a memorable ceremony complete with a laser and fireworks show, a production that many rank second to the closing at Memorial Stadium.

11 — SEPTEMBER 6, 1996: EDDIE! EDDIE! EDDIE!

Eddie Murray returned to Baltimore in a June '96 trade to help the team over the season's second half, but also to cement his place in history in an Orioles' uniform. He sat on 499 career homers when the club returned home from a West Coast trip to face Detroit on a Friday night in a game delayed 2 hours and 52 minutes by rain, starting at 9:57 p.m.

By the time Murray steps to the plate in the 7th inning, the clock already is bearing down on midnight. Facing Tigers starter Felipe Lira, Murray turns on the first pitch and sends a shot to the bleachers in right for his 500th career homer, one year to the day that Cal Ripken, Jr. broke Lou Gehrig's consecutive games streak.

As confetti drifts down through the mist, Murray becomes just the third of six players to record 3,000 hits and 500 home runs. An orange bleacher seat marks the spot where his ball landed.

10 — SEPTEMBER 5, 1995: THE IRON MAN TIES THE IRON HORSE

The build-up to this date begins even before the season start. Now, Cal Ripken, Jr. is on the cusp of consecutive game number 2,130, to tie the immortal Lou Gehrig's record. So momentous an occasion is it that for the first time, Major League Baseball authorizes a special ball to be used in the games of September 5-6: the Orioles specially-themed logo for the occasion with Ripken's uniform number "8" and "2130-2131."

With the Orioles leading the Angels, 7-0, after the top of the 5th inning, the game becomes official. The Iron Man has equaled the Iron Horse. As "Day One" plays on the PA system, the banners on the Warehouse wall change from "2129" to "2130." Sparklers and orange-and-black balloons fill the air on Eutaw Street. The game is halted for several minutes as the crowd acknowledges Ripken, who taps his heart and sends the love back to the stands.

In the 6th inning, Ripken homers to cap an 8-0 victory. The game ends, fittingly, with a ground ball to shortstop, which Ripken easily tosses to first for the final out. A post-game celebration follows, including a video "Top 10" from David Letterman, as well as appearances by Hall of Famers Hank Aaron, Ernie Banks, and Frank Robinson, as well as Johnny Unitas, David Robinson, and a slew of other celebrities.

9 — MARCH 31, 2003: SNOWPENING DAY

With the Indians batting in the 3rd inning, snow begins to fall, making it hard to see. Not until after Ellis Burks hits a fly ball to right that Jay Gibbons loses amid the flakes and the cloudy sky, allowing two runs to score, do the umpires finally pull the teams off the field. Thirteen minutes later, the sun is shining, and the game resumes.

Marty Cordova ties the game at 4-4 for the Orioles with a two-run homer in the 8th inning. The game moves to the 12th inning, and the Indians take a 5-4 lead. But Gary Matthews, Jr. scores on a two-out passed ball in the bottom of the inning to tie the game again.

In the 13th, the Orioles load the bases with two outs – helped by an error on a possible game-ending double play – before Matthews ends it with a line drive single to center to give the Orioles a 6-5 win.

8 — SEPTEMBER 6, 2012: A STATUE AND A WIN OVER THE YANKEES

The Orioles celebrate the dedication of a statue to Cal Ripken, Jr. – the fifth in a series of six erected in 2012 to mark the 20th anniversary of the ballpark – on the 17th anniversary of Ripken breaking Lou Gehrig's consecutive game streak. With Orioles legends (Ripken, Eddie Murray, Jim Palmer, Brooks Robinson, and Earl Weaver) along with a sellout crowd of 46,298 in attendance, the Orioles take on the Yankees.

The Birds hold a 6-1 lead before the Yankees score five runs in the 8th inning to tie the game. But in the bottom of the 8th, the Orioles strike back quickly. Adam Jones homers off Dave Robertson to regain the lead. Matt Wieters singles and Mark Reynolds homers, making it 9-6. And when Boone Logan replaces Robertson for New York, Chris Davis belts his first pitch for a home run and a 10-6 lead.

7 — OCTOBER 5, 1997: JOHNSON'S GAMBLE PAYS OFF

With his team leading Seattle two games to one in the AL Division Series, Manager Davey Johnson plays his hunches, leaving All-Stars Rafael Palmeiro and Roberto Alomar out of the lineup as the Orioles face Seattle and future Hall of Famer Randy Johnson in Game 4 of the AL Division Series. In their places, Jerome Walton starts at first base, with Jeff Reboulet at second. (Palmeiro was 0-for-21 in his career off Johnson; Alomar was 8-for-40.)

Reboulet – batting second and playing second base in place of Alomar – homers in the first inning, and Mike Mussina holds the Mariners to two hits over seven innings, with Randy Myers notching the save to send the Orioles to the AL Championship Series with a 3-1 win.

6 — JUNE 30, 2009: BIGGEST COMEBACK. EVER.

The Orioles trail the Red Sox 10-1 when they come to bat in the bottom of the 7th inning. Seven hits and three Sox pitchers later, the Orioles have scored five runs to make it 10-6. Then comes the 8th inning.

The Orioles open the 8th with four hits and add another one out later, cutting the Sox lead to 10-9. Jonathan Papelbon comes on with Oscar Salazar at third and pitcher Jeremy Guthrie pinch-running at second. After striking out Felix Pie, Papelbon's first pitch to Nick Markakis is lined to the gap in left center, scoring both runners and giving the Orioles an 11-10 lead.

When George Sherrill retires the Sox in the 9th, the Orioles had overcome the biggest deficit in club history to win.

5 — MAY 17, 1996: HOILES' ULTIMATE SLAM

The Orioles have a 7-2 lead before the Mariners score 11 runs over the final four innings and hold a 13-10 lead in the bottom of the 9th. Cal Ripken, Jr. draws a two-out walk to load the bases, bringing Chris Hoiles to the plate to face Seattle closer Norm Charlton. Hoiles works the count full before blasting a grand slam to left center for a 14-13 win before 47,259 fans.

Hoiles' ultimate grand slam – to win by one run with two outs in the last inning – is only the 12th in Major League history.

4 — APRIL 6, 1992: WHERE IT ALL STARTED

This is a moment that lasts an entire afternoon – and really continues to this day. Oriole Park at Camden Yards, The Ballpark That Forever Changed Baseball™, opens its doors on Opening Day 1992. It continues to set the pace for more than 160 big league and minor league ballparks built since, and it all begins with Rick Sutcliffe shutting out Cleveland, 2-0, on the first Monday in April, 30 years ago.

3 — SEPTEMBER 28, 2011: O'S KNOCK THE RED SOX OUT OF THE PLAYOFFS

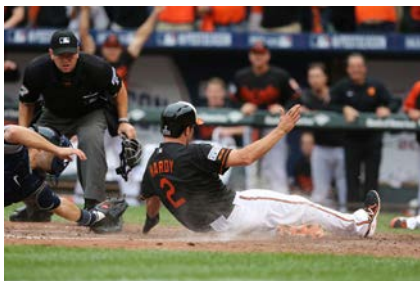

The AL wild card race comes down to the final innings of the season. The Red Sox lead the Orioles, 3-2, with Jonathan Papelbon coming in to close the game. Because of a one hour and 26 minute rain delay, the game in Baltimore is on pace with the game in Tampa, where the Rays have battled back from a 7-0 deficit to tie the Yankees as that game heads to the 12th inning. With a win and a Rays loss, the Red Sox will win the wild card; if both win or lose, there will be a one-game playoff.

After Adam Jones and Mark Reynolds strike out, Chris Davis doubles to right. Down to their last strike, Nolan Reimold hits a ground-rule double to right center to tie the game. Robert Andino then rips a 1-1 pitch to shallow left that Sox left fielder Carl Crawford can't come up with. Reimold races home with the winning run to the delight of Orioles fans. The many Red Sox fans in attendance are solaced that their team will at least have a playoff game the next day against Tampa – but before the Sox bullpen had even made its way to the dugout at Camden Yards, the DiamondVision shows Evan Longoria hitting a game-winning home run for Tampa, sending the Rays to the playoffs.

Though the win leaves the Orioles in last place, it is a momentous night for baseball – and it can be argued that this game marks the start of the Orioles' run to three playoff appearances in the next five seasons.

2 — OCTOBER 3, 2014: YOUNG'S PINCH-HIT DOUBLE CLEARS THE BASES VS. DETROIT

In Game 2 of the 2014 AL Division Series against the Tigers, the Orioles trail 6-4 with one out and the bases loaded in the bottom of the 8th inning. Delmon Young, pinch-hitting for Ryan Flaherty, lines Joakim Soria's first pitch into the left field corner. Nelson Cruz and Steve Pearce score easily, and J.J. Hardy slides home ahead of the tag to clear the bases and give the Orioles a 7-6 lead. Camden Yards goes delirious, the Orioles hold on for the win, and go on to sweep the Tigers two days later. It was, arguably, the biggest hit in Camden Yards history. There are no decibel readings available, but anyone who was there will swear it topped 125 decibels.

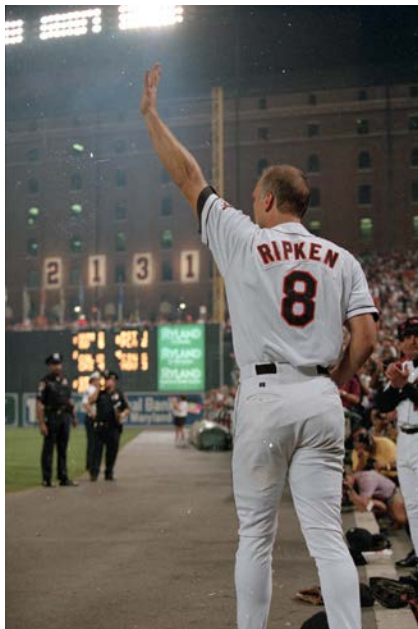

1 — SEPTEMBER 6, 1995: 2131.

Easily the biggest moment in the history of the ballpark, and one of the biggest in modern baseball history, comes when Cal Ripken, Jr. breaks the thought-to-be-unbreakable record of the immortal Lou Gehrig by playing in his 2,131st consecutive game. It isn't just that Ripken breaks the record that night, or that the Orioles win, or even that he homers – as he had the night before when he tied the Iron Horse's record.

In the middle of the 5th inning, with the Orioles leading the Angels and the game now official, Ripken trots toward the dugout. For only the third time since August when they began dropping the numbers on the Warehouse wall as the game became official, the Orioles have the lead, and Ripken is not on the field. He can soak in the celebration along with the 46,272 fans. Hollywood could not have scripted it better. Ripken waving to the stands, spotting his mom and dad in a suite. Being pushed by teammates Bobby Bonilla and Rafael Palmeiro to take a victory lap around the field, slapping hands with fans leaning over the warning track. Orioles and Angels players joining in as Whitney Houston's "One Moment in Time" plays over the PA.

It is Cal's moment in time...and a Camden Yards moment for all time.

CREDENTIALS: All media credential requests must be submitted through Major League Baseball's online credentialing system. Credentials will be issued in accordance with the Baltimore Orioles Credential Policy and are non-transferable. All requests for single-game credentials must be submitted at least 24 hours in advance. Credentials must be worn and visible at all times. Credentialed media must adhere to the policies below. Failure to comply may lead to credentials being revoked and/or denial for future media access.

MEDIA ENTRANCE: Media must enter the ballpark via Home Plate Plaza, which is located on the southwestern side of Oriole Park between Gates D and E. Home Plate Plaza opens 4.5 hours before first pitch for night games, and 3.5 hours before first pitch for day games. Credential pick-up is located at Home Plate Plaza. Credentials will only be released on an individual-basis and to those with a government-issued photo ID. All bags and equipment are subject to search upon entry and at other points as deemed necessary.

PARKING: Media parking in Lot A is available on a first-come, first-served basis, with overflow parking located in Lots B/C off Lee Street. All media approved for daily credentials will automatically be added to the parking list. Media must show a photo ID to the parking attendant.

NO AUTOGRAPHS: Media are forbidden from seeking autographs at any time. Any media member found in violation of this rule will have their credential revoked.

PRESS BOX: The main press box is located on the Lower Press Level (2nd floor). Broadcast booths are located on the Upper Press Level (3rd floor) and are reserved for rightsholders or other entities as assigned by the Orioles PR department. Media are expected to follow the prioritized seating positions located on seating charts throughout the press box. Television outlets and still photographers may not film or shoot from the press box without prior permission from the Orioles PR department.

FIELD ACCESS: Media must enter and exit the field through the gate at the bottom of section 34. Media are only permitted to use the Umpires Tunnel when entering the field following open clubhouse and pre-game manager availability. All other use of the Umpires Tunnel is prohibited. The field is open to media from the time Home Plate Plaza opens until 45 minutes before game time, with the exception of special first pitch ceremonies that have been announced as open to media. Media must remain on the warning track and between the two dugouts at all times, and are not allowed on the playing field under any circumstance.

CLUBHOUSE ACCESS: Only media with MLB, BBWAA, or properly marked, team-issued credentials have access to the clubhouses. Video cameras are permitted in the Orioles clubhouse prior to and after the game, but are restricted to tight interview shots. Tripods and still photography are not permitted without prior permission from the Orioles PR department. The Orioles clubhouse will open each day for media access prior to batting practice and again within 10 minutes after the final out. Updates and exact timing will be announced via Twitter @OriolesPR. Media are only permitted within the locker room area of the clubhouse. The trainers' area, players' lounge, batting cages, kitchen, showers, and access hallways are off-limits to media at all times.

CELL PHONES: Cell phones may only be used to record audio while in the clubhouse. The use of cell phones to disseminate information via text, email, or any form of social media will result in the credential being revoked and ejection from the ballpark. Cell phones may not be used to capture pictures or video in the clubhouse at any time. Violators will lose clubhouse privileges.

INTERVIEWS: Phone, in-studio, or sit-down interviews must be arranged through the Orioles PR department by emailing oriolespr@orioles.com. Media are not to contact players directly and may not conduct interviews on the field during stretch or batting practice without prior permission from the Orioles PR department. Media prohibited from interviewing fans within the gates of the ballpark. Failure to comply may lead to credentials being revoked.

MANAGER AVAILABILITY: Manager Brandon Hyde will meet with media in the Auxiliary Clubhouse prior to each game and again approximately 10 minutes following the end of the game. Any changes to the manager's media availability will be announced on Twitter via @OriolesPR.

PRESS DINING: Media with credentials issued by the Orioles, MLB, or BBWAA are invited to eat in the Press Dining Room on the Upper Press Level for a cost of $15 per-person. Food service will begin two hours before first pitch and continue through the first hour of the game, unless otherwise announced. Due to space limitations, media are not permitted in the dining area unless they have purchased a meal. Guests are not permitted in the dining area without prior approval from the Orioles PR department. Complimentary light refreshments are provided in the press box on the Lower Press Level.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Photographers are not permitted on the field at any time during the game. Photo wells are located at each end of the home and visiting dugouts, and camera positions are assigned by the Orioles photography department. Photographers may work from the stands as long as they are not obstructing the view of fans, but they are not permitted in the first four rows behind home plate. Additionally, photographers are able to utilize the overhangs located on the first and third base sides on the Club Level. A work room for photographers is located adjacent to the press box on Lower Press Level. Once the game has started, photographers may use the entrances/exits outside of the first and third base photo wells. No still photographs are permitted in either clubhouse without permission of the Public Relations Department of each team.

TELEVISION

MASN, the Mid-Atlantic Sports Network, has been the exclusive television home for all Baltimore Orioles games since 2007. An independent regional sports network, MASN is owned by the Orioles and Washington Nationals, and provides unmatched access to the action on the field and inside the game.

Every Orioles game is televised in high-definition on one of the network's two channels, MASN and MASN2, with exception to nationally televised games. MASN and MASN2 airs throughout an exclusive territory that covers a seven-state region from Harrisburg, Pa. to Charlotte, N.C. All of MASN's cable, satellite, and fiber-optic distributors carry MASN and MASN2 on a consistent channel throughout the season. (Visit MASNsports.com for local listings.)

Fans can follow MASN via @masnOrioles on Twitter, on Facebook at facebook.com/masnorioles, and via @masnOrioles on Instagram. Roch Kubatko covers the team year-round on MASNsports.com and can be followed on Twitter at @masnRoch.

RADIO

Hearst's 98 Rock FM & WBAL NewsRadio AM/FM serves as the flagship station of the seven-state, 40-station Orioles Radio Network. Fans can hear extensive coverage of all regular season games, including pre- and postgame shows, as well as select Spring Training contests throughout the Orioles Radio Network.

The Orioles' radio rights returned to 98 Rock & WBAL NewsRadio in 2022, which have served as the broadcast home for the Orioles for 44 of the Orioles 68 years in Baltimore, most recently from 2010-14.

In 2010, the Orioles entered a multi-year partnership with WSBA Radio to serve as their affiliate in York, Pa. In addition, members of the military stationed overseas have the opportunity to listen to Orioles games on the American Forces Radio Network.

2022 ORIOLES BROADCAST TEAM

GEOFF ARNOLD
PLAY-BY-PLAY

Geoff Arnold is in his third season as the primary radio play-by-play announcer for the Orioles Radio Network, also calling select games on MASN. The 2022 season marks Arnold's 10th in professional baseball, including eight in the Orioles organization having previously served as Director of Public Relations and Broadcasting for their former Single-A affiliate Frederick Keys from 2014-20. Prior to joining the Orioles, Arnold called games for Kansas City's Class A-Advanced affiliate Wilmington Blue Rocks and Texas' Double-A affiliate Frisco RoughRiders.

Prior to joining the Orioles, Arnold also made frequent appearances across multiple ESPN and regional sports networks broadcasting college football, basketball, baseball, and other Olympic sports.

He graduated from Dickinson College in 2010 and currently resides in Baltimore.

KEVIN BROWN
PLAY-BY-PLAY

Kevin Brown is in his fourth season as a member of the Orioles broadcast team and his first season as the primary television play-by-play announcer for MASN. Brown began his tenure with the Orioles in 2019 as one of the club's play-by-play announcers on the Orioles Radio Network, and made select appearances on MASN each season since.

In addition to his work with the Orioles, Brown calls MLB games on ESPN Radio, including the Astros vs. White Sox ALDS in 2021. He also serves as a play-by-play announcer for ESPN for several collegiate sports, including football, basketball, softball, and NCAA Championship action, serving as the voice of the NCAA Division I Hockey Championship and Women's College World Series coverage. Brown has also called Little League games on ESPN.

From 2011-17, Brown worked for the Syracuse Chiefs, the Triple-A affiliate of the Washington Nationals, serving as the Assistant Director of Broadcasting and Media Relations from 2011-14, and Director from 2015-17, where he was the lead voice of the team, calling radio and television broadcasts.

Brown graduated from Newhouse School at Syracuse University in 2011 and currently resides in Baltimore with his wife, Brianne, and dog, Shep.

SCOTT GARCEAU
PLAY-BY-PLAY

Scott Garceau is in his 16th season as a member of the Orioles broadcasting team and his 43rd year in the Baltimore sports landscape. He rejoined the club in 2020 as a television play-by-play announcer, after previously spending 13 seasons as part of the broadcast team from 1981-92, including the 1983 World Series Championship season. Garceau appears on both MASN and the Orioles Radio Network as a play-by-play announcer and pre- and post-game show host.

A five-time Maryland Sportscaster of the Year award winner, Garceau began his career in Baltimore in 1980 as a sports anchor for WMAR-TV. After 28 years with WMAR, Garceau transitioned to 105.7 The Fan in 2008, serving as an original co-host of the afternoon drive show. The original voice of the Baltimore Ravens Radio Network, Garceau broadcast the Ravens' first 10 seasons, including the 2001 Super Bowl Championship. He has also broadcast college lacrosse and college basketball for ESPN.

Garceau and his wife Georgeanna currently reside in Fallston, MD. His two married daughters, Kelly and Danni, and four grandchildren also live in Harford County.

BRETT HOLLANDER
PLAY-BY-PLAY

Brett Hollander is in his third season as an in-game contributor on both MASN and the Orioles Radio Network, appearing across platforms as a radio play-by-play announcer, sideline reporter, and pre- and post-game show host.

A lifelong Baltimore resident, Hollander began covering the Orioles in 2008 for CBS Radio. He joined WBAL Radio in 2010 as the host of Sportsline and anchored the then-flagship station's Orioles coverage from 2011-14. Hollander has extensively covered Baltimore sports, ranging from collegiate athletics to the Ravens and Orioles, and has appeared on various local stations including on WBAL-TV and 98 Rock FM. He was named Maryland Sportscaster of the Year in 2015.

Hollander graduated from Dickinson College in 2007 and currently resides in Baltimore with his wife Erin and two daughters Mae and Violet.

DAVE JOHNSON
COLOR ANALYST

A Baltimore native, Johnson spent three of his five seasons in Major League Baseball with the Orioles from 1989-91. Johnson made a name for himself with the O's after helping the 1989 "Why Not?" club stay in the pennant race to the final weekend of the season. He continued to impress fans in 1990, leading the Orioles with 13 wins and ranking first among O's starters with a 4.10 ERA.

His broadcasting career began in 1996, when he served as color analyst for Home Team Sports' production of the 16-to-18 year old Babe Ruth World Series. He also spent two years as a post-game analyst for Comcast SportsNet before joining the Orioles' flagship stations in 2006-10 as a co-host of the Orioles' Radio Network pre- and post-game shows, as well as serving as a color analyst for MASN's

Orioles coverage. He returned to the team most recently in 2020, making select appearances on both radio and MASN.

Johnson currently resides in Fallston, Md. with his wife, Tera. The couple has two sons, Daniel, a technical director for WMAR-TV 2, and Steve, who pitched for the Orioles over three seasons, including going 4-0 in 2012 and helping the Orioles to their first postseason appearance in 14 years. Dave and Steve made their first home start, and got the win, for the O's exactly 23 years apart on August 8, 1998, and August 8, 2012.

ROB LONG
REPORTER

Rob Long is in his fourth season as a member of the Orioles broadcast team, serving as an in-game contributor and pre- and post-game show host for the Mid-Atlantic Sports Network. Long first made his MASN debut in 2009, appearing on MASN. In addition to his work with the Orioles, Long serves as the host of the Big Bad Morning Show on 105.7 The Fan.

Prior to his career in broadcasting, Long served as a police officer in South Carolina, and was a member of the United States Air Force. A native of Baltimore, Long is also the head coach of the Mount Carmel women's basketball team.

He currently resides in Essex with his wife, Yedda, and two children, Robbie and Stephanie.

BEN McDONALD
COLOR ANALYST

Ben McDonald joined the Orioles talent lineup full-time in 2018 after spending eight years as a regular contributor on O's broadcasts, having made select appearances on the MASN and the Orioles Radio Network since 2010.

The former right-handed pitcher spent seven of his nine Major League seasons with the Orioles from 1989-95 after being selected by Baltimore with the number one overall pick in the 1989 First-Year Player Draft. His career started on a high note, throwing a four-hit shutout in his first career start. He went on to win 40 games over three years, and threw more than 200 innings in a season three times. He finished his career with an overall record of 78-70 overall, including 58-58 with the O's. In addition to his Major League and collegiate baseball career, McDonald also won a gold medal in the 1988 Olympics, picking up two wins for Team USA.

McDonald's broadcasting career began in 2003 as a color analyst for Louisiana State University Baseball, his alma mater. In addition to his work with the Orioles, McDonald serves as a color analyst for ESPN and the SEC Network, including covering the Men's College World Series.

McDonald currently resides in Denham Springs, La., with his wife, Nicole. The couple have two children, daughter Jorie, and son Jase, a pitcher at Louisiana State University at Eunice.

MELANIE NEWMAN
PLAY-BY-PLAY

Melanie Newman is in her third season as a member of the Orioles broadcast team. She serves as a play-by-play announcer for the Orioles Radio Network and appears on MASN as a play-by-play analyst, in-game reporter, and host of the pre- and post-game shows.

Since making history in 2020 as the first female play-by-play announcer in Orioles history, Newman has continued to break barriers. On July 21, 2021, she was part of the first all-female broadcast team for a Major League Baseball game, when the Orioles faced the Tampa Bay Rays on YouTube's "MLB Game of the Week." Two months later on September 29, Newman joined Jessica Mendoza in the booth for the first all-female MLB broadcast on ESPN.

Newman has been calling professional baseball games for eight years. She previously served as the announcer for the Boston Red Sox Advanced-A affiliate Salem Red Sox, where she was a part of the first all-female booth in professional baseball, and the Texas Rangers Double-A affiliate Frisco RoughRiders. She also served as a media communications coordinator for the Arizona Fall League.

In addition to her work in Major League Baseball, Newman has made appearances on ESPN, GameDay Radio Network, and the ACC Network. Her work has included serving as a sideline reporter for the World Axe Throwing League, ACC men's and women's championship events, the Big South Conference baseball championship, and FBS Bowl Games.

Newman graduated from Troy University in 2013 and currently resides in metro Atlanta, GA, and the Baltimore area with her spouse, Andrew, and their cats, Dwight and Angela.

JIM PALMER
COLOR ANALYST

National Baseball Hall of Famer and Orioles Legend Jim Palmer is in his 30th season as a color analyst with MASN. The greatest pitcher in Orioles history, Palmer spent his entire career with Baltimore after signing with the club in 1965.

Palmer made his Major League Debut in 1965 at 19 years old. One year later, he became the youngest pitcher in Major League history to throw a shutout in the World Series, beating Sandy Koufax in Game 2, and the Orioles would go on to sweep the Dodgers for the first World Series Championship in franchise history. Palmer was a member of all three of the Orioles' World Series Championship teams, and went 8-3 with a 2.61 ERA in 17 postseason games. He was the first pitcher in Major League Baseball history to win a World Series in three different decades.

Palmer is known for being one of baseball's premier pitchers in the 1970s, throwing more innings and recording more wins than any other American League pitcher during the decade. Among his numerous accomplishments include a no-hitter against Oakland in 1969, and never giving up a grand slam in his career.

He finished his career with a 268-152 record with a 2.86 ERA and 2,212 strikeouts. An eight-time 20-game winner, Palmer led his league in innings pitched four times, wins three times and ERA twice. He was named an All-Star six-time, including four starts, and is a four-time Gold Glove Award winner.

Palmer was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1990. He currently resides in Palm Beach, FL with his wife Susan.

ADRIENNE ROBERSION
PA ANNOUNCER

Adrienne Roberson is entering her second season as the public address announcer for the Baltimore Orioles. She was named the first female voice of Oriole Park when she was named to the position full-time at the start of the 2021 season, becoming the fourth active female PA announcer in Major League Baseball. The 2022 season marks Roberson's 21st in professional baseball, after spending 17 years as the voice of the Bowie Baysox, the organization's Double-A affiliate. During that time, Roberson made several appearances as a guest public address announcer for the Orioles, including Mother's Day Weekend celebrations from 2015-19. She began her career with the Knoxville Smokies, the Double-A affiliate of the Toronto Blue Jays, where she spent two seasons.

Roberson has also spent the last nine years as a PA announcer for Georgetown University Athletics, announcing men's lacrosse, football, women's basketball, softball, soccer, and volleyball games. Away from sports, Roberson records audiobooks and voiceovers, and works for Archbishop Spalding in Severn, Md. as their Attendance Coordinator.

A native of Philadelphia, Pa., Roberson received her Bachelor of Science in Communication, Broadcasting, and Sports Management from the University of Tennessee-Knoxville in 1997. She currently resides in Odenton, Md. with her family.

"SARASOTA'S CROWN JEWEL"

The 2022 season marks the Orioles 12th year of holding Major League Spring Training operations at Ed Smith Stadium. "Sarasota's Crown Jewel" was fully renovated in 2011, complete with four practice fields, one practice half-field, a clubhouse, indoor batting cages, pitching mounds, stadium field lights, an electronic scoreboard, concession facilities, locker rooms for umpires, tournament office hub, press box, expansive concourse areas, and ample parking. Its modern amenities, mixed with historical Florida architecture, have helped Ed Smith Stadium truly become "Birdland South."
